COOPERATION ON BAY SPAN IS PROMISED

Eastbay Representatives Are Present When Experts Explain Task of Survey On the Bridge for Tube Possibility

Davies and Modjeski Declare They Are Impressed With Element of Unity On Project; Committee Is Chosen

With the welcoming over and the pledges of cooperation from all of the bay cities ringing in their ears, John Vipond Davies and Ralph Modjeski, construction engineers, are today immersed in that program of labor which is to result in a survey of the bridge or tunnel possibilities for San Francisco bay. The formalities are over, the last preliminary statement has been issued and from now on the stay of the two men in the bay district is to be filled with long hours of hard work.

"We hope by July 9," said Modjeski today, "to be able to present conclusions that will offer some definite information."

Conferences with City Engineer O'Shaughnessy of San Francisco and a study of the general situation occupied the morning hours today. The San Francisco committee in charge of the welcoming of the two men wisely planned that no formal observances are to interrupt their working program and also decided that they would be left to carry out their plans unhampered by the constant attendance of local committeemen.

MAGNITUDE OF JOB IS NOT MINIMIZED.

While each of the experts has said, in response to the determined questioning of committeemen and others, that he believes in the feasibility of the general proposal to bridge the bay and can see no reason why the question of financing should not be simple, there has been no disposition to minimize the magnitude of the undertaking and each desires it to be understood that only after weeks of investigation will the authoritative word be given out.

The program set for themselves by Davies and Modjeski today, and which is to continue at least until July 9, calls for a decision as to the choice between bridge and tunnel, the possible sites and the best suited, and a checking up of findings with the United States Army engineers.

WORKED WATCHED BY WAR DEPARTMENT.

Among the first men to meet the experts in San Francisco was Colonel Herbert Deakyne, army engineer, who will be at their service during their stay in this section. Whatever bridge or tunnel plans are made must meet with the approval of the War Department and must guarantee no interference with the shipping in the harbor or with the harbor's facilities for housing the fleet. It is expected that Col. Deakyne will express to the bridge experts the War Department's position regarding the height of spans, the possibility of spanning the last 4000 feet, and whether or not the tunnel for at least 4000 feet will be mandatory.

Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond joined in the welcome to the Eastern experts yesterday and took a leading place in the ceremonies which began on this side of the bay at Richmond, continued with every stop of the Overland Limited, and concluded with a meeting in the city hall in San Francisco.

CO-OPERATION PLEDGES ARE VOICED.

Pledges of co-operation and words of welcome were voiced at a reception given in the St. Francis, at which Davies and Modjeski, for the first time, made formal declaration of their hopes for a successful termination of their visit. Davies, a forceful public speaker, said:

"What strikes Mr. Modjeski and myself most strongly is the tremendous element of unity on the project. With all your communities acting together on the proposition I don't see how you can fail. Outside of agriculture, transportation is the biggest industry we have. Like other cities, you insist upon improving your transportation facilities. Just as New York City is one with its New Jersey population and its New York State population, so San Francisco is one with the communities around the bay. By helping one you will be helping all. I sincerely trust that our studies may be of benefit to you in your undertaking."

TAKE UP BIG TASK WITH ENTHISIASM.

Modjeski, in his reply, said:

"We have come with a great deal of enthusiasm to take up this task. We shall work very hard on it, I can assure you. In the short time allotted us we perhaps cannot give a detailed plan of a bridge or tunnel across the bay, but we will arrive at some feasible program that will be announced on July 9, which Mayor Rolph says is San Francisco's diamond jubilee."

At the city hall the two experts again responded to the requests for statements. Modjeski, who leaves all the speech-making to his colleague, said:

"With this evidence of unity on the part of all your communities and civic bodies, as far as I can see your bridge is already an accomplished fact."

Davies made comparison to other building projects and said:

"It is plain that your engineering problems undoubtedly can be solved. It may be best to point out that some one is going to be disappointed as the result of our labors. What we may find to be the best solution of your problem may not meet with your individual approval. The question is largely one of economics.

The Lincoln highway, New York to San Francisco, now ends in Jersey City, but we are starting a vehicular tunnel connecting New York with Jersey City. If this is feasible it should be equally feasible to bring

Arrests Will Be Sought in Effort To Stop Fight

Reformers File Conspiracy With Prosecutor; Grand Jury to eHar Case.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 29.—Prosecutor Pierre J. Garvin of Jersey City will on Friday afternoon lay before the Hudson county grand jury charges that the principals and promoters of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight are guilty of a conspiracy to violate the New Jersey boxing law and the New Jersey crimes act, it was announced this afternoon. This will be the final effort of the International Reform Bureau to prevent the contest.

PROSECUTOR IS ASKED TO USE HIS OFFICE.

Earlier in the day Harry B. Wyatt, on behalf of the Clergymen's Community club, laid before Garvin a bill of complaint to stop the bout.

A letter accompanying the bill charged the principals and the promoters with conspiring to "pervert the boxing or sparring laws and also to violate the crimes act, prohibiting prize fights."

S. C. Gilson of counsel for the clergymen said affidavits had been submitted and witnesses were prepared to appear before the grand jury or to testify in whatever action the prosecutor may take.

ARRESTS PLANNED IF INDICTMENTS RETURNED.

Assistant Prosecutor James Clark told Gilson to produce his affidavits and witnesses before the grand jury Friday afternoon. He assured the attorney the matter would be given a fair and impartial hearing.

Gilson intimated that should the indictment be returned, as asked, the procedure would be to arrest those named, hold them on bail, and thus prevent the fight.

Imperial Irrigation District Is Safe

CANTU, Calif., June 29. — The levees protecting the Imperial irrigation district from the flood waters of the Colorado river have withstood the ultimate test for this year, in the opinion of irrigation district officials here. Daily rock trains that have been carrying rock to reinforce the weakest spots have been discontinued.

At Rockwood Gate, the intake of the system, the river fell 7-10th of a foot in the last 24 hours.

Reports today say that the towns of Somerton and San Luis near Yuma were both flooded, but little damage done.

San Luis, below the international boundary, was reported under ten feet of water.

Mugridge won. Mugridge was also one of the five players who battled with Sammy to a draw last night at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. A. L. Rosenblatt played a draw game.

Anglo-Japanese Alliance Beaten In Present Form

British Colonial Premiers for British-American-Nipponese Understanding.

LONDON, June 29.—(By Associated Press).—A speech by Premier Meighen of Canada on the Anglo-Japanese treaty occupied this morning's session of the conference of imperial premiers. Meighen is understood to have opposed a renewal of the treaty on the ground that it has served its purpose, and to have strongly presented the case of Canada, which is that everything possible should be done for preservation and improvement of the good relations between the United States and the British Empire.

LONDON, June 29 (Canadian Press).—The Anglo-Japanese Alliance is not to be renewed in its present form, it has already been made abundantly clear, although the discussion of the treaty by the conference of British premiers has just begun.

While Arthur J. Balfour and Lord Curzon, the only members of the conference thus far who have dealt with the subject, used due diplomatic caution in their speeches, according to information which may be regarded as authoritative, they left a clear impression that while the British government would like to have some form of understanding with Japan it is not inclined to continue the present purely military agreement.

Inasmuch, therefore, as Premier Meighen of Canada and Premier Smutz of South Africa will strongly urge against an alliance of any kind, but will advocate a British-American-Japanese understanding instead, the clear prospect is that if the alliance, if renewed at all, will be little more than a shadow of its former self.

Premier Meighen prepared for today's conference a stated case against the alliance which, it is understood, will be circulated in the conference as a confidential document.

General Smutz of the Union of South Africa, who is to follow, will support Premier Meighen and will, in all likelihood, attack the whole policy of special alliances and will urge, instead, a mutual understanding with nations through moral and intellectual sympathy.

Lady Churchill Dies in London From Operation

Career in English Social and Political Life Has Been of Interest.

LONDON, June 29.—Lady Randolph Spencer Churchill, an American woman, died at her London home today as the result of an infection arising from an amputated foot. Lady Churchill recently suffered a fall in which her left foot was injured. An operation was performed, but blood poisoning developed.

Lady Churchill.

Lady Churchill was the mother of Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies in the British cabinet. Before her marriage to Lord Churchill in 1874 she was Miss Jennie Jerome, daughter of the late Leonard Jerome of New York.

Lady Churchill's death occurred suddenly from heart failure, following a hemorrhage. Her son was with her at the end.

The careers of few, if any other, women in English social and political life have been so closely followed by Americans for many years past as that of Lady Randolph Churchill. She was a woman of diversified talents with conceded literary and artistic ability and from the time of her marriage to Lord Churchill took a keen interest in political affairs.

Lady Randolph Churchill was thrice married, her second marriage occurring in 1900 to Lieutenant George Cornwallis-West, her junior by many years. They were divorced in 1914, Cornwallis-West at once marrying Mrs. Pat Campbell, the actress. Her third marriage occurred in 1918 to Montague Porch, a British army officer.

Lady Randolph Churchill was born 67 years ago.

TOKYO, June 29. (By the Associated Press.)—The naval estimates for the fiscal year anticipate the expenditure of 500,000,000 yen, about the same amount as last year. There is to be no change in the basic policy of completing the government's eight battleships and eight cruisers program.

IMAGINE I'M HUGGING YOU, FRED PHONED

Gardener On Pleasantville Estate Reveals Long Distance Conversation Between Indian and Banker's Wife

Corespondent in Divorce Trial Received Piece of Little Guy's Birthday Cake. With Note From Ex-Show Girl

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 29.—James A. Stillman, multi-millionaire banker, took the stand in his suit for divorce late this afternoon.

He was cross-examined by John F. Brennan, chief of counsel for Mrs. Stillman. John E. Mack, guardian for little Guy, was eagerly waiting his chance to take the ex-banker in hand for a grilling.

So searching is the cross-interrogation mapped out by Mrs. Stillman's attorneys that there was talk that a night session might be necessary to complete the taking of Stillman's testimony.

The ex-banker outwitted the army of newspapermen and photographers by "sneaking" into the courtroom through a back door. His "disguise" consisted of a pair of large blue smoked auto goggles.

His first words when he got inside were:

"Well, I fooled those photographers, anyway!"

STILLMAN MEETS HIS WIFE FACE TO FACE.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 29.—James A. Stillman met his wife face to face today in the ante-room outside the courtroom where hearings in his divorce suit are being held.

Neither of them betrayed any emotion at their first sight of each other since the divorce scandal became public.

Stillman was hunched on a little bench outside the courtroom waiting for the referee to call him to the stand.

Mrs. Stillman, returning from lunch with John Mack, her attorney, passed into the room. She glanced at her husband and walked quickly into the courtroom.

Stillman early today was smuggled into the building.

STILLMAN CLIMBED THROUGH BOILER ROOM.

Avoiding reporters, photographers and scandal fans, the former president of the National City Bank was believed to have entered through an areaway before dawn, climbing through a basement boiler room and through dark passages and hiding himself in one of the offices of the building to await the call to answer some of the 200 questions prepared for him by John Mack, guardian for Baby Guy Stillman, whose legitimacy Stillman questions.

Edward J. Lawlor, a gardener at the Stillman Pleasantville estate, testifying today before Referee Gleason, said that Fred K. Beauvais, half-breed Indian guide, made the following remark to Mrs. Stillman during a conversation over the telephone:

"Open the window and imagine I am hugging you."

It was the Indian's answer, he added, to Mrs. Stillman's remark:

"I am all tired out from shopping and ready to go to bed. Good night."

Lawlor declared he was "listening in" on this telephone conversation. Mrs. Stillman was speaking from New York, where she had been shopping, and Beauvais from the "blue cottage" of the Pleasantville home, he said.

WROTE "DEAR FREDDIE" ON GUY'S BIRTHDAY.

The gardener's story, rendered behind closed doors, but which, as usual, leaked out to newspapermen, gave rise to sharp quarreling between opposing counsel.

Mack was quoted as having referred to the witness as a "snooping servant" and a "sneak." The second bombshell sprung by the gardener was his testimony that on November 8, 1919, after a birthday party for little Guy—he was a year old—Mrs. Stillman wrote to Beauvais:

"Dear Freddie—This is Guy's birthday and I am sending you a piece of the cake."

A letter bearing these words was introduced and Lawlor identified the handwriting as Mrs. Stillman's. He insisted, in answer to heckling from Mrs. Stillman, that he was not hostile to her, but that he "felt that he must tell the truth." He admits having made frequent trips to New York to confer with Stillman's counsel.

PEACE PLAN REJECTED BY IRISH LEADER

De Valera Tells Premier of Ulster That the Proposal of Lloyd George in Present Form Cannot Be Accepted

North Ireland Head Refuses to Go to Dublin to Discuss Big Problem: Officers of the Republican Army Slain

LONDON, June 29 – (By the Associated Press.) Eamonn de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, in a letter to Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier says that the proposal of Prime Minister Lloyd George for a conference in London between representatives of southern and northern Ireland and the British government owing to its limitations is impossible of acceptance in its present form.

ULSTER REJECTS DE VALERA'S PLAN.

BELFAST, June 29.—(By Associated Press.)—Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, declined today the invitation extended him by Eamonn de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, to meet de Valera in Dublin. The invitation was contained in a letter to the Ulster premier and four other eminent Irishmen outside of de Valera's party asking them to meet him at the Mansion House in Dublin on Monday for a conference.

The other men are Earl Midleton, Sir Maurice Dockrell, Sir Robert Henry Woods and Andrew Jameson.

In his reply to the Republican leaders' invitation, Sir James said:

"It is impossible for me to arrange any meeting. I already have accepted the prime minister's invitation to the London conferene."

The answer of Sir James Craig added that he would publish telegrams in order to obviate the confusion in the press between a namesake in the Southern Irish Parliament and himself. The theory advanced here is that De Valera's invitation to a conference was really sent to Professor Sir James Craig of Dublin, but that De Valera's attention being drawn to the confusion in names, he decided to fly at higher game.

ARMISTICE IS HOPE IN IRELAND.

LONDON, June 29.—An unofficial armistice in Ireland was expected today to be the first result of Premier Lloyd George's peace offer to De Valera.

Sinn Fein leaders were urging De Valera not to meet the premier unless he agreed to withdraw the Black and Tan troops from Ireland. Information from the Irish Office indicated such a demand would be refused.

However, with both sides plainly anxious to get as much as possible from the forthcoming conferences, a lull in hostilities was looked for. The fact that raids continued in Cork as late as yesterday did not lessen that belief.

INVITATION IS ACCEPTED BY FOUR.

DUBLIN, June 29.—Four Unionist leaders in Ireland accepted Eamonn de Valera's invitation to attend a conference here on Monday prior to de Valera's final acceptance or rejection of Premier Lloyd George's invitation to attend an Irish peace parley in London, it was announced this afternoon.

By EARLE C. REEVES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, June 29.—Eamonn de Valera's non-committal message to Premier Lloyd George is not conducive to Irish peace, according to opinions expressed in Irish official circles today.

De Valera did not indicate whether or not he would accept the premier's invitation to a peace parley.

To illustrate that war continues in Ireland, Dublin Castle advices stated that one loyalist had been killed by Irish republicans, three houses had been burned and three ambush attacks were made this morning upon crown forces.

It was believed today that the parley will not be held for a week or ten days, even if de Valera consents to come to London.

The letter sent by de Valera to the premier yesterday says in part:

"I am consulting with such of the principal representatives of our nation as are available. We most earnestly desire to help in bringing about a lasting peace between the people of these two islands but see no avenue by which it can be reached if you deny Ireland her essential unity."

IRISH ARMY OFFICER IS KILLED IN RAID.

LONDON, June 29.—A Cork despatch reports the killing of Walter Murphy, commander of the Cork battalion of the Irish republican army, at his home in Waterfall. The shooting was done by Crown forces that were raiding Murphy's home. The authorities say that Murphy was responsible for the murder of five officers and a civilian. Forty-five members of the Irish republican army were arrested in County Cork on Tuesday.

Missouri Overflows Nebraska Lowlands

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

OMAHA, Neb., June 29.—A hastily constructed dyke protecting hundreds of acres of farm land north of Omaha broke under pressure of flood water from the Missouri river this morning and immediately a torrent of water began rushing into the lowlands, making a repetition of last year's flood damage almost a certainty.

Residents in the threatened area worked all night, but shortly after 2 a. m. a gap appeared in the dyke. The river was reported falling at up-river points.

Gross Debt of U. S. Now Over $23,000,000,000

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The total interest bearing debt of the United States on April 30 last was $23,759,514,102.91, it was announced at the Treasury Department today. Matured interest obligations brought the gross debt up to $23,858,597,542.43 on that date.

President Gives New Warning on Strict Economy

Harding Says Growing Public Indebtedness Is Greatest World Menace.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—President Harding gave fair warning to all the cabinet officers, department chiefs and assistant chiefs in Washington that his administration is pledged in "every resolution, every commitment and every determination" to the cause of economy in government.

There is no menace in the world today, the President said, like that of growing public indebtedness and mounting public expenditures and he intends to correct the impression that the United States treasury is "inexhaustible."

The widest powers have been granted to General Charles G. Dawes in his undertakings to produce a workable budget in thirty days and put the government on a basis of "business-like efficiency."

This was the first announcement this afternoon when President Harding, members of his cabinet and all the bureau chiefs in Washington met together to take the preliminary steps in what is designed to be a great effort at tax reduction.

Taxation estimates, which have generally alarmed administration leaders, have been produced in Congress and are directly responsible for the haste which the administration is putting into the budget plans. One set of these figures, which aroused widespread comment, showed that unless rigid and drastic economy is put into effect at once, every man, woman and child in the United States will, theoretically, contribute $60 next year to the upkeep of the federal government alone, aside from the state, municipal and county taxes.

With the addition of these latter the per capita tax for government in the United States next year will be around $2, it has been estimated by Congress. For the average American family of four persons this amounts to the amazing total of more than $325 for each family.

HARDING FOR REDUCTION OF ARMAMENT

President Tells Republican Leader It Is Desirable to Have Favorable Opinion On the Part of Congress

Committee Puts Final Touches On Permanent Tariff Bill Creating Additional Revenue of Over Half Billion

WASHINGTON, June 29.—It is wholly desirable to have the expression of a favorable opinion on the part of Congress relating to world disarmament, "and it would seem to me ample if it should be expressed in the broadest and most general terms," President Harding wrote today to Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican leader in the House.

"I am vastly more concerned with the favorable attitude of Congress on this question than I am as to the form of expressing that attitude," the President added. "You may be sure that the executive will be ready to give every consideration to such expression as the members of the two houses of Congress find themselves disposed to make."

Mondell announced that he would read the President's letter to the House when the Borah disarmament amendment was reached.

The President wrote that the administrative branch had already sought information with regard to the attitude of foreign nations on disarmament.

"These inquiries and negotiations will be continued, and the time and manner in which the matter may be formally presented to foreign governments con only be determined after the fuller development of inquiries already initiated," the letter said.

FORDNEY TARIFF BILL IS COMPLETED

The Fordney tariff bill was completed today. It was released by the House ways and means committee for publication tomorrow morning. The committee was in session throughout the day considering eleventh hour changes in the bill. The lumber schedule has been rewritten. There will be retained a duty of 50 cents a thousand on shingles, and the President is given authority to impose duties on logs and dressed lumber when tongued and grooved equal to export duties levied by any country. The President may negotiate for reciprocal treatment between the United States and lumber exporting countries.

Every article that has been imported into the United States in the last decade will appear in the bill, the total running up into the thousands. Nearly one thousand articles which have not appeared in previous tariff laws also are included.

The bill is highly protective, the rates being on an average somewhat higher than those of the last Republican tariff, the Payne-Aldrich law of 1909.

It is estimated that the new bill will double the present revenue from tariff duties and bring into the treasury between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000.

BANK OF NATIONS PROVIDED IN BILL.

The establishment of the international banking institution to be known as the Bank of Nations, with headquarters in New York City, is provided in a bill introduced in the Senate today by Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, of Nebraska.

The bill provides that the secretary of the treasury shall subscribe for $1,300,000,000 of the capital stock of the bank on behalf of the United States. Two hundred million dollars of the stock would be offered to banks, bankers, importers, exporters of the United States, and the remainder would be sold to solvent governments admitted as stockholders or "by treaty or trade agreements negotiated by the President of the United States."

HOUSE STANDS PAT ON NAVY APPROPRIATIONS.

The House refused today to recede in its opposition to a Senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill carrying $500,000 for a pier extension and $90,000 for a rifle range at the Puget Sound, Washington, Navy Yard. The House cut from $1,000,000 to $500,000 an item added by the Senate for enlargement of the Naval hospital at San Diego, Calif.

The House voted to stand pat in its opposition to a Senate amendment authorizing the acquisition of land in the vicinity of Camp Kearny, Cal., as a site for a lighter than air aviation station.

The House also voted to insist on its disagreement to Senate amendments authorizing acceptance of a tract of land from King county, Wash., as a site for a naval aviation base at Sand Point, and the expenditure of $800,000 for development of such a base.

WILL NOT PRESS EUROPE ON DEBTS

The administration is convinced that it probably would be "financially and economically disastrous" for the United States if it were to insist upon immediate payment of part of the $11,000,000,000 debt long overdue this country from its associates in the world war. This was disclosed today after a conference between Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and the chairman of the Senate finance committee, following Mellon's appearance before the committee to urge that Congress give the administration blanket authority to handle the foreign loans.

The administration believes that there would be a grave risk of destroying the European market for American products by further impairing the value of foreign exchange and by the consequent inability of European nations to buy American products essential to their rehabilitation, if they were forced to pay with the comparatively little they have left.

Charter of Freeholders Gives City Manager Powers of Dictator

A city manager, who is given the full power of appointment and dismissal of city-county officials and boards, and who is made the administrative head of the proposed city and county government, is described today in the sections of the tentative charter released by the Board of Freeholders.

The manager, who is to be appointed by the Metropolitan council of seven, has additional powers of instituting investigations at any time and may remove from office officials, employees or boards. In the exercise of these powers the councilmen may not attempt to dictate or interfere on penalty of forfeiting their offices. This manager, who is to be paid not less than $12,000 a year, is subject to removal by a majority vote of the council.

The charter sections, released today, outline the manner of the appointment of the manager and the wide scope of his duties and powers. In addition they name eight boroughs, draw a distinction between the urban and the suburban boroughs, and define the limited powers of the boards of trustees in the two classes of boroughs.

The charter sections are from number 19 to 26 and, concerning them, the board has asked for criticism and suggestion. The new sections are summarized in what follows.

CAN BE NON-RESIDENT.

The city manager, the charter says, shall be appointed by the Metropolitan Council, and may not be a councilman. He may be chosen from outside the city and county or of the state and shall hold office at the pleasure of the council. The manager shall be the administrative head of the city and county and shall be responsible for the efficient conduct and operation of all departments to the Metropolitan Council.

Neither the council or any of its committees shall attempt to dictate, the charter says, the appointment of any person to office or attempt to interfere with the manager in the exercise of his own judgment in the appointment or removal of boards, officers and employees. Except for purposes of inquiry, the council and its members shall deal with the administrative service solely through the manager, and neither the Metropolitan Council nor any member shall give orders to any of the appointees of or the officers or employees under the supervision of the manager. Any councilman violating this provision shall forfeit his office.

CONTROLS UTILITIES.

The charter gives the manager power to:

See that laws of city, county and state are enforced.

Appoint all officers and employees of city and county, except few exceptions otherwise stated in charter.

Exercise general supervision and direction over all firms, persons, companies and corporations controlling and operating public utilities within the city and county limits insofar as they are subject to municipal control.

Prepare and submit to the council and borough boards the annual budget and keep council and boards advised as to needs and financial conditions of city and county.

Attend all meetings of council and borough boards of Alameda, Piedmont and Berkeley, or to have representative present.

Examine or have examined at any time and without notice, the affairs of city and county, or the conduct of office of any officer or employee, may compell witnesses to testify and has power to force production of evidence.

The manager must devote his entire time to the city and county, may appoint such advisory boards as he deems necessary and may name a secretary and such deputies and employees in his office as he may require.

CREATES EIGHT BOROUGHS.

The charter creates eight boroughs, defines their limits and makes distinction between the urban and suburban ones. It gives the Metropolitan Council the power of the board of trustees for the Oakland borough. The boroughs named are: Alameda, Berkeley, Hayward, Livermore, Oakland, Piedmont, Pleasanton and San Leandro.

A board of trustees, consisting of five, shall be elected at large in each of the boroughs except Oakland. The terms are to be four years and there is no salary. The trustees must meet at least once a month and all meetings must be open to the public.

The boards of trustees have the power to name chairmen and also to recommend the appointment of a borough clerk, the manager having the appointive power. Except to recommend the appointment of the borough clerk, the borough trustees of Piedmont, Berkeley and Alameda shall have no power to name or appoint any person or board to execute any of its ordinances or resolutions. These powers shall be executed by the appropriate officers of the city and county.

What powers the board of trustees of each borough have are set forth to include that of recommending the opening and closing of streets and the performance of street work within the borough, the recommendations to be mandatory upon the metropolitan council. The boards may also establish residential zones in their boroughs, recommend the acquisition of parks, improvement or equipment of same, either by bond issue within the borough or by direct tax levy on assessable property in the borough. Upon the receipt of such recommendation it shall be the duty of the council to carry it out.

EXEMPTIONS MADE.

The boroughs of Hayward, Livermore, Pleasanton, and San Leandro are given, in addition to the powers conferred on all, the powers now vested in boards of trustees of municipalities of the sixth class, except for such as are specifically denied in the charter. None of these boroughs are to have power to assess, levy, or collect taxes within the borough, to appoint a recorder, or to pass ordinances for police power that conflict with the general one for the city and county. They may not grant franchises of any kind or nature and the revenue from all licenses imposed by the board of trustees of such boroughs, and all revenue collected or received for the use of the borough shall be paid into the city and county treasury to the credit of the proper funds of such borough.

The boards of trustees are given the additional power to repair and keep in repair, to drain and sprinkle, or oil the streets, sidewalks and alleys. They must provide in the budget the amount necessary for special borough elections, including initiative, referendum and recall elections.

Any and all of the powers granted to the boroughs my be relinquished to the city and county government by the majority vote of the electors of the borough voting on the question. Upon relinquishment of the powers the borough shall be governed by the Metropolitan council, as is provided for the borough of Oakland.

The answer to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Adalaide Durant against Russell C. ("Cliff") Durant was filed by Herbert Breed and Walter J. Burpee, representing the husband, today.

The answer is brief and merely denies generally and specifically the allegations of Mrs. Durant.

It was stated by Attorney E. S. Page, representing Mrs. Durant, that she has postponed her trip to Europe for a short time and that the case will not be heard for several days. It will come before Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco, sitting for Judge A. F. St. Sure, who is on a vacation.

VETERANS ANGRY OVER SOCIALISTS' RED FLAG TALK

Convention Invaded by Former Service Men, Who Ask for Explanation.

DETROIT, Mich., June 29.—Bursting into the hall where the National Convention of Socialists was being held this morning, 75 veterans, delegates to the convention of Disabled American Veterans of the World War, demanded an explanation of a speech made yesterday in which the speaker is said to have declared, "there is only one flag, the Red flag," and demanded that the Socialist delegate who had any such idea "step out and fight."

Ralph Horr of Seattle, who led the invading veterans, told the Socialists that advocates of force would be met with force and invited the radicals to "step outside if they wanted to fight for their beliefs."

Horr quoted from printed reports of the remarks of J. Louis Engdahl to the general effect that his section of the party would fight "not as 100 per cent Americans, but under the red flag of international socialism."

"I hope these reports do not represent the sentiment of your convention," Horr said, "but if they do we have come to tell you that it is our intention to deal with these people. We have had occasion in Seattle to use machine guns to stamp out disloyalty, sedition and treason and those guns can be used again."

Cameron King of California replied on behalf of the Socialists. "We appreciate the sacrifices the Disabled Veterans of the World War have made," he said; "we understand the impulses that drove you to that sacrifice. At the same time we have made sacrifices. We did not believe when war was declared that it was a just war and because we so believed many of our comrades have been imprisoned. As American citizens, we claim the right of free speech and free assembly and we are going to stand on those rights." The visit of the veterans was made without disorder. After the talks were made the former soldiers withdrew.

Violinist's Hands Are Crippled By Poison Oak

BERKELEY, June 29.—Sascha Jacobinoff, Russian violinist, who was to have made his debut this season for summer session students at th nUe shrdlu etaoin cmfwyp rdlu the University of California tonight in Wheeler Hall, will not play on his $12,000 violin, as announced.

Jacobinoff's love of the Berkeley hills is responsible for the canceling of his engagement. The hands which were to have held the instrument are today swathed in bandages and his features are swollen out of proportion, a combination which will prevent his appearance.

Poison oak is the cause of the musician's malady. Jacobinoff imbibed too freely of nature on Sunday.

Filipinos Ask U. S. Mission for Freedom

MANILA, June 28.—By the Associated Press.)—The Wood-Forbes party returned to Manila today after a two weeks' visit to Southern Luzon and adjacent islands, during which more than a hundred public meetings were held, at which virtually all speakers advocated independence in some form. But a big majority believed the United States should establish a protectorate over the islands if independence were granted.

On the next leg of its investigation the financial condition of the government, which is giving much concern, will be studied. General Wood has been invited to give the principal speech at the Fourth of July celebration.

RECOGNITION OF MEXICO CONSULS, HUGHES' REQUEST

Appeal Made by Secretary in a Letter to Governor Stephens.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—What was interpreted by the governor's office here to be a step preliminary to the recognition of the Obregon government of Mexico by the United States government has been taken by Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes in a letter received by Governor William D. Stephens asking that the California executive recognize and instruct State officers to give official status to three consular officers of Mexico recently named to posts in this state.

"As the United States government has not recognized the present Mexican regime," the letter stated, "it does not grant the usual recognition to consular officers of Mexico appointed to reside in the United States. However, the former incumbent having been transferred or removed, the department considers that it is desirable as a political matter for agents of this government to raise no question as to the lack of formal recognition of Mr. Verdugo (Felizardo Verdugo, appointed consul at San Diego) and to deal with him in the transaction of business as with his predecessors. I therefore request that you will advise the appropriate officials of your state to that effect."

37 ARRESTS ARE MADE IN LATEST DRY ACTIVITIES

John Exnicios, New U. S. Supervisor, Plans to Sweep Entire State Dry.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Determined to enforce the prohibition laws and keep San Francisco dry, federal anti-booze officers, working under direct orders of John Exnicios, new federal prohibition director, have made a total of 37 arrests for violation of the Volstead act within the past two days. Twenty-nine arrests, two of them in Oakland, on Monday and six raids and eight arrests yesterday comprised the activities of the prohibition agents who are working to clamp down the lid on booze in the bay region.

The six raids yesterday were made by Prohibition Agents George Washington Poultney, V. H. de Spain and John F. Hanley. They seized large quantities of illicit liquor and arrested eight persons. Those arrested were:

Thomas Ward, 1800 Third street; F. Riccorri and G. Giadopucci, 2500 Third street; Thomas McVey, 100 Mississippi street; John W. Viant, 29 Embarcadero; Edwin Machold, 18 Folsom street, and Claude and Margaret Goings, 399 Third street.

GET 'EM OR GET OUT.

The extra energy of the prohibition sleuths follows an ultimatum issued Sunday by Exnicios when he reviewed the records of the previous three days and found that twelve arrests had been made during that period.

"Get the bootleggers or get out," he told the sleuths.

Exnicios yesterday, for the second time, defied the order of Commissioner Krull that he return to Chas. Mitchell, a saloonkeeper, a quantity of bonded liquor seized in a raid on Mitchell's apartment, 886 Brush street.

"I told you yesterday," said Exnicios to Mitchell, "that I would not return the liquor despite the order of Commissioner Krull, and I have not changed my mind. I am convinced that you are using your home supply for your saloon on Kearny street. The fact that your home supply of liquor included several cases of whisky 'stolen' from Paul Schainmann is sufficient evidence in my mind that your 'private stock' will not bear investigation."

SWEEP STATE DRY.

Exnicios will leave San Francisco next Saturday with a picked squad to "sweep California dry from one end to another, inside of a month."

"After I have made California arid I will proceed systematically through Oregon, Washington and Nevada," declared Exnicios. "I have already communicated my plans to the commissioner at Washington, assuring him of my purpose to enfore the prohibition law absolutely in the West, and he has approved."

Exnicios' plan of retaining in his service only the agents who "effect arrests," as announced in San Francisco, will be enforced in all the four states under his jurisdiction, he stated yesterday.

FLOGGING OF WIFE BEATERS URGED BY JUDGE

SANTA ANA, Cal., June 29.—"A law providing for the public flogging of men who beat their wives would put a stop to this crime," declared J. B. Cox, justice of the peace of Santa Ana, today. Cox took the law in his own hands here Monday and publicly horsewhipped Juan Torres, after Torres had pleaded guilty to wife beating.

"If wife beaters were given the same brutal treatment they inflict on their wives, there would be little or no wife flogging.

"Too often it is adopted as a means of getting rid of a wife after a man has become smitten with a 'chicken' and desires to get rid of his legal helpmeet so that he might 'take on' his new love.

"We have tried most every kind of punishment to put a stop to this inhuman treatment by men of the women they promised to love and protect. Let's get down to something with a real punch in it."

LOCAL MOOSE GET NATIONAL OFFICES

C. C. A. McGee, Oakland attorney, was elected to the Supreme Council of the United States Moose Clubs, and Frank J. Monahan of San Francisco was elected as Supreme Prelate at the National Moose convention in Toledo, O., according to a telegram received today by A. Vander Naillen Jr., Grand Regent of the Oakland Moose club. Both McGee and Monahan were elected by a unanimous vote.

Governor Morrow of Kentucky presented the two Californians for election, the telegram said, and his recommendations were largely responsible for the unanimous vote. Monahan was elevated from the position of Supreme Councilman and McGee selected to fill the vacancy occasioned by Monahan's advancement, Vander Naillen said.

In their telegram to Vander Naillen, McGee and Monahan declared they had already held a conference with J. J. Davis, Director-General of the Order of Moose and Secretary of Labor, regarding the purchase of the "Hacienda," the late Mrs. Phoebe Hearst's estate near Pleasanton, as a national home for aged and dependent members of the Moose lodge. Davis expressed himself as being absolutely in favor of the California site for the home during his tour of inspection here last January.

POOR TEETH ARE BLIGHT TO LOVE, DENTISTS TOLD

Play Important Part in Social and Business World, Says Dr. Milberry.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Bad teeth shatter more romances and bring to naught more courtships than all other physical charms, according to Dr. Guy S. Millberry, pioneer in dental hygiene, addressing the fifty-second annual convention of the California State Dental Association, in session in this city. To be successful in love is to possess a strong, fine set of teeth of Nature's endowing, Dr. Millberry declared. Teeth play an important part in social, business and even political life, he told the 800 delegates. So important did the ancient Brahmins and Hindus consider the care of their teeth that as they sat chanting their prayers they polished them with a frayed stick, he said.

Teeth, according to Dr. Millberry, portray character. He cited Sitting Bull, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Joseph Jefferson among the strong toothed men of history. The splendid and fine teeth of the American soldier overseas had much to do with his popularity with women of other lands, Dr. Millberry said.

FIRST WOMAN GUEST.

Dr. M. Evangeline Jordan of Los Angeles has the distinction of being the first woman guest of the association. She was a speaker on the opening program. The invitation honored her work as pioneer in the care of children's teeth.

Food was featured in Dr. Jordan's address. She recalled the Chinese proverb, "If you love your son, feed him rough food. If you do not love your son, feed him with sweets."

A pre-natal diet of black bread, fruits, milk and eggs was urged for the mother as substitute for the craving for sweets, white breads, and pastries. These were termed "bone building substances" which played an important part in creating strong teeth.

"Care of children's teeth is a community matter. Teach the mother what to feed the child. Inspect the mouths of the students in the public schools regularly. Establish clinics for corrective treatment at a minimum charge per sitting of ten or twenty-five cents, or, when that is prohibitive, at no cost at all," Dr. Jordan advised.

"Not one child in ten in California has perfect teeth," she pronounced. "Every child has the right to possess a perfect set of teeth."

Thousands of children in Alameda County have been saved from sickness and suffering by means of the traveling clinic, Dr. J. C. Dean, president of the Oakland society, told the convention.

PREVENTS DISEASE.

State and municipal aid in providing clinics, teachers and nurses who will specialize in the public schools is the large need in California, according to Dr. Louis Graham of San Francisco, state president, in his annual address. He urged the training of girls in dental hygiene in the high schools. He pointed out how such work would insure prevention against disease.

The fact that antiseptics do not ooze out was reported established by Dr. J. A. Marshall, chairman of the research department on decalcified teeth.

Closer relationship between the Pacific Coast and British Columbia dental societies was proposed through the holding of biennial sessions in the report of Dr. John E. Gurley of San Francisco, chairman of the interstate relations committee.

Preventive dentistry will be the subject for tonight's session. The speakers will be Dr. A. H. Nobbs, Dr. John A. Marshall, Dr. G. W. Simonton, Dr. Guy S. Millberry, Dr. John E. Gurley.

Beginning at 9 a. m. tomorrow the entire day will be given over to scientific and technical discussions. The annual banquet will take place in the evening.

Business Men's Club to Plan Campaign

Owing to the fact that plans for a membership campaign will be formulated at the weekly luncheon of the Mutual Business Men's club tomorrow at the Hotel Oakland, it was decided not to include a speaker on the program. Captains of the various membership teams will be selected and members of the club apportioned to the various teams.

C. N. Cooper, president of the club, has appointed a committee to consult with members and captains of the teams toward securing new members and providing entertainment at future luncheons. The committee comprises: Harry Knight, chairman; Van Midgley, Ralph Seely, P. A. Murdock, William Picard and Russell Franck. Organization of a bowling team to compete with the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs was announced by Abe Morris of the athletic committee.

A business talk by Roy Munsell will be another feature of the meeting. One of the purposes of the meeting will be to increase the club's attendance.

SAN DIEGO WORKS.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—There were 31,023 persons 10 years of age and over in San Diego, Cal., engaged in gainful occupations in 1920, constituting 41.5 per cent of the city's total population, which is 74,683, and 48.3 per cent of the population 10 years and over, the census bureau announced today. Of the gainful workers of San Diego, 23,394 or 75.4 per cent were males and 7629, or 24.6 per cent were females. The male gainful workers constituted 74.2 per cent of all males 10 years of age and over and the female gainful workers constituted 23.3 per cent of all females 10 years of age and over.

BEAUTY DECLARED VALUABLE ASSET OF ADVERTISING

Ad Club Men Hear Talk On Influence of Art in Selling Goods.

Sidelights on the work of Maynard Dixon, Harold Von Schmidt, Will James, R. Pielke and other artists were furnished by Charles Duncan, artist and advertising expert, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Oakland Advertising Club at the Hotel Oakland yesterday, the subject "The Influence of Art on Advertising."

He told how Dixon is perpetuating the romance of the West, how Von Schmidt rode the range as a youngster, how Will James spent many years of his life as a cowboy, and how Pielke produced proof showing he was a cowpuncher in the wilds of Florida, though the advent of the "Southern Cowboy" gave rise to lively arguments as to the possibility of punching cows in the Florida marshes.

"Few people realize the value of art in advertising," said the speaker. "It is only within the last few years that they have commenced to realize that beauty is an asset and ugliness a liability."

BEAUTY IS ASSET.

"Being a commercial nation," he went on, "we have been interested in producing things as cheaply as possible—and as ugly as possible. But we are beginning to learn that if, in selling goods, we expect a package to have memory value, we must make it appeal to the eye. The modern drug store is coming around to this point of view. It is beginning to realize that a woman, in buying cosmetics and other things on sale in the drug store, wants an element of beauty.

"The grocery store has not come to realize that as yet," the speaker continued. "Rows on rows of ugly packages and tins, with red as the dominant color, assail the eye when one enters a grocery store."

ART IN MAGAZINES.

Taking as an example a well-known magazine, Duncan declared that the advertising literature, in most cases, was on a much higher plane, artistically, than the fiction, and that the drawings and paintings used in the back part of the magazine for advertising purposes were, for the most part, much better than the cover designs.

In conclusion, Duncan urged his hearers to develop an appreciation for color and for the beauties of nature. "If you feel as though life is not worth living," he said, "go out and hunt up a sunset. There's a new one every night and they're all different. There is beauty and color everywhere—even in the alleys."

STROMBOLI STILL ACTIVE

ROME, June 29.—The volcano Mount Stromboli, on the Sicilian coast, continues active, but no victims had been reported today.

Do you wear Artificial Teeth?

If so, it will pay you to investigate this invention of Dr. Schafhirt's. It has stood the test of years in Oakland and made good. Here are the advantages:

Does not run over the entire roof of the mouth; has three suctions instead of one; improves speech and taste; cools the mouth. This plate prevents a flat hard mouth to fit in years to come, such as you will have with a cheap inferior old style plate. Look to your future. Don't pick the cheapest plate you can find. It doesn't pay. It is neither cheap or expensive. All kinds of plates made, but nothing less than $20. You will wear my teeth for years. It makes no difference if you have any teeth of your own or not.

This is the invention of J. B. Schafhirt, D. D. S., Bacon Building, 12th and Washington, 3d Floor, Room 277. Hours from 9 to 5:30. Closed Sundays. Tel. Lakeside 24. Dated the 18th day of May, 1921.

"THERE'S DEATH IN THE POT"

A Celebrated London Doctor Used the Above to Emphasize the Danger of Overeating. Worse Than Overeating is Failure to Eliminate Waste.

Nature could not devise a way to feed and repair the body without the production of considerable waste matter. But Nature provided for the regular, thorough elimination of such waste. To disregard her intention is to break a natural law.

Whether you help Nature by wise or foolish means is left to your own judgment. To simply force bowel movement is unwise, unnatural and ineffective. You can choose harsh, drastic, violently acting drugs or take such without caring what their action or effect is, or you can select some old time-proven, trial-tested remedy, that has been used for 70 years or more by thousands of people all over the world, with the result that it has won an enviable reputation as a reliable household remedy. Take Beecham's for example. All the world knows Beecham's; a goodly part of the world uses Beecham's, has been using it for years, handing its use down from father to son, from mother to daughter, for generation after generation, recommending it to others. In spite of such extensive and general use, who ever heard complaint or criticism of Beecham's? That in itself is a powerful recommendation.

Don't take anything for granted. Reason it out. All druggists sell Beecham's—are glad to sell them.

Beecham's reputation has been made by its users not by its sellers.

News of the Churches

Book Tells of Endeavor Fields

Under the direction of the Board of Home Missions, the Woman's Board of Home Missions, the Board of Sabbath School Work and the Board of Missions for Freedmen, Fred Eastman has recently published a book entitled "Unfinished Business of the Presbyterian Church in America." The purpose of the volume is to point out specifically the fields in which the Presbyterian church is making its chief endeavors in the way of religious education.

Each denomination, according to the author, stresses some particular task for which its history, traditions and point of view have fitted it. Historically, the Presbyterian church has stressed especially religious and political freedom, education and Christian service. The "unfinished business" of the Presbyterian church is to have these fundamentals universally adopted, the author states.

No attempt has been made to state completely the manifold tasks which the church is encountering in carrying on its work. Only six of the fields of endeavor are treated, these being illustrated by concrete examples, sometimes written by the workers in the particular field.

The task of educating the Southern mountaineers occupies the first page of the book. Next in order is the tale, or rather the series of tales, of the education of Spanish-speaking people, including Mexicans in the United States, Porto Ricans and Cubans.

Parts three and four set forth the church's task in teaching the principles of religious education among the industrial and rural communities, and part five deals with missionary work in Alaska and among the Indians. The concluding chapter is devoted ao study of methods in educating children, wherein, according to the author, the real task of the church centers.

Enter Anti-Slump Contest

Eighteen Sunday schools, with a total membership based upon attendance statistics taken at this time last year, of over 2000, have entered The TRIBUNE'S anti-summer slump banner contest for increased membership during the vacation period.

Sunday school attendance during the summer months usually drops considerably, according to statistics and Sunday school officers this year are using every effort to keep the attendance up to normal. One method of doing this, they believe, is entering The TRIBUNE'S anti-summer slump contest, which has the large banner made by the girls of the advertising department of The TRIBUNE as the trophy to be won by the Sunday school which increases its summer attendance by the greatest percentage over that of last year.

The contest began on June 19 and will last until September 12. It is not too late yet for any Sunday school to enter the contest and win the banner. All that is necessary is to send in a statement of the average attendance during the same period last year. Address all communications to the Church Advertising Department, Oakland TRIBUNE.

New Daily Vacation Bible School Opened

With an enrollment of over 325 children between the ages of 4 and 15 years in the Daily Vacation Bible school conducted in the church building, the Union-street Presbyterian church has established an additional school in the New Century club building at Fifth and Peralta streets, thereby opening up a new territory in which a Daily Vacation Bible school has never before been located. Mrs. A. Farley is in charge of the school, which opened Monday, and already has an enrollment of over 100 students.

The same courses are given in the new school that are prescribed for schools conducted by the Presbyterian churches throughout the United States. Five teachers are in charge of the work, under the direction of Mrs. Farley. The course will last four weeks.

In the Union-street school Mrs. W. A. Couden, parish worker, is in charge. Rev. H. W. Tweedie, pastor of the church, is supervising the school and giving instruction in wood work. The new church building, according to Rev. Tweedie, makes it possible to organize the school on a more efficient basis than has ever obtained before. Eleven teachers are employed.

WILL HIKE TO HILLS.

The Senior Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church of Berkeley will meet in the church Saturday evening, at 6:30, for a "hike" in the Berkeley hills. Summer school students and the young people of the community are invited to attend.

CORNER CLUB TO MEET.

The Corner club of Berkeley will meet tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock at the Friends' church, Fulton street and Channing way. All business, university and high school girls are invited to attend and join in the singing and good fellowship.

CLUB WOMEN ARE GIVEN AID ON MATERNITY BILL

Ray Benjamin, G. O. P. Leader, Sends Telegram Asking Shortridge's Support.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Ray Benjamin, regional director of the Republican party, lent his aid to California clubwomen today in their effort to preserve the Sheppard-Towner maternity bill and defeat the amendment which would place its administration with the United States public health service rather than the Children's Bureau. He sent a personal telegram to Senator Samuel Shortridge declaring the stand of the women favoring the measure.

More women have petitioned Congress for the Sheppard-Towner bill than for any measure of recent years, according to Mrs. Genevieve Allen, executive secretary of San Francisco Civic Center. The nine great national organizations of women are sponsoring it.

The bill calls for an appropriation of $1,480,000 for the coming year. Its provisions include giving federal aid to those states desiring to provide instruction in the hygiene of maternity and infancy by public health nurses, consultation centers, and teaching of household art affecting the welfare of women and children. Administration of the funds will be under state control, state and local authorities to employ and supervise the staff of workers. No state is obliged to accept the aid or woman obliged to accept the advice or help of the bureau.

Suit Would Halt Sale of Property

FAIRFIELD, June 29.—Frank F. Powers has filed a complaint for injunction against H. H. Holmes as city tax collector of the city of Vallejo, asking that he be permanently restrained from selling certain lots belonging to him to satisfy street assessments due. Powers alleged that the tax collector did not certain things required by law in advertising the property for sale, such as publishing the delinquent list of unpaid assessments before June 8, and other matters required by law and vital to the sale under such procedure.

The court has granted a preliminary injunction, and the question relative to the issuance of a permanent injunction is being fought out before the court today.

What's Happening in the Motor World
by Jim Houlihan

All of Nevada is toeing the mark today, waiting for the start of the 1000-mile road race through desert and sagebrush over mountains and through streams. Nine cars are entered, and all will be on their way this evening, one of the greatest automobile road races ever held in the west.

The nine cars entered are:

Ford—Myron Doyle and John Bart.

Hudson—E. W. Damier and Joe Grijalva.

Essex—George Harrison and B. McKelvey.

Templar—J. H. Ottens.

Buick—J. A. Nikrent and Fred Nikrent.

Lincoln—W. W. Bramlette.

Studebaker—Hart Weaver.

Hudson—Roy C. Caig and Frank Cochran.

Oldsmobile—C. Westwood.

The finish of the race is in Reno, and the winning car will be driven into the race track there to officially open the big Rodeo and Automobile Show which features the Fourth of July celebration in Nevada.

In the big race are several drivers who have made Pacific Coast racing history. Among them are Joe Nikrent and his Buick. Nikrent has turned in many wins in the last few years, his latest triumph being the winning of the Phoenix race. He has tried out the Navada course and expects to turn in a win.

Bill Bramlette and his Leland Built Lincoln will be up among the winners, or we miss our guess. Bramlette is the man who set a mark between Los Angeles and Phoenix, and between Los Angeles and Bishop.

Hart Weaver will drive the Studebaker light six, with which he established a new Los Angeles-San Francisco record, was first into Yosemite Valley this year and made a record to Phoenix.

The course and the mileage between the various points are as follows: Reno to Wadsworth, 33; Fallon, 65; Lovelock, 122; Winnemucca, 195; Battle Mountain, 254; Elko, 337—first night stop; Wells, 391; Curry, Cherry Creek, Ely, 543; Tonopah, 720—second night stop; Minden, 787; Yerrington, 875; Wellington, 901; Gardnerville, 932; Reno, 980; finish of race.

A wire has just been received from officials of the North Bay Counties Speedway association, stating that the date for the autumn speed classic, on the track at Cotati, has been set forward one week, the racing to be held on August 14 instead of August 7, as has been previously announced.

It is stated by those who have the construction of the big speed bowl in hand that everything will be in readiness for the drivers who will report there for action. Under the direction of Jack Prince, veteran track builder, the work of construction is quickly nearing the stage of completion.

Sonoma County Hop Man's Wife Is Dead

She is survived by two sons, Leonard M. and Warren G. Richardson, besides the husband.

San Joaquin County Builds Hall for Fair

STOCKTON, June 29.—Contract for the remaining work on machinery hall was let yesterday by the county supervisors to Powell & Medbery for the sum of $29,700. The contract calls for the structure to be completed by September 1, or twelve days before the county fair opens. The building will be of steel and concrete. Its total cost is $46,095.

Babe Drinks Poison; Dies At Stockton

STOCKTON, Cal., June 29.—Elaria Coborat, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coborat, died shortly before 12 o'clock last night as the result of swallowing a quantity of poison Monday afternoon. The child secured the poison while playing about the house, and although every effort was made to save her life, pneumonia set in, resulting in her death.

NEW RULING TO DELAY POSSIBLE RAILWAY STRIKE

Labor Board Continues National Agreements On Pay Pending Readjustment.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Railway labor chiefs en route or already gathered here to canvass the 12 per cent wage slash which, by order of the United States railway labor board, will chop $400,000,000 from railway workers' pay, were confronted today by a further adverse action of the board.

In a new ruling the board eliminated overtime pay at the rate of time and a half for all work over an eight-hour day.

However, in another ruling, the railway workers gained a temporary advantage.

The board, by indefinitely extending the operation of the national agreements which, on April 14 it had directed should terminate Friday, permits pay to continue as at present until agreements between the employing roads and their men are reached regarding the wage slash. The extension of the order does not apply to those roads which have reached agreements with their workers.

WILL LEND ASSISTANCE.

By continuing the national agreement indefinitely in such cases, it was pointed out, the railway board could lend its assistance, taking up each case separately, in helping the various railway companies and their employees to reach amicable terms. Labor leaders interpreted this action as an adroit move to split the ranks of railway workers.

Just what effect the new decision would have on tomorrow's joint meeting of railway labor chieftains was problematical to the labor leaders themselves. The referendum votes on acceptance or rejection of the wage cut will be tabulated and announced, as planned; but since the national agreement, in behalf of which the votes were ordered, has been extended indefinitely, possibility of ordering an immediate strike is passed.

VOTE TO REJECT CUT.

The shop crafts and the sheet metal workers have voted to reject the wage slash and these two unions alone comprise more than half of all railway workers. But at the railway labor board is was insisted that reports of this action had not influenced the board in its decision to extend the national agreements; it was explained that the extension was made necessary because a majority of the roads had not come to terms with their men and that the board had itself been too pressed with work to assist in individual cases in furthering compromise agreements.

Tracy Men Pay for Blocking Firemen

TRACY, June 29. — Homer J. Cash and Warren Shaw, arrested on a charge of obstructing firemen in discharge of their duty, were fined $5 each by Justice McLean, upon pleading guilty. J. P. Winkler, arrested on a similar charge, sworn to by Fire Chief C. E. Hudson, pleaded not guilty and declared he would fight the case. His trial will be held today. The three weer accused of blocking a fire hydrant with their machines and refusing to move when the firemen arrived in response to an alarm.

Autoists Are Fined by Justice At S. J.

SAN JOSE, June 29.—H. R. Hurst, charged before Justice of the Peace U. A. Sontheimer with reckless driving on the Stevens creek road, as a result of which he overturned another automobile, injuring two, entered a plea of guilty yesterday afternoon and was fined $50. F. P. Rapp was fined $25 by Justice C. L. Witten when he pleaded guilty to driving his auto over the Los Gatos-Santa Cruz highway while under construction.

LESSON THREE

White Sauces for Creaming Fresh Vegetables

HAVEN'T you often noticed how the addition of a white sauce transforms a plain dish into a toothsome delicacy? Such sauces provide wholesome variety for your table. The very next time you are puzzling what to have for a change, think of these white sauce recipes. Then with whatever vegetable you have handy, and a can of Carnation on the pantry shelf you may have a dish fit for the finest American family.

Table for Making White Sauces

	Carnation Milk	Flour or	Cornstarch	Fat
Thin	1 cup	1 tbsp.	½ tbsp.	1 tbsp.
Medium	1 cup	2 tbsp.	1 tbsp.	1 tbsp.
Thick	1 cup	4 tbsp.	2 tbsp.	3 tbsp.
Very thick	1 cup	6 tbsp.	3 tbsp.	2 tbsp.

Seasoning—Salt and pepper to taste.

Use a thin sauce for creaming vegetables and making cream soups; a medium sauce for meats, gravies, puddings, casserole, and scalloped dishes; thick sauce for croquettes, and very thick for souffles.

It is best to decide what kind of a white sauce is needed for the dish you are planning, then follow the table carefully for good results.

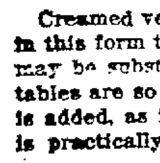
White sauces have a finer flavor when made with Carnation Milk.

This pure cows' milk, which is evaporated at Gustine, California, in the largest condensery on the Pacific Coast, is twice as rich as ordinary milk, because part of the water has been removed, but nothing else.

French Method for White Sauce

Melt the butter, add flour, being careful to have it smooth. Add milk, stirring constantly to prevent lumping and burning. Cook until mixture has thoroughly boiled. Add salt and pepper.

Creamed vegetables are very practical. For in this form they are a well-balanced food and may be substituted for meat at times. Vegetables are so necessary a food, and when milk is added, as in white sauces, their food value is practically doubled. And they're so good. The most finicky appetite will yield to the temptation of an inviting creamed dish.



Fresh vegetables are especially delicious creamed, but you may serve canned vegetables this way, too, when the green foods are out of season.

Should the water in which vegetables are cooked be saved?—Mrs. J. M.

Some people thoughtlessly pour this down the drain, never realizing they are losing the delicious juices of the food. In cooking fresh vegetables, boil in only a little water, and let them simmer down to a couple spoonfuls of water. In this way, the juices are absorbed again into the vegetables, and flavor and food value are not lost. Some vegetables are extra juicy, as spinach. The water in which such vegetables are cooked may be drained and saved for soups. I will tell you how to use this in soups in Lesson Ten.

In the case of canned vegetables, some people think it best to drain off the juice and rinse with clear, cold water, to avoid any danger from metallic action. But with the scientific methods of canning now in vogue, many people think it safe to use this juice.

Will you give a time schedule for cooking vegetables?—Mrs. R. K. M.

Many of us cook by the "guess and know" method, but young housekeepers often find it useful to have exact directions. It helps them to plan ahead. This table includes the most common vegetables: Potatoes, 20 to 30 minutes; asparagus, 20 to 25 minutes; peas, 20 to 25 minutes; string beans, 35 to 45 minutes; lima beans, 30 to 40 minutes; spinach, 15 to 20 minutes; turnips, 30 minutes; cauliflower, 20 to 30 minutes; Brussels sprouts, 30 to 40 minutes; onions, 30 to 40 minutes; parsnips, 30 to 40 minutes; green corn, 15 to 20 minutes.

Will you suggest some foods in which white sauces can be used?—Mrs. C. D. K.

With most vegetables, in many combination meat and fish dishes, such as croquettes, loaves, souffles, etc. I will take up meats and fish later in the lessons, as these are rather heavy for summer cooking.

DECISION ON KING TAX CONTROVERSY EXPECTED SOON

Attorney-General Opposes Offer of Railways to Compromise With State.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Judges W. W. Morrow, Frank S. Deitrick of Boise and Maurice T. Dooling have taken under advisement the case of the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific railroads, which, through their attorneys, yesterday presented arguments in defense of their application for an interlocutory injunction against the operation of the King tax law.

The judges sat under a special act of Congress providing for cases of this kind. Attorney-General U. S. Webb appeared before the judges to argue against the railroads' point of view.

The constitutionality of the King law was attacked by the Santa Fe counsel. The law provides for an increase in the taxes of steam railroads and other public utilities from 5¼ to 7 per cent of their gross receipts. That this rate is much greater than that demanded of property in general was the contention of the Santa Fe attorneys.

An offer was made by the railroads to pay $5,000,000 to the state on the basis of the former 5¼ per cent rate and to give bonds for the remainder of the taxes to be assessed against them, until the legality of the King tax bill is established. In reply to this suggestion, Attorney-General Webb declared that such payment could not be legally accepted by any state official.

DECISION IS AWAITED

The decision of the federal court is being eagerly awaited, as the King bill is already recognized as an issue of the next campaign for the governorship.

The railroads, in this fight, are said to have the moral support of the banks and public utilities corporations of the state. They are making an effort to enjoin the State Board of Equalization from delivering a certification of the new tax rate to the State Controller, and also to enjoin the State Controller from compiling and publishing notice of the assessment roll for which the King tax law provides. Definite action must be taken before the first Monday in July.

TAX DECLARED FAIR

Affidavits by Controller John S. Chambers, R. E. Collins, chairman and M. D. Lack, secretary of the Board of Equalization and Clyde L. Seavey, former member of the State Board of Control, who directed the fight to put over the King measure, were submitted. According to these affidavits, the 7 per cent tax is fair and as nearly equal to the general property tax as it is possible for it to be made.

The Southern Pacific was represented by Henley C. Booth and Guy Shoup. The Southern Pacific was represented by E. W. Camp. Both roads were represented b yformer Supreme Court Justice M. C. Sloss, who acted in the capacity of general counsel.

Webb, in championing the cause of the King bill, was aided by Deputy Attorney-Generals Robert Harrison and Frank L. Guerena. He expressed vigorous opposition to the idea of a compromise, as suggested by Sloss. He declared, in part: "To grant an injunction would be to irreparably injure the state. If the injunction is not granted, no injury whatever will be done the corporations that are the plaintiffs.

'BLACK SOX' CASE GOES OVER UNTIL AFTER JULY 4

Fight to Throw Out Indictments Against Defendants Fails in Court.

CHICAGO, June 29.—A desperate battle to throw out the indictments against ball players and gamblers charged with the baseball scandal of 1919, marked the opening of the "scandal" trial before Judge Hugo Friend today.

Attorneys for the accused men created a sensation when they declared the indictments were based on a breach of contract allegation, which should be tried in a civil court. Attorneys attacked the bribery charges, declaring the players could not "bribe themselves."

The arguments were made by Attorneys Michael Ahern and Harry Berger. They also attacked the prosecution brought by the White Sox management, on the ground that the players' contracts had expired prior to the world's series games.

The state was prepared to refute all these arguments later in the day. The trial of Ben Franklin, the St Louis defendant, was continued until September, when investigators reported him very ill.

Carl Zork, called the "second ringleader," lost his fight for a continuation and appeared in court today. Other defendants present were "Eddie" Cicotte, "Buck" Weaver, "Chick" Gandil, "Swede" Risberg, "Happy" Felsch, "Lefty" Williams, "Joe" Jackson, Ben Levi, Joseph Levi and David Zelzer.

Judge Friend's only ruling at today's hearing was against the defense. He "allowed" the defendants to plead "not guilty." The case was then postponed until next Tuesday to prevent "locking up" the jury over July 4.

HARDING'S KINSMAN BURIED.

SPOKANE, June 29 — Funeral services for John E. Bennett, declared to be a second cousin of President Harding and a boyhood playmate of the President's father in Ohio, were held today. Bennett died at his home yesterday at the age of 77 years. Burial will be at Crestline, O.

GIOLITTI DECLARES.

ROME, June 29.—Former Premier Giolitti, whose cabinet resigned on Monday, today refused the request of King Victor Emmanuel that he attempt the formation of a new ministry.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN

In Concord yesterday afternoon there occurred one of the most important weddings of the season at the country home of Mrs. A. W. Maltby, when her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Maltby, became the bride of E. Walton Hedges. The service was read at 5 o'clock by Bishop William Ford Nichols of the Episcopal diocese of San Francisco. At one end of the drawing room was erected an improvised altar banked with azaleas, orchids, Irish Elegance roses and delphinium, the whole presenting a beautiful scene with the glow of hundreds of candles placed on the altar and about the room. Randolph Maltby, brother of the bride, gave her into the keeping of the bridegroom, while in the bridal entourage were Miss Caroline Maltby and the Misses Lorinne Kinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kinney, and Miss Margaret Whitman.

Miss Kinney was maid of honor and wore a frock of pale blue taffeta trimmed in rare lace with a picture hat of lace, the crown encircled with a great wreath of flowers. Her shower bouquet was of pansies tied with pale blue tulle and satin streamers.

The two bridesmaids, Miss Maltby and Miss Whitman, wore frocks of organdy in the pastel shades made over shimmering satin. Picture hats of white lace adorned with organdy flowers and shower bouquets of the summer bloom completed the picture.

The bride's grown was elaborately designed in crystal beads and of heavy white satin. A wreath of orange blossoms held to the coiffure a bridal veil of Carrick-macross lace. Orchids and lilies of the valley made up the shower bouquet.

Irving Woodward was best man.

The al fresco wedding supper was served beneath one of the huge arbors that entrance the spacious grounds of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedges are now on their honeymoon, which will be a motor trip through the northern country with Lake Louise their final destination. When they return they will make their home in a new bungalow on the estate of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Leila Butler Stoddard of Claremont.

Hedges is a son of Mrs Leila Butler Stoddard and a nephew of Mrs Butler Breeden of Burlingame. His grandfather was the late Edward Butler of San Francisco.

Youth Becomes Lost; Found in Sierras

CHICO, June 29.—When the parents of 12-year-old Freddie Comstock of Santa Rosa left him to swim at the Big Bend swimming hole, one mile above Chico, and went on up to the auto camp Sunday evening, they failed to realize the distance between the two points. After Freddie got through with his swim he started for the camp, two miles distant, but got lost in the darkness and wandered into the wilds of the Sierra Nevadas, where he was found by Deputy Constable Harry Guerin and Fireman Dan Holland after an all-night sarch by police and fire department.

Truck Tracks a Clew to Theft of Beehives

MANTECA, June 29.—Some queer thefts have been reported here of late, but none approaches in freakiness the purloining of three hives of active, buzzing bees from the ranch of C. Evans, who has just reported his loss to the officers.

During his absence — between 1 and 3 in the afternoon—two men with a truck, as the tracks indicate, drove up to his home, loaded on the hives and departed with their humming loot.

WITH GRAINS OF SALT.

Resolutions have been adopted by the National Chamber of Commerce of Japan in which it is declared that "The League of Nations is established and armament restriction is important. Among the powers Japan, which always has loved justice, humanity and peace, should reach a proper agreement with the powers regarding disarmament and should employ every energy for the promotion of industry by safeguarding international peace This is the urgent need of Japan at this moment."

A few days before this news was permitted to be sent out, Tokyo made another announcement to the effect that the government was determined to economize in military and naval expenditures, and then gave details to show that a reduction in annual appropriations of $1,600,000 was planned. This sum is not sufficient to provide ammunition for a half-day's target practice of six battleships, but the Tokyo propagandists thought it might be impressive nevertheless. Similar gestures to make the world believe that Japan is not militaristically inclined are made almost daily now.

In doing the bidding of its government, the Japan chamber of commerce has adopted ridiculous phrases in describing Japan's alleged virtues. "Japan always has loved justice, humanity and peace," it says. When did Japan love these virtues except for herself and her own advantage?

What of the record as to Shantung, as to Korea? Justice and humanity suffered severely there, and at Japan's hands. What of the record as to the military occupation of Vladivostok, the seizure of Saghalien and of Nicolaievsk? What of the record of her dealings with China, especially with reference to the notorious twenty-one demands?

It is not a pleasant situation in which the people of one nation must distrust most of what is said by the government and people of another nation. But unfortunately this is now the case with reference to Japan. The palaver of her chambers of commerce, of her politicians and officials of lower rank about restrictions of armament cannot be taken seriously, unless they are interpreted as efforts to mislead and deceive

The military leaders and the foreign office at Tokyo suffer no interference from the business men or the political leaders of the impotent parliament. They go about their business, executing the plans of the Elder Statesmen, the inner council that is the real Japanese government. No parliamentary act in Japan is a law until it is promulgated by the emperor, as Mr William J. Bryan once learned when he was falsely informed by the Japanese embassy at Washington that a Japanese law had been passed which permitted aliens to own land in Japan

With so many pledges of the past unfulfilled it will be mighty difficult and dangerous to place complete confidence in any new undertakings of the Japanese government: certainly no one should be seriously influenced by the resolutions of commercial bodies and the utterance of parliamentarians in Tokyo.

A CITY'S BIRTHDAY.

San Francisco is to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the raising of the Stars and Stripes in the public plaza, now known as Portsmouth square. The city has grown much since then, and on the diamond jubilee there are many things to recount with pride, honor and gratification. All California may well be interested in the observance. For the growth of San Francisco is symptomatic of the progress of the State

But, while it is always fitting and delightful to look back over past decades and note the achievements they have brought, we wonder if any one will speak of the failures and omissions of the last seventy five years. Who will dwell upon the theme of what might have been accomplished had a different course been followed here and there?

If retrospection is beneficial, it is chiefly due to analyzing mistakes. The successes take care of themselves. But the experiments that went wrong, the neglect that meant loss and delay, are red warning signals for the present and future. It is sad but true that American cities are what they are today because of the mistakes and neglect of their early history. Most cities have just grown up, careless like, without any comprehensive plan of development and embellishment. In an age of intelligence and reason, they have evolved without the aid of intelligent motivization.

San Francisco plans to make a gala affair out of its diamond jubilee. It is to be a joyous occasion. There will be speech making and stirring tales of prowess and touching reminiscences. But the opportunity will be badly used if some one does not sing of what might have been.

TO STUDY BRIDGE PROBLEMS.

Two distinguished bridge engineers have arrived in the bay district from the East to inspect the proposition of a bridge to connect San Francisco and the Eastbay shore. They are men who have accomplished big things in their profession and deserve well the confidence of their fellow citizens.

The demand for a bridge and other improvements in transportation facilities has become insistent. It is a demand that will never cease entirely until it is satisfied. The present movement, originated and supported in the main by the automobile association, is determined to achieve some degree of practical success or know the reason why. It has therefore done the wise and practical thing in obtaining the service of experts in bridge planning and building to analyze the local problem.

Messrs. Modjeski and Davies will unquestionably contribute much enlightening information to the present discussions. They will point the way to practical procedure and from their opinions an approximation of the cost of the project will be possible. It is necessary that a foundation of facts and knowledge be laid from which such additional steps as may be possible in the actual construction of a bridge may be taken.

DISCIPLINE IN THE NAVY.

Secretary of the Navy Denby is determined that there shall be no soviet experiments to undermine discipline in the American navy if he can prevent it. He has relieved two officers of their sea commands because they showed an inclination to adopt communist modes. In this connection it is to be noted that Mr. Denby has served in the navy and the Marine Corps, both as an enlisted man and as an officer, and has been a member of the House of Representatives. He is to be credited with knowing conditions in the service and to possess definite and carefully considered ideas about the fundamental considerations of an efficient fighting force.

These officers to whom Mr. Denby has given some attention undertook to permit crews to vote in one case on questions of discipline and in the other as to where the ship should go. One of the officers is Captain Clark D. Stearns, who has been detached from his command of the battleship Michigan for permitting a committee of enlisted men to pass upon disciplinary measures among members of the crew. Secretary Denby takes the only sound and tenable view that maintenance of discipline must be exercised entirely by the commanding officer of a vessel.

Since his removal, Captain Stearns has reported to the Navy Department that he had put the soviet practices into effect on a vessel he commanded prior to being given command of the Michigan and that they then had the approval of Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Mr. Denby's predecessor. This fact should be noted by those who have claimed that the Harding administration was carrying out all the policies of the Wilson administration.

Senator La Follette, as was to be expected, is troubled by Mr Denby's action in removing the offending officers. He has introduced a resolution demanding an investigation by the Senate of the case of Captain Stearns. But sovietism in the Navy has been stopped and Mr La Follette's resolution will only emphasize the wisdom of Mr. Denby's forehandedness.

Bravo! The State railroad commission has indicated its recognition of the end of war-time conditions by discontinuing the office of power administrator, created in June, 1918. It only required two and a half years to reach a decision that the administrator was no longer necessary, but some emergency war jobs are still occupied by salaried patriots.

ALASKA.

Alaska is a "forgotten empire" awaiting only an opportunity to develop, we are told by Scott C. Bone, newly appointed governor of the northern territory, who believes that what is needed is a revival of the "pioneer spirit"

The industries and population of Alaska suffered a severe setback during the war A large number of men left to join the army and the labor shortage that resulted not only handicapped existing establishments but suspended the growth of new undertakings. The volume of the Territory's products has decreased considerably since 1917. The number of inhabitants, expanded by the gold rush, in 1910 reached 64,000; but in more recent years the population has been on the decline It has dropped to about 30,000 in 1918, but is reported to have recovered slightly in the last two years Fishing is the chief industry of the Territory, copper mining ranking second Agriculture, especially the planting of Siberian wheat, has been a growing occupation Gold production has fallen from $29,411,000 in value in 1909 to $9,480,000 in 1918 Tin, lead, petroleum and coal deposits have been little developed. Fur also is a valuable product

Mr. Bone points to one of the vital administrative problems when he mentions the need for simplifying the Federal agencies in Alaska, a plan that has the support of President Harding The forestry is supervised by seven departments, the fish canneries by three, and there are thirty-eight government agencies administering affairs in the Territory. It is proposed to consolidate many of these offices.

Alaska, given greater transportation facilities and a more efficient government, may yet justify the predictions of Mr. Bone.—New York Sun.

NOTES and COMMENT

The great international fight that has been so considerably projected seems very likely to come off. The Governor of New Jersey wouldn't stop it if he could, and the Secretary of State couldn't stop it if he would So those who have been worrying about the impropriety of it, and have been busying themselves to have somebody do something, may as well let it go at that.

The story of the boy who had nothing to eat and nowhere to go spending his last few cents for firecrackers is characteristic of youth and the season. The grown-up who cannot remember the era when he would rather participate in a fireworks orgy than eat was not entirely normal in his youth.

This is the season of rodeos. A custom that was a part of the industry of the grazing States when they were new has become adapted to celebrations, and perpetuate scenes and memories of the Wild West, which has now disappeared Perhaps too soon this vigorous reminder of other days will be "civilized" out of these great regions which were so little known two generations ago

The North Beach Promotion Association has pronounced the blood test to determine paternity "a disgrace" The blood test may not be as definite in this respect as could be wished, but it is turning it on in full strength to say it is a "disgrace" The other doctors have not felt called upon as yet to put it that way.

The new Federal prohibition agent of San Francisco is already apparent. He has questioned the right of the United States Commissioner to order him to return liquors that have been seized. He says that only a Federal court order can do that Evidently the new official is not taking things for granted.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TACTICS.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

In reading your editorial tonight regarding Southern Pacific tactics I was wondering if you had noticed their performance on the western waterfront in the matter of the new vehicle ferry service

The noteworthy point is that they allowed the long-suffering public to endure the creek route service until some one else proposed putting in a more adequate service At once they suspended all other work to release any equipment that might be used to perform a coupe.

I am not interested in any way financially in the Six Minute Company, but have been attracted to this little play as good and well exemplifying the character you attribute to the railroad corporation They even built their sign announcing the installation in such position as to obscure from view the one built by the other company at the end of long wharf.

JAZZ MAGNIFIED.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

A sickle moon hung in the western dusk, dim giant forms of eucalyptus screening against the lights of the city and quiet over the surface of Lake Merritt until——

Blatting and braying and roaring and thudding and coughing fills up the spaces of the night in jazz from the magnavox, municipally operated!

Heat-driven from their homes and the regular places of evening amusement, the people go down to Lake Merritt seeking quiet and a breath of air from over the salt tides, hoping to see the stars and speculate as to whether they will ever sing together again, and then—

Moaning and shrieking and drumming and screeching and howling—jazz made more so by the genius behind the magnavox, leaving nothing of the night except cursings.

Lake Merritt, a jewel of Providence in the gypsy setting of the city, improved (?) by jazz after the glare and the heat of the day have gone by!

The magnavox Oakland created of the old Homeric dream stuff of gods thundering from mountain to mountain in speech and music, is a thing to be detested through the perverse thinking of employees of the municipal boathouse.

Jazz originated in Africa and there is no doubt it was first used to stimulate old cannibals into further nefarious activities after they had grown stupied with overeating It came by way of the voodoo temples of Haiti and Cuba into the United States along with that other tropical scourge, the hookworm, the one as serious a disease as the other

Lake Merritt and the magnavox and jazz are not for each other. The lake no more needs jazz than Mount Shasta needs "improving" As well "put a punch" into every mile of California beach by erecting hurdy-gurdies and roller coasters and peanut roasters.

If jazz phonograph records have any place round Lake Merritt let their place be in the lake and deep in the mud.

There are probably music lovers in Oakland who will replace the jazz, record for record, with music that is music, that will make useful and splendid the marvelous invention and that will float as music across the waters of the lake.

About YOUR HEALTH

Just What Happens in Mitral Valve Insufficiency

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Every one has a fear of heart disease. Of course this is a foolish fear, but, for that matter, every fear is a foolish fear. So many heart disturbances are purely functional that you need not worry over heart disease unless your doctor warns you of danger

We speak of "functional" disease when we mean that action is not good. The heart is entirely normal in its structure, all the parts are there, but it does not run smoothly.

In organic disease there is destruction or rupture of one or more parts In organic heart disease the valves may be broken or so diseased that proper action is impossible.

The most common form of organic heart disease is called "mitral valve insufficiency" About one-half of all the diseases of the heart take this form

To understand what this is we must understand just what the mitral valve is and does

The mitral valve prevents the blood returning backward when the heart contracts It shuts off the stairway leading to the upper room of the heart, so that the force of the heart contraction pushes the blood out into the body to do its important work.

If something happens to this valve much of the heart's force is wasted Then nature must find a way to assist the weakened heart in this vital function of circulation. To this end the constant efforts of the heart are rewarded, and the muscular walls of this portion of the organ become thick and strong This condition is called "compensation"

The most common cause for mitral insufficiency is rheumatism. Sometimes hardening of the arteries may be a factor

Young persons from 20 to 30 years of age are most frequently the victims of this form of heart disease.

The paleness of the face gives evidence of mitral insufficiency. The ears and lips are blue or dusky

Until compensation is established breathing may be difficult. The forcing of the blood back to the upstairs room of the heart interferes with the admission into this space of the blood returning from the lungs after purification there Therefore, there is congestion of the lungs and a short, hacking cough. Sometimes the patient coughs up frothy mucus

When compensation is established these symptoms disappear, only to return if the compensation is "broke" This is apt to occur if the patient neglects the rules of simple living Then all the original symptoms recur Difficult breathing, cough, stomach and intestinal disorder, swelling of the feet, and, less commonly, pain Abnormal sounds, or murmurs, are heard on examination of the heart.

Absolute rest is essential until compensation occurs. The patient should go to bed, and, to relieve the breathing, may need to be propped up in bed.

Mental poise, avoidance of emotion, and the quietest of lives are necessary When compensation is established the patient may return to his former life.

The family doctor will prescribe remedies for the relief of symptoms as they appear.

LOCAL DRY ORDINANCE TO BECOME LAW

Commissioner Baccus Takes Exception to Edwards' Overruling of His Demand for a Reconsideration of New Act

The Grant ordinance, supplementing the Volstead act by a local statute of similar nature and giving the city the power to pocket all the fines collected, was given third and final passage this morning by the City Council and becomes law in eight days.

Commissioner Baccus, who fought it, moved to reconsider. Chairman Edwards overruled him. Baccus appealed from the decision and the Council overruled him. Baccus asserted that on July 6 he would bring the matter up with a Council and city attorney who would not be so prone to overrule him. The Mayor was absent today.

Baccus at first, seeing that the Council was unanimous, changed his vote from no to yes, then moved for reconsideration.

"Your change of vote is very commendable," said Commissioner Edwards, acting mayor, "but to reconsider is out of order."

"How?" asked Baccus.

"You are violating charter rules."

"Am I?" retorted Baccus. "Well, do you remember several months ago when the matter of firemen's salaries was passed by the Council and you moved to reconsider and tied up the whole thing?"

IT WAS DIFFERENT THEN

"That was different," said Edwards. "You are out of order."

"You're inconsistent. I appeal from the decision of the chair."

"If you remember," said Soderberg, "Edwards' appeal to reconsider was at a second reading, not at final passage. This is a matter of final passage. How about that, Mr. City Attorney?"

"I cannot comment offhand," said Hagan.

"The measure is passed and is now a law," ruled Edwards.

"The ruling is correct," said Soderberg.

"I appeal from the decision of the chair," said Baccus.

Edwards, Morse and Soderberg thereupon voted him down immediately.

As a preamble to passing the ordinance, which was done in the presence of a large number of churchwomen, Commissioner Soderberg commented on the tendency to "lay things over till the new administration."

"I understood final passage was to come after July 1," he said, "to give Colbourn and Carter part of the credit for passing this ordinance."

CLIMAX IN CAREER

Commissioner Morse, who originally introduced the ordinance, said it was the climax of his public career.

"Insinuations have been made that I was not sincere," he said. "The impression has been made that I launched this thing to embarrass the incoming administration. This is not so. I will consider final passage of this ordinance as the very measure to complete my work. I have had obstacles. I have not had the support of the mayor or the civil service board, but through all handicaps I have worked for the best interest of the city. This measure is a climax.

"There is an impression that this council is on record for a $2.44 tax rate. The present measure will bring to the city revenues of not less than $150,000 a year, or ten cents on the tax rate, without increasing the city's police activities."

The Grant ordinance is practically a copy of the Volstead act but it gives the city complete power of enforcement and diverts the money collected into the city, and not the federal treasury. Morse said today that in the last year he has stood by and seen $75,000 go into the federal treasury through Oakland arrests.

SAYS WING NOT NEEDED.

Morse also delivered to the council an answer to the protest of E. L. Hubbard against the suspension of Dr. C. C. Wing, city veterinarian, and the proposed abolition of the veterinarian's job.

"The inspection of milk and dairy projects should be entrusted only to qualified experts, but it cannot be argued that only veterinarians are eligible. We have a market and food inspector already. The employment of a veterinarian on this job of milk inspection is a duplication of effort. He is not needed."

The matter was filed without comment.

Of six bids for auditorium concessions for the coming year, F. H. Snyder was awarded the contract for the coming year. Commissioner Soderberg announced that the city's income from these concessions was [illegible] last year and may be higher this year.

A protest against the erection of a garage at Fourth avenue and East Eighteenth street was overruled, and the owner, T. H. Mullen, was allowed to proceed.

Concerning complaints against the whistles of Key Route trains which disturb certain West Oakland slumbers, Commissioner Morse said that nothing can be done. The matter was filed.

The sum of $100 was appropriated toward the annual convention of the California Music Teachers' Association at the auditorium, July 5 to 9.

Pigs, Not Blind Ones, Get Gilroy Men in Trouble

SAN JOSE, June 29.—Pigs come high. John A. and Fred M. House, cousins, found that out in unmistakable manner today.

And the worse of it all is, they say, that it wasn't even a blind pig that caused their enlightenment.

John and Fred arrived at the portals of the county jail here late last night from Gilroy. They are here to spend 120 days apiece, having been granted that long a vacation by Justice of the Peace John M. Hoesch of Gilroy, sentence being inflicted on a charge of petit larceny.

The two young men, 24 and 26 years of age, respectively, were nabbed by officers at Gilroy for the theft of one perfectly good pig from Farmer Bodkins, the pig being valued at nigh onto $50. It is rumored, however, that the pig had possibilities of producing several more, which, the judge declared in passing sentence, added to the severity of the crime.

The young men are bemoaning the fact that they pleaded guilty to the theft. They were told that the court would be lenient.

LIGHT SHOWERS REPORTED OVER COAST STATES

Slight showers, unusual for June in many localities, fell in the coast states today and are expected by the United States Weather Bureau to continue tonight and tomorrow.

Last year traces of rain fell here in June, the first precipitation in that month since 1914. In June, 1912, 1.28 inches fell in Central California, and in June, 1884, 2.05 inches were recorded.

The temperature here yesterday was recorded at 64 degrees, while throughout the east and south it was much higher, in some places as high as 94 degrees in the northeastern part of the country.

Conditions are favorable for unsettled weather, according to the weather bureau.

BELATED BRAWLS BY BEDLESS BOYS BANNED BY BLACK

SAN JOSE, June 29.—As a result of continued protests and complaints filed with his office by residents in apartment houses and hotels, Chief of Police J. N. Black this morning issued orders to the members of his department to place under arrest any young men or others found making loud and boisterous noises late at night in downtown streets, at the same time issuing a warning to residents of the community, particularly young men, that they must respect the rights of others to quietude at night.

Scores of complaints have been filed with the chief from apartment house residents in South First street, where, it is said, many "loungers" gather after midnight in front of "open all night" restaurants, talking, laughing, singing and sometimes fighting and cursing in such a manner that people sleeping in the apartments and hotels nearby are constantly kept awake.

"The streets of San Jose are not to be considered loafing places," stated Black in his warning. "There are proper hours and places for everything."

WILSON ADMITTED TO PRACTICE LAW IN N. Y. COURTS

NEW YORK, June 29.—Former President Woodrow Wilson today was admitted as a practicing attorney and counsellor at law in the courts of the state of New York.

Wilson was not present in person, but was admitted on motion of former United States Senator James A. O'Gorman. All the justices of the court were present out of respect to the former President, although ordinarily only five members sit at a time.

Wilson was admitted in the District of Columbia courts last Saturday. He will enter a partnership with former Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby.

WIFE TRIED FOR PERJURY WAITS VOTE

Verdict Expected Before This Evening in Case of Mrs. Helen Brennan, Who Was Robber Husband's Witness

The jury in the trial of Mrs. Helen Brennan, charged with perjuring herself in the trial of her husband, convicted of robbery, began deliberating over her fate this afternoon.

Loyal to the last to her husband. Leo Brennan, shown to have participated in the robbery of the home of Joseph F. Carlston, president of the Central National bank, Mrs. Brennan declared he had returned home during the night and told her he had been attending prize fights in San Francisco, though other testimony declared he was at the Carlston home until 5 o'clock in the morning.

Deputy District Attorney Frank M. Shay opened the argument for the prosecution. He declared he "sympathized deeply with the little woman waiting for the determination of her fate," but insisted that the jurors put aside all sympathy and convict her because it had been shown she testified falsely. He said her offense was even more serious than the one of which her husband had been convicted.

Attorneys Frank Carr and Stanley Sterne, representing the defense, pictured Mrs. Brennan as a brave, devoted wife who had believed her husband in what he told her on his return home and pleaded with the jurors to avert the destiny that faces her is she is convicted.

Assistant District Attorney John U. Calkins presented the closing argument, arraigning Mrs. Brennan as a woman dangerous to society and declaring she should be punished in order to uphold the sanctity of the oath and the American system of justice.

Superior Judge George Samuels gave the instructions to the jury following the close of Calkins' argument. It is expected a verdict will be rendered before night.

Dry Law Net Sends Three Before Hardie

Tony Ravazza, who was arrested for transporting two barrels of wine from Richmond to this city, was arraigned this morning before United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie on a charge of violating the national prohibition act. He was released on the deposit of $500 bail. His hearing will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Joe and Constance Grazella, both charged with selling liquor in the Lombardo hotel, Richmond, were held to answer to the charge in the United States District Court by Commissioner Hardie. The officer seized fifty gallons of wine and one gallon of jackass brandy which was stored in one of the rooms in the hotel.

County Uses Poison in War On Squirrels

MERCED, June 29.—The greatest squirrel-poisoning campaign ever attempted in this county is now under full swing. During the last fourteen days more poison was put out than ever before in anything like that length of time. Two mounted crews are busy. The work is reported meeting with hearty approval of ranchers on all sides. All the large ranch owners are lending their support. In the Le Grand district 90,000 acres have been signed up for July 1.

31 Modesto Truck Drivers Arrested

MODESTO, June 29.—Finding the truck drivers paying no attention to the city ordinance requiring them to take out licenses, City Clerk L. A. Love caused the arrest of 31 on the opening day of his campaign to compel them to procure the necessary permit. Arrests of others will follow, it is announced. The cost of a license ranges from $20 to $30 a year. About $12000 has already been collected.

SELECTING KABER JURY.

CLEVELAND, June 29.—Nine jurors, four women and five men, had been tentatively accepted in the case of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, on trial for the murder of his husband, Daniel F. Kaber, when court recessed at 3 p. m. Only eight prospective jurors remained to be examined before the venire is exhausted.

COAL BILL RECOMMITTED.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The Senate this afternoon by a vote of 38 to 26, recommitted the Frelinghuysen seasonal coal rate bill to the Senate interstate commerce committee. The bill provides for the establishment of lower freight rates on coal during the summer months to promote buying

NEWKIRK IS GIVEN POST IN BERKELEY

Former Councilman to Be the New Sanitary Engineer, to Have Charge of Installing of Municipal Collection Work

C. C. Newkirk

BERKELEY, June 29.—The $60,000 a year which Berkeley is now paying to private parties for the collection of its garbage will be relayed into municipal channels, according to plans set in motion by the city council whereby the city will take care of its own refuse problem.

Ten thousand tons of garbage a year are collected in Berkeley at the present time, according to City Attorney Frank V. Cornish, who prepared the legal steps incident to the preliminary plans for inaugurating municipal collection. Berkeley garbage men refuse to disclose actual receipts but admit $50,000 in collections each year, declares Cornish. That the actual figure is $10,000 in excess of that sum is Cornish's statement.

Just what plan of garbage collection and disposal will be used by the college city will be determined in the month's investigations to be inaugurated by former Councilman Charles C. Newkirk, who will be Berkeley's new sanitary engineer at a salary of $5000 a year. A survey of collection and disposal systems in various California cities will be made by Newkirk, who is expected to make a definite report in a month's time.

RATE MAY BE CUT.

Expenses incident to the collection and disposal of garbage at the present time total, roughly, $35,000, leaving $25,000 profit, according to city officials. Auto trucks and other equipment needed in garbage collection can be bought each year with the surplus funds coming into the city treasury over actual operating expenses, according to the city officials. With equipment purchased and other expenses met, a cut in garbage rates can be looked for in a few years' time, say the city fathers.

Garbage will be collected municipally at the same rates as those now charged privately, according to a statement of Mayor Louis Bartlett in announcing plans for the new city venture.

"Instead of becoming a burden on the city, municipal garbage collection will afford a solution of a vexing problem," said the mayor. "Receipts will cover all actual operating expenses in addition to purchasing necessary equipment. A cut in rates will be only a matter of time when the system is completely installed."

VEXED PROBLEM.

For several years adequate garbage collection and disposal system has been a source of worry to Berkeley officials. Members of the Berkeley Affiliated Clubs, composing improvement club representatives from all parts of the city, recently tackled the problem and as a result of their deliberations with the council, the municipal collection scheme was decided upon. Thanks of the council were yesterday extended to the club.

Following a report of the council's action made at last night's meeting of the Affiliated Clubs, the support of that organization was pledged to the council in the new venture.

J. E. Pemberton, head of the club's committee investigating the garbage situation, declared that the support of the city must be made unanimous if the council is to meet with success in its plan. That definite action on the garbage situation was imperative and council's solution of the problem afforded the best way out at the present time was Pemberton's statement. Pemberton's report was endorsed by the club.

Newkirk, who will have charge of handling the garbage problem, is a member of the American Society of Engineers, and a chemical engineer.

Glendale "Blue Law" Advocates Defeated

GLENDALE, June 29.—Proponents of "blue laws" met defeat in the city election held here yesterday, in which fifteen candidates contested for five posts as city trustees. The margin was so narrow, however, that the result was in doubt until the final tabulations were made at 9 o'clock this morning. There were three tickets in the field, liberal, blue, and compromise. The five elected were the choice of the compromise element and were known as a fusion ticket.

Tribune to Offer Opportunity for Oakland Girls to Play in Pictures

Merits of Candidates Will Be Passed Upon by Lew Cody of Screen Fame; Personality Is Needed for Success

First Five Girls Will Be Given Tests Before Camera; Winner Will Have Opportunity to Enter National Contest

LEW CODY, famed as the "greatest lover" and bachelor of the silver screen, is to appear in person at the Oakland T. & D. theater all next week, in assisting The TRIBUNE to select a girl to star with him in his next production. Send your photograph to the Cody Personality Contest Editor, care of The TRIBUNE.

Girls—how many times have you pictured yourselves on the silver screen? How many times have you declared that you would like to become a motion picture actress?

Here is your chance to not only see yourself on the screen but to enter the profession.

Lew Cody, famed as the screen's "greatest lover," and star of numerous New York stage successes, is coming to Oakland seeking new feminine types who screen well, and any Oakland girl may enter the CODY PERSONALITY CONTEST today by simply submitting a picture of herself, together with her name, address and age, and send the same to the OAKLAND TRIBUNE in care of the CODY PERSONALITY CONTEST EDITOR.

Cody will appear in person at the T. and D. theater all next week and will assist a committee picked jointly by the TRIBUNE and the T. and D. theater in selecting the winner from the photographs submitted. And that is not all—besides having a screen test the lucky girl will appear in person on the T. and D. stage with Cody during the last half of next week.

In addition, the TRIBUNE has made arrangements whereby the first five girls chosen will all have tests made before the motion picture camera and the winner selected from that group. After appearing in person with the world famous screen star, the winner will be eligible to enter the nation-wide contest, to be conducted by Cody for a star role in his next screen production.

Will Oakland be represented in that national contest? Send your photograph to the Editor, CODY PERSONALITY CONTEST, in care of the TRIBUNE today. All photographs will be returned. Oakland must have a representative when the final decision is made.

Remember the contest starts today and will end next Wednesday, July 6. The final winner will be announced.

Cody promises nothing. He will not tell individual aspirants that they are future Pickfords, Talmadges or Minters. He will tell them only the truth—that which will be to their own benefit.

Concerning the types of girls who usually screen well, Cody has declared:

"Do not worry because your friends do not say that you look like some big star, because then you could only be a pale and unsatisfying reflection of the original. More to your credit, girls, if you do not resemble anyone but just your own self. And a girl does not necessarily have to be beautiful to enter the profession; but there is one great element that is absolutely essential for success in filmdom—and that is PERSONALITY."

Send your pictures in today.

Dunphy, superintendent of the Chicago-Rock Springs, Wyo., division. The new divisions will be: New York-Chicago, Chicago-Rock Springs and Rock Springs-San Francisco. Salt Lake and Cleveland will be eliminated as division points, he said. The central division will be approximately 1100 miles air line and the others each 800 miles.

ALAMEDAN FALLS HEIR TO CASTLE

Forty Years' Resident of U. S. Comes Into Possession of Baronial Estate in England Through War Deaths

ALAMEDA, June 29. — Forty years a citizen of the United States, with all the responsibilities demanded of democracy, including the necessity of making a living for a family, consisting of a wife and two grown daughters, John H. Culley, formerly of Alameda, received word one day about four months ago that he had fallen heir to an English estate of 3000 acres. Today he is in England, the proprietor of "Coupland Castle" in Northumberland, while his daughters are familiarizing themselves with what custom expects of English heiresses.

Culley came to America, a "younger son," to make his own way. Here he met and married the woman, who today is mistress of his estate. So far as he knew then, there was small likelihood he would succeed to its broad acres. But time and the World War took their toll of lives, until the castle fell to the Right Reverend Monsignor Culley. His death a short time ago brought word to Culley that, as the next in line of succession, he was heir to Coupland castle, built in the days of the robber barons, although modernized to a certain extent by recent owners.

Culley departed almost immediately to claim his inheritance. When he had completed the intricate legal steps necessary he sent for Mrs. Culley and the two daughters, who sailed a few weeks ago to join him.

Mrs. Culley, beyond the age when the glamor of the word "castle" carries a thrill, frankly confessed before leaving, she would rather remain in her own little bungalow at 2014 Central avenue, Alameda, but the daughters were more willing to exchange their "estate" in America for an estate in England.

Mrs. Culley is a sister of Mrs. M. I. Beasley, 1423 Central avenue, Alameda, who denies any desire to travel abroad to visit her sister at her baronial castle.

Aviators Again to Seek Flight Record

EL PASO, Tex., June 29.—Engine trouble caused the abandonment of the trans-continental flight of Aviators David Davis and Eric Springer, who left Riverside, Cal., for Mineola, L. I., Monday, and who were forced to land near here that night. The aviators had intended "hopping off" early today for the east, but instead headed their plane for California. They will attempt the flight again soon, they said.

It is through the respiratory organs that the body is supplied with the necessary oxygen; and when the very air we breathe is surcharged with the deadly carbon-monoxide gas, and the oxygen destroyed, the system becomes strangled and suffocated, and vitality ebbs with each waking and sleeping hour. Hot-water, steam or vapor heating, as compared with the open gas radiator stands for health and longevity.

RODEO ROPERS GIVE EXHIBITION IN HOTEL HERE

Lions Club Entertained by Men Who Will Appear in Livermore Show.

Memories of California's old cow-punching days were brought before members of the Oakland Lions Club at their luncheon today at the Hotel Oakland when several noted fancy ropers who will take part in the Livermore Rodeo July 2, 3 and 4 entertained the guests with a number of stunts with the lariat. The speech of the day, "Getting closer to the Employees," which was to have been made by H. P. Wellman, was postponed.

Leroy Goodrich, president of the club, acting as chairman, appointed a committee to nominate delegates to the Lions' convention here and in San Francisco July 18 to 21. The committee consists of W E Strel, chairman, and A. H Schaad and Everett Dowdle. The committee will report the nominations at next week's meeting.

Joseph Aurreocoechea spoke on the Livermore Rodeo and urged a large attendance from Oakland. He defined the meaning of the word "rodeo," and declared that the proceeds from the event would be used to erect a monument for Livermore men who were killed in action in the world war.

City Advertising, Co-operation Urged

Just like the present day manufacturer prepares, advertises and co-operates with other business men in selling his product to the consumer, just so the citizens of Oakland must prepare, advertise and co-operate in selling the city to the world, A. C. Wheelock, sales expert, declared in his talk today before the Progressive Business Men's Club at its luncheon at the Hotel Oakland

"Oakland cannot be sold to the world until it has been prepared and advertised properly," Wheelock said during the course of his address.

The three things absolutely necessary in life today, Wheelock asserted, were preparation, advertising and co-operation. No business man or manufacturing concern can succeed unless he follows those three tenets of the business world, he said, and there was absolutely no reason why any city, or any individual should succeed unless they, too, undertook to make the preparation, advertising and co-operation, a part of the every day life.

In concluding his talk Wheelock declared that the raisin industry and the fruit canning industry had made more rich men in California than had the discovery of oil or gold.

Harry S. Henion, president of the club, presided.

DRIVER FOR FILM STAR FREED AS ROBBER SUSPECT

SAN JOSE, June 29.—Clifford A. Clark, 27, chauffeur for Anna Mars, 24-year-old Chinese film star of Los Angeles, spent Monday night in the San Benito county jail as a suspect in the series of daring holdups and raids on Japanese ranch houses Monday, but was released yesterday afternoon because of lack of sufficient evidence, according to information received here this morning.

Failure of Japanese berry pickers who were victims of the holdup men to identify Clark, resulted in Sheriff J. J. Croxon of Hollister turning him loose

Outside the jail the negro chauffeur was greeted by the Chinese film star, whose words in behalf of Clark are said to have aided materially in his securing his liberty.

Clark was trailed from San Juan, where the boldest of the series of robberies was perpetrated, to Watsonville, and from there to Santa Cruz by deputy sheriffs, where he was arrested.

The accused man faced the fifteen Japanese held up Monday. Not one of them could identify Clark as the man who made away with nearly $1200 from the panic stricken Japanese

While both Clark and Anna Mars contended that he is the latter's chauffeur, the automobile in which the two were traveling was owned by the driver, registered from Los Angeles.

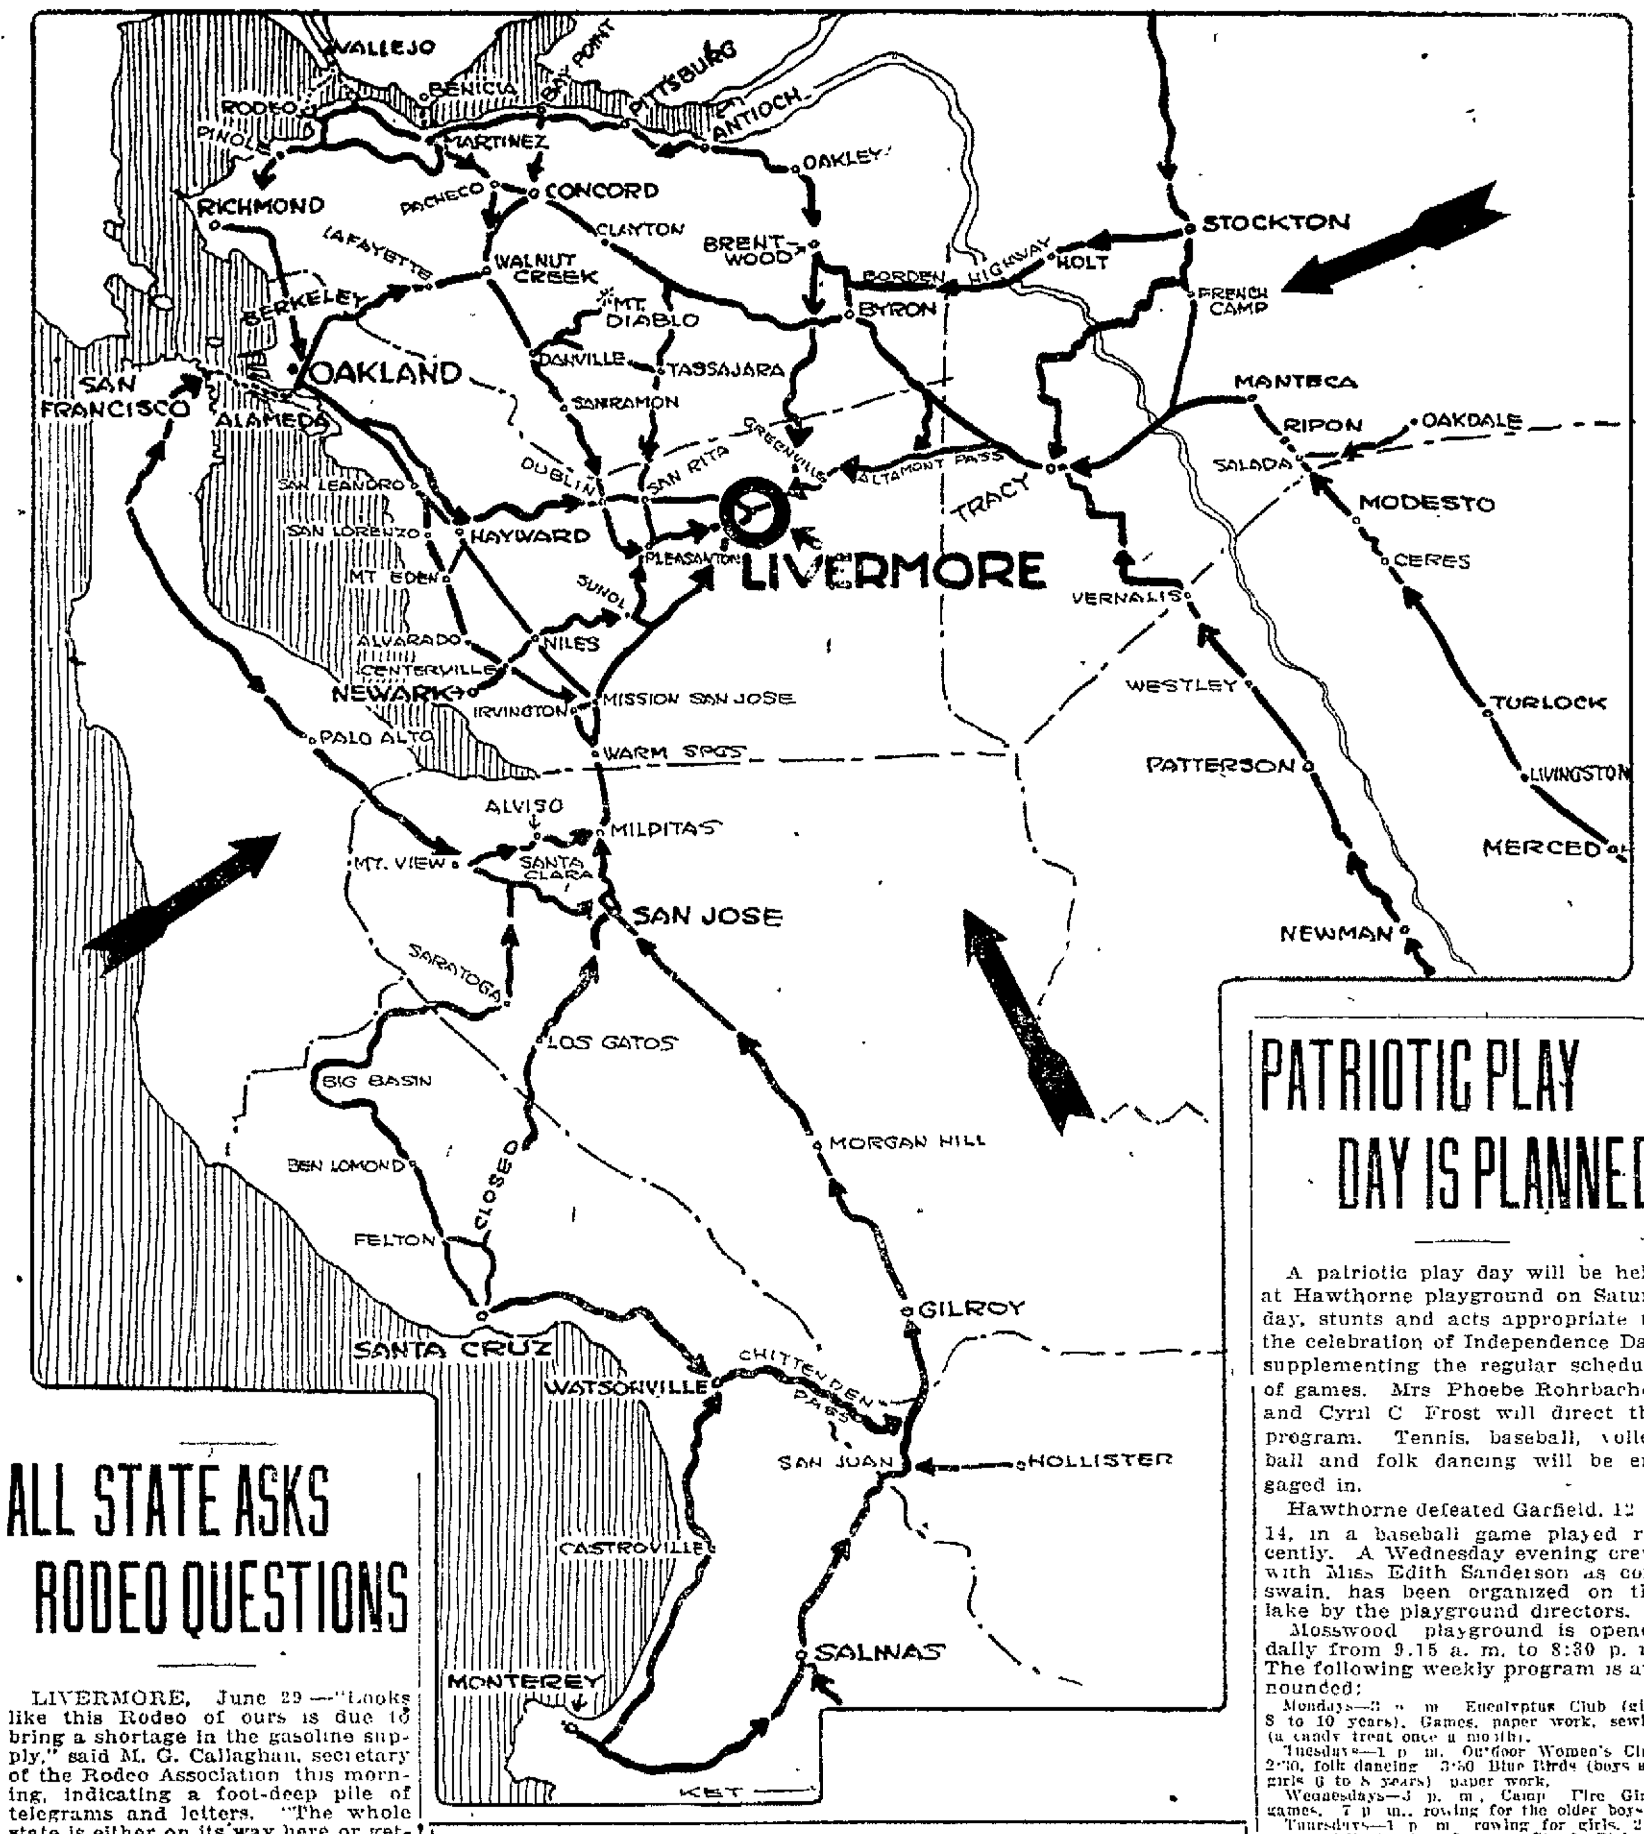
All Roads Lead to the Livermore Rodeo---How to Get There



ALL STATE ASKS RODEO QUESTIONS

LIVERMORE, June 29.—"Looks like this Rodeo of ours is due to bring a shortage in the gasoline supply," said M. G. Callaghan, secretary of the Rodeo Association this morning, indicating a foot-deep pile of telegrams and letters. "The whole state is either on its way here or getting ready to start and most of it is coming by auto."

Room reservations and inquiries as to routes and highway conditions have been pouring in on the Rodeo folks for a week and now the crowd itself has begun to drift in for the big doings, which begin on Saturday. With increased transbay auto ferry service beginning on Sunday, an overflow crowd from the bay cities on the last two days of the big show is considered a certainty.

A ten-acre field adjacent to the Rodeo arena has been set aside as a parking ground and provided with every facility. Skilled traffic officers have been called in from the bay cities to assure protection and prevent congestion, and Chief of Police O'Brien of San Francisco is sending over a flock of plain clothes men, whose acquaintance with the festive pickpocket is wide, to keep gentry of that ilk moving right along through town as fast as they show up.

Although the Rodeo doesn't open until Saturday, one of the best shows ever pulled off in the state is under way today. Every tophand boy in the lists is out on the lot warming up his "string" and incidentally taking the travel kinks out of himself, with the result that the townspeople and early comers for the big show are having the time of their lives, all for the trouble of walking out to the park.

Drug Addicts Will Be Denied Parole

Clemency in the shape of parole will be denied to drug addicts, who will be forced to spend their full terms in jail, according to a decision announced by the county parole board today.

Decoto said: "For the sake of the drug users themselves we are definitely opposed to any curtailment of their sentences. Their stay in jail benefits them as they are given treatment, and at any rate are deprived of the drug while incarcerated.

James Murphy, serving six months in the city jail for vagrancy, was paroled.

The three youths, it is claimed by the authorities, ransacked the Grant home while the doctor was in the East and took household effects valued at several hundred dollars. The authorities claim to have found some of the stolen material in the Sindicich home.

Mathis has been employed as a member of the crew of a Standard Oil tanker which docked at Richmond yesterday on return from a trip to the Orient.

Loganberry Jam Is Right When It's Made This Way

Jam is the favorite subject of the "info fans." Here is one of the queries that came in today from an Oakland woman:

"Will you kindly give me a recipe for making loganberry jam?"

Pick over loganberries. Mash a few in the bottom of a preserving kettle, using a wooden potato masher, and so continue until the fruit is used. Heat slowly to boiling point and add gradually an equal quantity of heated sugar. Cook slowly 45 minutes. Put in a stone jar or tumblers.

A TRIBUNE reader asks for a recipe for making blackberry jam. Use the same recipe for the blackberries as for the loganberries.

Another reader desires a recipe for combination loganberry and blackberry jam. The combination is effected by mixing the two kinds of berries, half and half.

The Info Editor got into a different sort of a jam yesterday with regard to the lights on the City Hall tower. The white lights are flashed for the hours and the red for the quarter hours, according to the engineer. One red flash is for the quarter after the hour, two for the half hour and three for 45 minutes after the hour. For instance, 9:30 would be indicted by nine flashes followed immediately by two red ones

Court Grants Long Delayed Divorce

Trabucco to Mrs. Francesca I. Struckman from Paul F. Struckman. Judge Harry W. Pulcifer appeared in place of Smith and asked that the case be expedited.

Mrs. Struckman charged that after their separation her husband came to her home late at night and called loudly in front of the house. She said he became very abusive in his language when she refused to go to the window or recognize his act. She declared his treatment of her has made her such a nervous wreck that she cannot sleep at night and is in a serious condition. They were married in 1906. There are no children.

Judge Trabucco granted a decree to James from Bertha Jensen on the ground of desertion.

SAN JOSE BOYS FORFEIT BIKES IN LIEU OF BAIL

SAN JOSE, June 29.—Fifteen San Jose schoolboys are walking today. Yesterday they were riding bicycles. The reason was a crusade opened by local police last night against the riding of bicycles without lights, which has caused numerous accidents within the past few months, two of them fatal.

The fifteen youths were all forced to leave their bicycles at the city prison as bail to guarantee their appearance before Police Judge Thomas R. Dougherty next Tuesday afternoon at the weekly traffic matinee, bikes being held in default of $3 cash bail. The total capital of the schoolboys did not exceed 75 cents.

"The crusade will continue tonight," Chief of Police J. N. Black declared today, "and every night until such a time as we become thoroughly convinced that the practice is going to cease. Young boys, and grown men as well, who are struck by automobiles when they have no lights on their bicycles as the law prescribes, need expect no sympathy from the police. They are alone to blame."

DEED TO MARINA OFFERED S. F. BY FAIR DIRECTOR

Development of Land Into a Park Suggested in Letter to Mayor Rolph.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The directors of the Panama Pacific Exposition Company are prepared to deed the eastern end of the Marina to San Francisco for park purposes, it was announced today by William H. Crocker, member of the exposition board. Plans are already under way for the development of the land into a huge park with a boulevard skirting the bay shore.

LETTER TO MAYOR.

The announcement of Crocker was made in a letter to Mayor James Rolph Jr., received today, in which he calls attention to the fact that he is ready to deed the property bounded by Webster street, Steiner street, Tonquin street and the waterfront. While this is a four-block stretch, it is essentially eight blocks when measured by the scale adopted in San Francisco. Approximately 60 per cent of the issued stock of the Exposition Company was assigned to Crocker in trust, he being delegated the power to collect any dividends and to use the money for the acquisition of the Marina land for permanent park purposes. In his letter he says:

"The property included within this deed represents the eastern end of the Marina. The remainder of the Marina was transferred to the State of California about one year ago. Therefore, with the acceptance by you, for the city, of this deed, the entire Marina will become public property.

SUGGESTS LARGE PARK.

"I trust wou will not think me intrusive if I suggest the next step to be the merging of the title to the entire Marina lands in one grantee and the development of them as a splendid park fronting on one of the most magnificent marine prospects in all the world. I know I speak the sentiments of those whose generosity has accomplished this gift to the city when I state that that is the ideal they have had in mind through all these years."

BERKELEY CLUBS SHOW OPPOSITION TO ALTERNATIVE

Vote Postponed Because Delegates Without Power to Cast Ballots.

BERKELEY, June 29—Opposition to the alternative feature of consolidation and to a city and county government itself was voiced by representatives of various organizations at last night's meeting of the Affiliated Berkeley Clubs at Longfellow school.

Strong sentiment against the alternative plan featured the meeting and a motion made and seconded that the organization go on record as against a program which would divide Alameda county was only withdrawn when it developed that all of the representatives present did not have the authority of their clubs to cast votes on the matter.

H. D. Irwin, member of the Chamber of Commerce, opened the discussion when he presented a motion that the Affiliated Clubs go on record against consolidation following an attack by Charles Robertson, West Berkeley Improvement club, on the opponents of consolidation.

BOROUGH PLAN OPPOSED.

Irwin's motion was seconded by J. L. Tisdale of the Ashby club, who declared that his organization was strongly against the alternative and the borough system of government as favored by the freeholders.

The Longfellow Community Association reported that actioon had been deferred until the charter is submitted by the freeholders, while the Claremont Improvement club, through Dr. H. Alexander Brown, declared that his organization was for both the alternative and consolidation.

When President William John Cooper attempted to put the issue to a vote he met with opposition on the part of representatives whose clubs had not discussed the issue. John Stewart of the Berkeley Defense Corps declared that no individual had a right to vote without the consent of the organization he represented and urged against action.

OPINION DIVIDED.

J. E. Pemberton, also of the Defense Corps, declared he thought the Affiliated Clubs should keep out of "politics" and predicted that an agreement on the consolidation issue would never be reached. "If every one could write his own charter consolidation might carry," said Pemberton, "but you'll never get all the people to agree on any one method."

Irwin in presenting his plea against the alternative declared that that instrument could be withdrawn from the ballot until the last minute and won support in applause when he said that the club should go on record as against the proposal.

Robertson of the West Berkeley Improvement club, attempted to block Irwin's motion, but his objections were overruled by the chair. Irwin finally withdrew his motion when it developed that all of the representatives were not entitled to register the sentiments of their clubs and action was deferred until a later meeting.

Alternative Plan Scored By Mayor of Alameda

ALAMEDA, June 29.—The plan for city and county government as fostered by the board of freeholders in a charter which contemplates the alternative proposal, will disrupt the county, split it into separate parts, and is designed to coerce the smaller cities into a consolidation with Oakland, according to a letter sent to the Board of Freeholders today by Mayor Frank Otis of Alameda. Mayor Otis wrote in reply to an invitation from the board for criticisms or suggestions regarding the proposed charter.

Alamedans, says Mayor Otis, are practically unanimous against consolidation. They see in the consolidation plan and alternate proposal a possibility that animosity will be engendered in the county where good feeling and co-operation should prevail, says the mayor, who adds that if Oakland succeeds in withdrawing from the rest of the county "she will find herself in a worse condition regarding taxes than she now is."

TEXT OF LETTER.

The letter of the Alameda mayor follows:

"I have received your favor, enclosing a draft of the first sections of the proposed charter for city and county consolidation and requesting criticism or suggestion thereon on or before July 10.

"While the draft contains objectionable features, I do not deem it necessary for an opponent of consolidation to criticize the document at this time.

"Inasmuch as Alamedans are practically unanimous against any consolidation under Section 7½ of Article XI of the Constitution, I desire to make it clear that failure to comment upon or criticize the proposed charter must not be construed as giving consent or being favorable to its provisions or to its adoption.

"The mere preparation and submission of a charter is one thing and the mischief which this particular one, whether good, bad or indifferent, as to form, is likely to accomplish, is quite another thing. That it will be defeated in every part of the county of Alameda, except, perhaps, the city of Oakland, seems a foregone conclusion, and when the citizens of Oakland thoroughly comprehend the consequences of the submission of the charter with the "alternative," they ought to give it a final knockout blow at the polls.

COUNTY DISRUPTION.

From the facts that have been brought out in discussing the proposition it is clear: (1) that it will disrupt the county of Alameda, which ranks third in population and wealth in this state, and will split it into separate parts; (2) that it was conceived by a small group of men, chiefly of Oakland, and so designed as to coerce the smaller cities and towns willing or unwilling into consolidation with Oakland and thereby subvert and destroy their right to self-government and of control of their own physical, educational and moral condition; (3) that it will engender animosity between different sections of the county where naught but good feeling and co-operation ought to prevail; and (4) that, even if adopted by all parts of the county, it will not afford the alleged relief from the burdens of heavy taxation, and, even if Oakland should eventually succeed in withdrawing from the county, she will find herself in a worse condition as to taxation than she now is. Parenthetically it may be remarked that last year two-thirds of the taxes collected by the county went for school purposes. Is it contemplated to injure the schools by decreasing the taxes levied for their support?

In due time the people will have a chance to vote on consolidation and then the issue will be clear and well defined, and not be camouflaged by an instrument which will be productive of the above evils.

Kelly to Begin Duties as Mint Superintendent Friday

Appointed superintendent several weeks ago by President Harding on the recommendation of Senators Hiram Johnson and Samuel M. Shortridge, County Tax Collector M. J. Kelly today began making preparations to assume charge of the San Francisco Mint.

Kelly will take office Friday.

Edward T. Planer, now chief deputy, and appointed to succeed Kelly by the supervisors, will take charge of the tax collector's office at the same time. The date for Kelly's retirement was chosen because of the necessity of closing up certain business of the local office and because he wished the annual count of money in the mint to be completed before he took charge.

FRIENDS MAKE CALLS.

All day a stream of friends and well-wishers passed through Kelly's office, bidding him good-bye and expressing hope for his future success.

Kelly has been conferring frequently with T. Shanahan, retiring superintendent of the mint, since the appointment was made, and is thoroughly conversant with the situation there.

Kelly was for thirteen years an employee of the mint to which he now returns as superintendent after fifteen years of absence. He began as helper in the melting department, and was promoted to the position of dissolver in the assay department; then was made weigher and finally humid assayer. He was appointed treasurer of Alameda county on the death of Arthur Feidler fifteen years ago and elected to that office several times. He was appointed county tax collector about a year ago on the death of James B. Barber.

WILL RESIDE IN OAKLAND.

Kelly said today: "I am glad, of course, to return as superintendent to the place where I spent so many years as a subordinate; but I shall continue to reside in Oakland and to be deeply interested in its welfare. With the exception of a private secretary, the 160 men employed in the mint are under civil service. I anticipate no immediate change in the conduct of the office and will seek to aid in rewarding merit and promoting the efficiency of the service. Many of the men who were with me at the time of my association with the mint are still there and this will make it doubly pleasant."

Planer declared today he had no announcement to make as to any changes in the office of tax collector, but would endeavor to maintain the past record for efficiency and service.

PEGGY TO WAIT 10 DAYS TO LEARN ALIMONY RATING

Action On Request for $10,000 Monthly Is Postponed; Jewels Are Seized.

CHICAGO, June 29. — Peggy Joyce, alleged lure of makers of history and money, will have to wait until July 8 to find out how much money she will receive as an "alimony queen."

Judge Sabbath, who was to announce today the amount J. Stanley Joyce, Peggy's third millionaire spouse, had to pay to the former Follies star, postponed his decision because of business in the East.

Peggy is asking $10,000 a month and $100,000 attorneys' fees.

Jewels, valued at nearly $250,000 owned by Peggy Joyce, were seized by treasury agents in New York City yesterday, according to word received here.

William H. Clare, collector of customs, said that he had received from the New York office a report which itemized the jewels being held for alleged non-payment of custom taxes. Among the articles is a diamond tiara valued at $100,000, it was said.

Good Roads Subject of Pleasanton Talk

PLEASANTON, June 29.—Better roads and avenues for travel were discussed by the Business Men's Club at their weekly luncheon on Monday and everyone present had some suggestion to make to the project now interesting this community whereby a proposition is before the supervisors which will assist in putting a paved road between Livermore and Mission San Jose, passing through Pleasanton. Endorsement was given to the work which the Chamber of Commerce is doing in this regard and also to their campaign for better signs to advertise Pleasanton. Messrs. Tudor and Allen of the Oakland office of the California State Automobile Association were visitors at luncheon and also addressed the members. In the absence of Chairman Joseph Arendt, Charles A. Gale presided at the luncheon and made remarks. There were fourteen members present.

J. L. Miller of San Francisco has this week opened up a tailoring business in the Geyser Block and M. Halad of Niles is planning to open a dry goods store in the Tray building. Both business places are on Main street and will add two new enterprises to the commercial life of the town.

Fresno Surveyor Is Near Death in Desert

BRAWLEY, Calif., June 29. — A desert water hole in San Felipe creek saved the life of J. C. Vincennes, a surveyor from Fresno, who was picked up on the desert late Monday by one of a half dozen searching parties that had been hunting for him for 24 hours.

Vincennes said, after he was sufficiently recovered to talk, that he had crawled and staggered by hundred yard advances to the water hole and had been enabled by reaching it to sustain life until he was found. It was the only one within several miles of the spot where he was rescued.

When Vincennes and James Brazie were first overcome by the heat and lack of water, Brazie started for some lights which he believed were those of a camp nearby; they were in reality at Niland, 40 miles away, the distance being minimized by the desert air. Brazie met another party and started the first searchers after Vincennes.

Japanese Wanted Wife Willing to Work

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—The disastrous climax attending a Japanese picture bride romance was yesterday related in the superior court here when Mrs. Toyo Komuro filed suit for divorce from S. Komuro, charging extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Komuro told the story of her marital relations from the day she met her husband on the San Francisco docks in February of last year, to the time "he told me to get out in the fields and earn a living."

She alleged that her husband drove her from his home at the end of a few months "so that he could marry a woman who would work, and bear children."

Komuro is an employe of the Nippon Printing Company in Stockton.

The young Japanese bride is now working here as a domestic.

VALLEJO ACCEPTS MEMBERSHIP IN DEFENSE LEAGUE

Carrier Pigeon Will Carry the Invitation to San Jose Tomorrow.

That the Pacific Coast Defense League, launched by the naval base committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to secure adequate appropriations from Congress, is meeting with great favor, is the interpretation placed upon Vallejo's acceptance of an invitation to join the organization, received today.

In response to a letter sent the Chamber of Commerce of that city recently by the Sperry Flour Company's pigeon-post, the following was received by the Oakland Chamber:

"I herewith acknowledge receipt of your kind invitation to join the Pacific Coast Defense League.

"On behalf of the Vallejo Chamber of Commerce, it is requested that you forward to us at your convenience, a detailed plan of organization of the proposed league.

"We are very much interested in the defense of the Pacific, provided that the facilities to meet the situation are developed at a minimum expense and in the shortest possible time."

The letter is signed by Herman P. Hatfield, secretary of the Vallejo organization. A reply was sent him immediately, conveying the information that a conference would be called within a few days to map out a plan of campaign.

San Jose will receive an invitation tomorrow to join the defense league. This letter, as in the case of San Francisco and Vallejo, will be delivered by one of the carrier pigeons which attained fame in the world war.

Mills Visited by Former President

Dr. Luella Clay Carson, president of Mills College for five years, from 1909 to 1914, is visiting in California and Oregon for the summer. Upon her arrival in Oakland she went to Mills College, where she expressed delight in the growth and development of the college campus and the increase of the student body.

Dr. Carson for the past year has been a member of the faculty of Yankton College, South Dakota taking the place of Professor Durand, who was on sabbatical leave. She is at present visiting a brother in Los Angeles. Later she will go to Portland, Ore., which was her home for many years. Dr. Carson comes back to the West after seven years in the East with the firm conviction of the beauties and possibilities of the West and expressed the desire that it might be possible for her to spend the coming year on the Pacific Coast.

FORMER EXPRESS CLERK IS SENT TO COUNTY JAIL

Pleads Guilty to Theft and Is Given Eight Months' Sentence.

Daniel S. Bryant, former money order clerk for the Wells Fargo Express Company, at the Sixteenth street Southern Pacific depot, Oakland, was sentenced to eight months in the Alameda county jail today by Federal Judge Dooling in San Francisco after he had pleaded guilty to the theft of $500 in currency.

Bryant was indicted in a special session of the federal grand jury this week in order to prevent the statute of limitations from operating to defeat the ends of justice. The alleged theft occurred on June 28, 1918. Had no accusation been returned before yesterday Bryant could not have been prosecuted on the charge.

When he confessed his guilt in the United States District Court today he told Judge Dooling that he had a wife and 9-months-old babe and that during his incarceration they would be cared for by his brother. The court said that he was taking that into consideration in passing judgment as he had intended giving the defendant a year and a half in McNeil island.

The currency was sent from A. Bercovitch, Oakland, to H. B. Kotz, Virginia City, Nev., and passed through Bryant's hands at the depot. He was not suspected at the time although he left his position the next day and disappeared. Subsequently he was picked up by the Oakland police for passing fictitious checks and later liberated on probation. Several weeks ago he was caught in the act of stealing a crate of eggs from the same depot and then confessed the theft of the currency.

"Red Literature" Sale Case Heard by Jury

BERKELEY, June 29.—Herman Meyling, 1805 Bonita avenue, on trial before Judge Edgar on a charge of vagrancy, today took the stand in his own defense. Meyling was arrested on complaint of W. A. Legette, a former service man, and a summer session student residing at the Bancroft Hotel. The action was taken by Legette, who objected to the man selling literature of purported "red" nature at Sather Gate, the entrance to the University of California campus. Meyling is acting as his own counsel. Deputy District Attorney Wade Snook is attorney for the plaintiff. The jury is made up entirely of men.

Arrest of Meyling follows a student riot of a week ago in which Legette and Meyling figured. Objection was made to the sort of literature Meyling was distributing.

Summer school students were called as witnesses this morning. A. R. Mack, a bootblack with stand near Sather gate, testified to Meyling's selling of the papers in question.

Excerpts from the literature were to be read before the court at a late session today.

Holding a Husband

by Adele Garrison

I could see past the lights which illuminated it, a lovely view beyond it of flowers and trees. Wonderful rhododendrons, distinct in the illumination, were banked under the windows of the wings, while ivy, as old as the house, rioted everywhere.

But even the "crawl" which Dicky had commanded soon brought us to the wide driveway curving up to the Georgian entrance. Just before we reached it Dicky asked another question:

"What do they call this arrangement of porch, anyway?"

"A blow-away," the man responded. "It gets pretty hot down here sometimes, you know, but there's always a breeze there. At the back it extends out on both sides to the ends of the house, so that the breeze comes from all directions."

"I'm going to have a house like this," my husband said decidedly, but I had no time to answer him then, even if I had wished, for the car had stopped, and an elderly colored man—striving to appear young and jaunty in a uniform that even in the moonlight I could tell was old and faded—opened the door of our car, bowing.

There were a number of other cars parked in a grassy space near ours. I gave them only a cursory glance as I waited for Dicky's mother and my father to get out of the car, then started, as from behind the one nearest I heard Major Grantland's voice:

"What are you doing here? I thought I told you——"

"I'm driving the Morelands; that's what I'm doing. I can't help it if my old customers ask me to drive them to a place, can I? How did I know?"

"That will do," Major Grantland returned sternly. "You may stay, but remember I have my eye on you. Don't try anything."

"No, sir," the man replied humbly, and as Major Grantland left the car and strode toward us with his hand outstretched to Dicky, I realized that the man to whom he had been speaking was the driver of the closed car which had dogged us the night of our arrival in Cedar Crest.

At the reappearance of the driver of the mysterious closed car, which had so gripped my frightened curiosity upon the night of our arrival in Cedar Crest, there rushed again over me the fears and tremors which the knowledge of Grace Draper's presence in the little hamlet had brought me.

I had been assured by Maj. Grantland that she had left the place, that there was no more danger from her, but here, almost within reaching distance of my hand, was the driver of the vehicle in which I believed she had followed us from the station on the night of our arrival. That she had been behind those shrouding curtains I was certain as I was that she had left some message with that driver for me.

GRANTLAND ROUSES SUSPICION

Common sense tried to tell me that such a theory was wildly preposterous, but so many times in my life have my common sense and my fantastic premonitions clashed, with the results justifying the forebodings, that I naturally discount the comparatively few times when my fears have moved unfounded. So it was that when Maj. Grantland turned to me, after shaking hands with my father and Dicky's mother, I felt that the hand I put in his was both trembling and icy.

He looked keenly at me, and the clasp of his hand over mine was so warm and protecting that I felt a breath of reassurance blow over my fears. As he released my hand he, by seeming accident, dropped a handkerchief, stopped quickly to recover it, and as he rose, murmured so that no one else could hear him:

"Remember, I'm attending to him."

There was no adjuration not to be frightened. I realized that he had given me the assurance he wished me to have in the fewest words possible, and I felt the color come back to my cheeks, the courage to my heart at the thought that so indomitable and faithful a friend was watching the man whom I suddenly feared, as I did anyone connected in any manner with the beautiful, evil girl who had brought so much terror and misery into my life.

A STATELY LADY.

I saw in the next moment, however, that if Dicky had not heard the words Maj. Grantland had uttered, he had seen through the subterfuge of the dropped handkerchief, and knew that the army officer had said something intended for my ear alone. I saw his chin lift itself, a trick of his when angry, and saw his wrathful eyes fastened upon my face, which I felt, to my horror, was flushing crimson. But I knew that he would say nothing concerning the incident when others were present, although I would be fairly certain to hear of it the first time we were alone.

So I gathered courage to slip into place beside my father as Dicky escorted his mother up the steps to where a portly and pompous old colored butler, whom I instinctively knew as the owner of the voice I had heard over the telephone, was bowing as ceremoniously and obsequiously as his palpably rheumatic joints would allow.

What Does Your Wife Do?

The Country of Upside Down

By Jack Burroughs

He was walking with his shoes on his hands

Chapter 11

The Man With Shoes on His Hands

THE man with the bandaged head and his companion were so pleased with the poem Alex read to them out of the upside down newspaper that they asked him to read some more. That is to say, the man whose jaw was not broken, asked to hear more, while the other clapped his hands and jumped up and down to show that the idea suited him exactly.

So Alex, with the aid of his pocket mirror, began to read again. He noticed one peculiar thing about the news. Instead of telling about things that had happened, the paper told about things that would happen some time in the future.

"Phil Osiphar will be elected to Congress next month," Alex read.

Further on he came to a story which said:

"Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a big fire at the corner of Easy Street and Luxury Boulevard. The Upside Hotel will be burned down and the Downside Cafe will be burned up. Both buildings will be destroyed."

"But I don't see any sense in that," objected the man whose head was not tied up. "If they know beforehand that the buildings are going to be burned, why do they let them catch fire?"

It does seem foolish, doesn't it?" Alex agreed. "We must ask Reddy Quackenback about it as soon as we see him."

Alex was about to resume his reading when he was brought to a pause by a man who was behaving in a strange manner, even for this Upside Down Country. The man was walking on the grass with no shoes upon his feet. Upon his hands, which he held straight above his head, he wore a pair of shoes, which he kept thrusting forward in the air in a walking motion.

"Sir," asked Alex, "why do you wear your shoes on your hands instead of on your feet?"

"It's a long story," the other grumbled. "But it's not often I find someone to listen to my troubles, so if you'll hold my hands up for me for a while so I can rest, I'll tell you willingly enough."

They sat down on a nearby bench and Alex and his two companions took turns supporting the man's hands while he told them the sad story of his experiences.

"When I first came to this topsy-turvy country," he began, "I made up my mind that I wouldn't be upside down just because everybody else was. People don't go walking around with their feet up and their heads down where I came from. It isn't considered the proper thing to do.

"'A person's head should point up and his feet should point down,' I said, and tried to walk on my hands so that my head would point upward instead of downward. But I got so many bumps, falling over, that I finally hit on the idea of wearing my shoes on my hands and holding my hands above my head."

"But this is the Country of Upside Down," Alex explained.

"There it goes again!" the other cried, angrily. "That's what everybody tells me. But I was taught that the proper way to walk was with my head up and my feet down. The people in this country do everything the wrong way."

The bench on which they sat was upon the shore of a tiny lake as smooth as glass. The surface made a good mirror, so Alex led the man over to it and said:

"Take a good look at yourself, wearing shoes on your hands, and see if it doesn't change your mind."

The man gazed down at his reflection. "It does look foolish, doesn't it?" he admitted when he had looked for some time. "But "I'm only half convinced as yet."

Being only half convinced, he took off his right shoe and put it on his foot, still holding the other shoe above his head.

The four of them started toward the Duck Pond, their new companion limping along with a shoe on one foot and a shoe on one hand.

"I wonder what Josiah Jingle-Jangle has to say on this subject," said Alex, and taking out the pocket volume of poems he read, using his pocket mirror once more:

"The strangest man I've ever seen,
On snowfields white or hillsides green,
Is he who in his stockings stands
And wears his shoes upon his hands."

Just Folks

—by Edgar A. Guest

A PLACE

Young man, eager to rise in the world,
  Hark to the tale I tell:
Never put hand to the least command
  Unless you will do it well.

You must strive for speed, but speed is vain
  If poorly the work be done,
And the time you take for a good job's sake
  Is time well spent, my son.

I have known the world and the ways of men
  And the things I tell are true:
You must build your fame on an honest name
  And the work that you can do.

Whatever you promise you must perform,
  Never utter a pledge absurd;
By the faith you keep you shall sow and reap,
  You must stand to your given word.

The signs of the road are posted clear
  But the wrong way's thick with doubt,
And day or night, if you keep to the right
  You never need face about.

If you gladly toil and you give your best
  To the tasks you find to do,
If your record's clear, you need have no fear—
  The world has a place for you.

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

Listen, World!

YOU'RE not fashionable nowadays unless you're finding fault with Marriage and your Mate. You might just as well wear celluloid collars or pantalettes as admit you're living in harmonious understanding with the Choice of Your Youth. Nay, nay—you must meet your True Mate on a loftier mental plane and your souls must mingle in a sort of spiritual mayonnaise before you can be "fulfilled." And how can all this happen with John, whose breakfast face you've seen for 14 years, or Jenny, whom you've heard whine about her neuralgia ever since you were married?

My opinion of "spiritual planes" and "soul blends" and "spirit harmonies" isn't fit to be printed. Every one of those lovely colors will run when washed. Practically any nice man in a clean necktie looks better than a shop-worn husband at times. Almost any agreeable lady in a party dress can understand John better than the plain little Jenny, who cooked his boiled dinner, or John is prone to think she can.

But it isn't because John or Jenny are functioning on the wrong spiritual plane or with the wrong blend of soul mate. It's because potatoes must be had and paid for and folks get tired of co-operating on the job.

They're functioning on the wrong spiritual plane.

Yes, just such prosaic rocks underlie our psychic discontents. But, also, upon such prosaic rocks are the shining temples of our dreams erected. Which is perfectly all right as long as we know what really does ail us, and don't begin to think that we have some new sort of spiritual appendicitis.

WHY ARE THINGS NAUGHTY? That's the big query of 1921. Time was when we accepted the program of life as tagged "good" or "bad" by our elders and never questioned the tagging. But nowadays we WANT TO KNOW WHY. Many serious minded people say that this is a sign that the world is going to the bow-wows. They consider all these discussions and experiments to be tangible evidence of the activities of the Evil One. To Jerry they seem the greatest sign yet of the upward progress of Humanity. The goodness, the obedience, of a dumb, driven animal is no goodness at all — and that was the sort of goodness which was once very popular on this earth. But the goodness which is chosen voluntarily, which has stood the test of thought, argument and dissection—that's worth while. IF YOU CAN'T GIVE A REASON FOR YOUR GOODNESS, FIGHT SHY OF IT. There's a big, healthy reason underlying any worth-while morality. When once you know that reason you'll WANT to be good. You won't simply do right because you're "scared" to do wrong—which is the "chicken-livered" reason why many people choose the narrow path of rectitude.

That's why people like this column. Not because of Jerry. Jerry is only a friendly medium for getting together. BUT SO THEY CAN GET AT THE REASON FOR THINGS. That's why folks of all ages come here to "talk things over" and why nearly every letter is sincere and valuable. More than all others, the youngsters' letters seem important to Jerry.

Young folks get rather a hard deal sometimes. Oh, yes, you load them down with candy and pretty dresses and pocket money and good times. You give them everything in the world but the REASON FOR THINGS. You can't get very far with a REAL kid by nagging and threatening. If he has any spunk at all he'll do the thing just to spite you. But if you'll treat him as an equal—and, acknowledging you know very little about it, talk things over with him, he'll generally be your friend for life.

Here's a letter from a REAL youngster. This letter is going to be printed in full, not because it is full of sorrow, because it isn't, but because it might have been written by every girl in Oakland between the ages of fourteen and—well any age.

The Letter

Dear Geraldine: I've been pulling myself back and forth over a question which has been sticking in my mind for so long now that I am just about worn out. But after all my worry and thought, I am no nearer settlement than when I started, so won't you help me?

Should a sixteen-year-old girl, who goes around with boys and girls, all older than herself, allow a boy to put his arm around her? Now, Jerry, this circumstance often comes up, either on a hike or at a party or—well, you know. The other girls allow the boys to do this, and even more, and those same girls go to all the dances and still seem to keep their reputations. I don't mean that they are wild; in fact they are quite tame, but still they do give the boys this privilege. I don't believe that these boys talk, either.

I know that theoretically this is wrong, but how about it practically? Don't you think that most boys (nice, refined boys) put their arms around girls, not to be fresh, but in earnest liking and nothing else? Should a girl allow the boy to take this action in the spirit it is given? Do you think that if a girl takes such things lightly and in a spirit of palship that she will become common and the talk of the boys? Can't one have honest, clean fun with the boys without taking everything seriously?

Or, Jerry, is this all figured out from the wrong point of view. It is all unnecessary. Tell me, how should one take the whole affair?

A QUESTION BOX.

Wrong and Right

That's one of the dandiest letters that ever arrived in the mail carrier's overladen bag and I am going to try to answer it without quoting morals and "good" or "bad," because "labels" don't answer questions.

I do think that nice refined boys and girls LIKE to put their arms around each other—sure I do. How's that for an admission? But it's this way, all you boys and girls of Oakland who come to Jerry with tears and smiles. IT'S COMMON. Now I don't mean it the way you think. I don't mean it's "cheap" or "low," but you're letting a beautiful expression become such an every-day occurrence that presently it will mean nothing to you. You are human batteries and are losing some of your power by constant contact. You are dulling your senses. You are turning a token of affection into a mere gesture.

If you saw dirt around you every day, in your home, on your clothes, in your school, you would cease to notice it. If you heard questionable remarks passed daily, you would begin to take them for granted. They would become common. You would cease to care for cleanliness and goodness. Maybe my comparison is far-fetched, but if you let this boy or that put his arm around you, kiss you, it's going to become common. While you wouldn't be "bad" you would begin to forget that the act was a favor, a token of love and something very precious and clean.

A Mother Objects

Comes now THE CRY OF A MOTHER. She is a real mother and her words are terrible and beautiful, with the fierce strength and beauty which underlie all vital mothering. We are too apt to think only of the GENTLENESS of mothering. We forget the fierceness and fire, the awful sacrifices, the tremendous courage which TRUE MOTHERING requires. This letter, written without thought of polish or prettiness, gives you the greatness of a Mother Heart, and it has stirred Jerry's heart to its depths. It is a reply to a letter from a "Mother of Two" who considered it her duty to stay by her husband although he foully misused her babies, whipping the week-old babe amongst other atrocities.

Dead Geraldine:

I have been reading your good advice ever since you began writing for The TRIBUNE, and this is the first time I have ever written to you. But when I saw where that woman wrote to you and Bob and put herself at the end in the Grandest name of all, A Mother, why it just made my blood boil and I had to write. I am glad she has no more than two children and I hope she will never have any more. I sit down at times and wonder why does God give some people children. Any woman that will let a man whip a week-old babe, Oh!

She says she stays with him because she loved him, married him, and loves him yet. How can a woman love a man when he beats her and her children gets my goat, for if a man loves a woman he will not hit her. But she lies, it isn't love that makes her stay with him. It's because she is too lazy to get out and work and make a home for her children. There is no mother that is a mother loves a man more than she does her own child. So ask her, where does she get at talking about love?

I was married when I was seventeen and my baby was born eleven months after. Well, my husband didn't care for the baby because she was a girl. Well, one day he was playing with the babe and he called her a little dog. Well, Jerry, we had one of the best fights you ever saw, and I went home to mother. My mother had eighteen—how's that, Gerry? Well, he was jealous of the child and we would fight all the time and one day he whipped the baby because she broke a plate. Well I went away from home and we have been divorced for six years.

I am happy with children and all children love me. I would rather have a child's love to a man's any day. If I had a dozen, I wouldn't let any drunken beast abuse them. I would get out and work and give them a good home, for if a father or a mother is mean there is no home.

Love is a good excuse for some people. I hope some day the law will take the children and they will be better off than with such a mother.

A TRUE MOTHER AND PAL.

TWO PALS. Come close while I hug you for you've given me a brand new superstition to giggle over. Girls, if you blush you're going to be old maids. Isn't it grand? Go on and play with the girls and have a grand time—you're not missing a whale of a lot by not having desperate cases on every little marcel wave in school.

ADELLA. Thank you for your letter. It helped me, and that seems to be your forte.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE ROBIN.

"Do you wish anything from the store, Nurse Jane?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he hopped away from his hollow stump bungalow one morning. "Anything like a diamond dishpan, or a gold dusting brush from the five and ten?"

"Oh, nothing like that!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she did her whiskers up in curl papers for she was going to sweep the front porch. "But I do need a spool of red silk thread, Uncle Wiggily. If you'll bring that I'll be very grateful to you."

"Surely I'll bring you some red silk thread," promised the bunny rabbit gentleman.

"And please don't forget!" begged Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, as Uncle Wiggily hopped away on his red white and blue striped rheumatism crutch. "If I don't get that spool of silk thread I can't mend the hole in my dress, and then we can't go to the moving pictures this evening."

"I'll remember," promised Mr. Longears, and away he hopped, whistling a tune on his pink, twinkling nose—I mean his nose helped him to whistle, you understand.

As the bunny gentleman was going happily along, over the fields and through the woods, all at once he heard a sad voice saying:

"Oh dear! Oh, dear! What shall I do? I'm stuck in the mud and I'll lose my shoe!"

"That," said Uncle Wiggily, "sounds to me like trouble. I wonder if I can help whoever it is—that is, if it isn't the Fuzzy Fox or the Woozie Wolf."

Before going any farther he looked through the bushes, and there, in the middle of a mud puddle, he saw a large, red-breasted robin gentleman.

"Oh, what is the matter, Mr. Robin?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Lots is the matter," answered the bird, who was too sad to do any singing. "I came into this mud puddle to get a bath, for Dr. Possum told me mud baths were just what I needed for my indigestion. But I waded in too far, my feet became stuck in the mud and now I can't pull them out, and I'm afraid I'll lose my shoes!"

"That would be too bad!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll help you, Mr. Robin."

"Oh, what's the matter, Mr. Robin?"

And the rabbit gentleman did. With his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, Uncle Wiggily helped Mr. Robin from the mud puddle. One of the bird's shoes came off, but Mr. Longears fished it out with his crutch. Then the bird sang a happy song and flew away, as Uncle Wiggily hopped to the three and fourcent store. There he bought the spool of red silk thread to bring to Nurse Jane.

"Well, I don't believe I am going to have any more adventures today," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, as he hopped on toward his hollow stump bungalow. "I don't count helping the robin, for that wasn't an adventure. But perhaps I may have one when Nurse Jane and I go to the movies tonight—after she mends her torn dress."

Uncle Wiggily put his paw in his pocket to make sure he had the spool of red thread but, to his surprise, it wasn't there!

"Oh, I must have dropped it!" exclaimed the bunny gentleman. "Oh, how careless of me! What will Nurse Jane say? I dropped it out of my pocket! I'll have to hop back and look for it."

Hop back Uncle Wiggily did, but though he looked along every foot of the woodland path he did not find the red spool of thread.

"And it is now so late that all the stores are closed and I can't buy another!" thought the bunny. "What shall I do?"

Uncle Wiggily was feeling very sad, for he knew Nurse Jane would be disappointed about not getting the thread, when, all of a sudden, Mr. Longears heard a voice saying:

"Come on, now, we'll both pull together, and maybe we can get to the end of it."

"I wonder who that can be?" thought the bunny. He looked through the bushes and there he saw the same robin whom he had helped from the mud puddle. With Mr. Robin was his wife. And they were pulling on something.

"What have you there?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, hello, Mr. Longears!" sang Mr. Robin. "Why, after you helped me from the puddle I was flying home, and on the ground I saw a beautiful red thread. It just matched my wife's feathers, so I picked it up and flew here to our nest with it. But, gracious! I never saw such a long thread in all my life! My wife and I have been pulling and pulling and pulling on it half an hour and we haven't come to the end yet!"

"Ha! And no wonder!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "That is Nurse Jane's spool of red thread you are pulling on. It dropped from my pocket, one end came loose and it must have been that end you picked up and have been pulling on ever since, Mr. Robin."

"Just fancy that!" chirped Mrs. Robin. "I wondered where Rob picked up such a long thread. It is more than I need."

Thus it was Uncle Wiggily found what he had lost, and, after biting off a piece for Mrs. Robin, the bunny wound the rest of the thread on the spool and took it to Nurse Jane. And they went to the movies after all.

So if the straw hat doesn't try to roll down the bread board like a baby carriage going to the [illegible] candy store, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the perfume.

Tigers Juggle Away a Perfectly Good Game and Let Seals Score 1 2 Runs in the Eighth.

By EDDIE MURPHY

As yesterday wasn't kid's day at Recreation Park, there is a lot of disappointed kiddies in San Francisco today. Manager Bill Essick's Vernon Tigers and Charley Graham's Seals arrived in town and they put on a real circus. The kids who like to watch the jugglers perform would have kicked up a great fuss at watching those Seals and Tigers put on their juggling stunts. There were some kids at the ball game, but nothing near the number that turns out when kiddies are admitted free. Had they realized the Seals and Tigers were going to put on an honest to goodness circus, with juggling as the feature stunts, they would have been willing to have paid the regular admission price. The Vernon Tigers proved to be better jugglers than the Seals, so they walked away with the booby prize which was the short end of a 17 to 4 score.

For seven and a half innings the Seals and Tigers did just what they were advertised to do—they played some real baseball, but in the Seals' half of the eighth inning those Tigers got as funny as they could be, and the fans almost laughed themselves sick, while Charley Graham's Seals almost ran themselves to death on the bases. Almost anything that was hit to the Tigers' infield or outfield counted for a base hit, and thanks to the thoughtfulness of Joe Kelly and Archie Yelle, the two Seals who thought it best that they strike out before a couple of teammates fell on the paths exhausted.

Seals Set Record With Twelve Runs In Eighth.

When the Seals went to bat in the eighth inning they held the long end of a 5 to 4 score, but nobody ever suspected that they would wind up with such a lead over those Tigers. Twelve runs were made in that one inning by the Seals, and they thereby established the season's record for scoring the largest number of runs in one inning.

Can you imagine the Seals scoring twelve runs in one inning when but four balls were hit to the outfield, and only two of them went for honest to goodness hits, the others being what the boys call whiz-bangs. The Seals just seemed to be able to place that ball in the infield spots where they would go for base hits, and even when they did hit them directly at the Tigers they were usually booted.

Wheezer Dell, the big tall Texan who had won twelve games and lost but four during the season, and according to some of the Vernon players Dell had won his last eleven starts. Dell pitched fine baseball against the Seals yesterday even if they did get fourteen of the runs off him. The first five runs made by the Seals were all earned off Dell, but he could hardly be blamed for the rest of them, after the exhibition that his teammates put up in the eighth inning.

It Was a Good Game Until Juggling Started.

Jim Scott was on the mound for the Seals, but he was forced to make his way to the showers in the Tigers' half of the eighth inning and Frank (Lefty) O'Doul had to step in and save the day. But Scott had the satisfaction of taking a leading part in the rally which gave the Seals their first three markers in the third inning. Kelly opened the inning with a double to the center field boards, and was trapped between the bags when Yelle hit to the infield. Jim Scott scored Yelle all the way from first by banging a double against the centerfield boards. Considering the speed which Yelle DOES NOT show on the bases, and also that by Jim Scott, it had to be some wallop to allow those men to travel as far as they did. Scott pranced to third on Schick's infield hit and scored on Fitzgerald's single. Schick and Fitz worked a double steal, the former scoring and making it three for the inning.

Kelly's error which allowed Hyatt to reach second, a single by Edington and another by Hyatt, coupled with French's fielder's choice and Caveney's wild heave to first, put the Tigers within one of tieing the score in their half of the fourth. But the Seals got one of the runs back in their half when O'Connell singled and Yelle hit a double. O'Connell again scored when he drew a walk in the sixth and Kelly doubled.

Tigers Even Passed Up Chance To Tie Score.

The Tigers practically kicked away a chance to tie the score in the eighth inning. After Hannah was out French singled, Gorman doubled and Dell walked to fill the bags. Smith got a hit that scored French and Gorman, so Graham yanked Scott and put in O'Doul, and as Chadbourne was a left-handed batter, Essick put Schneider in to bat for Chadbourne, and Pete responded with a single to left, and Dell was caught at the plate trying to score from second. It looked like Dell should have held third, as it would still have been but one out with High and Hyatt coming to the plate next.

The Tigers started their funny stunts in the eighth by letting Caveney's pop fly over second go for two bags. Ellison laid down a bunt and Gorman dropped the ball around after Hyatt tossed it to him and all hands were safe. French made a boot on O'Connell's fielder's choice and Caveney scored. Kamm got an infield hit, and High dropped Kelly's pop fly and the Seals' batter was given credit for a hit. High recovered the ball and hit Ellison in the back with it and two more runs were scored. Yelle scored on Schick's sacrifice bunt. Fitzgerald drew a walk and Caveney singled to again fill the bags. Ellison and O'Connell got infield hits that scored a couple more, and Smith made a wild heave that let in another. Two were still on the bags when McGraw took Dell's place, and Willie Kamm greeted McGraw by hitting his first pitch against the right field fence for a triple. Edington juggled the ball around after the bounce from the screen. That scored Ellison and O'Connell, and then Kelly and Yelle fanned. Boys, it was some circus!

Wallace Bates Is Beaten by Stanford Man

California Players Stage Feature Tennis Match in the East.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—Five Western and three Eastern representatives survived the third round of the annual Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association championship tournament yesterday at Haverford.

Those remaining in the singles are Philip Neer and James Davies, Leland Stanford; F. Bastian, University of Indiana; McNeil Drumwright, University of Texas; Edmund Levy, University of California; E. W. Feibleman and J. B. Fenno Jr., of Harvard; and Carl Fischer, University of Pennsylvania.

The feature match was that between Neer and Wallace Bates, University of California, which the former won in straight sets, 6—3, 6—4.

Joseph Werner, captain of the Princeton team, was handily eliminated by Levy, 6—1, 6—3. W. T. Mallery, of Cornell, caused Davies to go three sets before winning, 5—7, 6—4, 6—2.

In the doubles, Davies and Neer eliminated Saunders and Howe, of Dartmouth, 6—3, 6—4; while Bates and Levy won from Bostwick and Settler, the second Pennsylvania team, 6—1, 6—3.

BEES CELEBRATE RETURN HOME WITH A WIN.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 29.—The Salt Lake fans don't think that Gavvy Cravath's ball team is half as bad as wire reports made it while on the road. The Bees returned home yesterday and celebrated by registering an 8 to 0 win over the Sacramento Coyotes. Walter Leverenz was on the hill for the locals and allowed seven hits, scattered among as many Coyotes. Ted Jourdan and Frank Gay did some heavy sticking for the locals. Paul Fittery, the Coyotes' best bet on the mound, was bumped for fourteen hits. The score:

SEATTLE IS LUCKY TO DEFEAT THE BEAVERS.

SEATTLE, June 29.—Bill Kenworthy's Indians had to do some tall hustling to escape defeat at the hands of the lowly Beavers here yesterday afternoon. The final score was 7 to 6, the locals staging rallies in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings, after "Doc" Quisenberry had held they to four hits and runless. The score:

Two important distance swimming races will be part of the program for Vallejo's July Fourth celebration, when an aquatic carnival that has already attracted entries from all over the state, will be staged on July 3. The events are ¾-mile swim for men and a quarter mile for women, high diving and canoe tilting.

In the men's distance race the following are already entered: Fred Peters and Ike Kelipio, of Idora, Oakland; Frank Sahlin, of Neptune; Leo Purcell and Charlie O'Brien, of the Olympic Club; Frank Russ, Ray Poyser and Kid Bronco, of Sutro Baths; Cliff Stone, of Santa Cruz; Carlos Souza, of Stockton, and Cliff Morehouse, of the South End Rowing Club.

In the girls' race Eleanor O'Brien, of Oakland; Florence Frisenhausen, Hazel Coultis, and Bertie Anderton are entered.

Bart Coffin, Leslie Joseph, Eddie Roper, Jimmie Hughes, Hans Horan, and E. Smith are entered in the canoe tilting. This event will be a contest for the state championship.

The events are sanctioned by the Pacific Association of the A. A. U. and will be conducted by the Vallejo Yacht Club.

American Golfers Have Not Entered French Tournament

BOULOGNE, France, June 29.—Sixty-six players, mostly British, including Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, are entered for the French open golf championship play Wednesday and Thursday.

The expected entries of American golfers, among them Jock Hutchinson, winner of the British open title, and Walter Hagen, have not been received. L. B. Orrell, the only American actually entered for the event, scratched out today.

Today Vardon and Ray are to oppose J. H. Kirkwood, the Australian champion, and Arnaud Massey, the French champion.

Troeh Is Third in Trapshooting Event

FORT SNELLING, Minn., June 29.—L. Hezzlewood of Minneapolis won the amateur state trap shooting title here yesterday. He and Bert Ayers of Crookston, Minn., were tied for first place with 159 each out of a possible 160. In a shoot-off of 40 targets, Hezzlewood broke 39 and Ayers 38. Frank Troeh of Vancouver, Wash., was third with 158 out of a possible 160.

J. J. CONNOLLY, crack miler of the Georgetown University, who will run at Pasadena in the national A. A. U. meet next month. Connolly recently won the mile intercollegiate championship at Harvard Field when he covered the distance in 4:17.

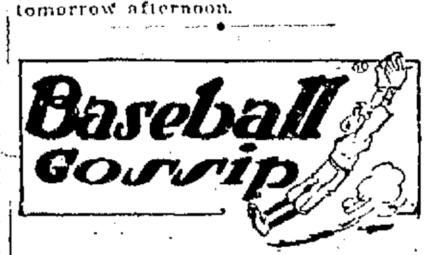
Manager Descamps Getting Nervous, Georges Is Cool

MANHASSET, N. Y., June 29.—As the day for the world's championship bout draws near, everybody in the challenger's camp is getting nervous excepting Georges and he alone appears to be worrying about as much as a school boy getting ready for a picnic. He wants to go and is having lots of fun making preparations. Outside of this he has not displayed the least of anxiety.

Manager Descamps has begun to wring his hands and pull his hair and trainer Wilson has betrayed a slight irritability.

Georges' only worry is his short hair. Since his blond pompadour was clipped by the barber of Manhasset he has been wearing a cap. He runs his hands over the top of his head and seems amused at the sensation in his fingers.

Today Carpentier entered into the final stage of training and he expects to be on edge when he calls a halt tomorrow afternoon.



The Oaks enjoyed an extra day at home by not starting for Los Angeles until last night, as the Angels will not arrive until today in Los Angeles to start their series with the locals. While the players themselves enjoyed the layoff, Foreman Mitze and Superintendent Del Howard didn't care much to see the boys resting around for fear the extra day might throw them out of their winning stride.

Umpire Ted McGrew and Jake Croter worked together for the first time this season when the Seals and Tigers met at Recreation Park. Ted had a couple of arguments over base decisions that he gave, but the plays were so close that decisions the other way would also have brought protests. As for Jake Croter, there was a yelp made over the way he called balls and strikes. Jake is making his first appearance here in a month.

The Seals and Tigers will play on the Oakland lot tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. As the kids and ladies get in free the teams figure to play to a big crowd.

Jimmy O'Connell got back into the Seals' lineup after a few days' absence, due to dislocating his thumb in a game at Portland. This tall boy looks better in every game.

Just a word or two for Willie Kamm. The Seals' third sacker cracked out a nice triple in that eighth inning rally, but his best bit of work was in the eighth inning, when the bags were full. Hughie High hit a scorching grounder down the third base line, and Willie stepped over and picked up the ball as though it was slowly rolling along. This stop cut off a couple of runs, and practically took all the fight out of the Tigers.

After dropping five in a row to the Oaks, the Bees returned home and smeared an 8 to 0 whitewash on the Sacramento Coyotes, who are holding second place. What's the use of trying to dope out those pennant races?

Duffy Lewis made his debut with the Bees by making a sensational catch, drawing two walks, scoring two runs and getting a single.

Portland almost won a ball game. They lost to the Seattle Indians by a 7 to 6 score. They were leading 4 to 0 in the sixth and the Indians got two, and evened up in the seventh with two more. Then those Indians took the lead with three in the eighth, but the Beavers showed some signs of fight and scored two on three hits in the ninth, but it was just one shy of tieing the score.

Dempsey Three Pounds Over Best Weight

Champion Through With the Long Grind of His Training.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 29.—Today is the beginning of the end of Jack Dempsey's two months' training grind. The champion is all through with his workouts in the open air arena and the last workouts this afternoon probably will be staged behind barred gates in the old airplane shed back of the training camp. The work will be light and probably will not include boxing.

The champion, dreading the last three days of marking time, is glad that the long siege of training is nearing an end. He does not display any outward signs of nervousness or irritability and his handlers agree that his physical condition could hardly be improved.

"I'll be glad to have this thing over with," Dempsey said. "You have no idea of the hardships of a long training grind. It's terrible. If I was offered five hundred thousand for a fight a month from now I would not go through with this again. Just as soon as I can get my affairs in shape after meeting Carpentier, I am going home to Salt Lake City, then on west for a vacation."

CHAMP WEIGHS 193.

Dempsey weighed about 193 pounds yesterday, about three pounds over the figure he expects to scale when he climbs into the ring Saturday. He expects to lose a couple pounds today and tomorrow and another pound when he dries out Friday.

Attaches of the camp already have begun the task of getting things in shape for the champion's departure. According to present plans Dempsey and his party will leave for Jersey City, Friday. He will spend the day in the seclusion of a private home in Jersey City until the time to go to the arena.

San Mateo Elks Defeat Berkeley; Lead the Race

By defeating the Berkeley Elks by a 9 to 4 score, the San Mateo lodge team took the lead in the California Elks' League. The Oakland Elks who were running alongside of the San Mateo boys, trayeled to San Jose and were defeated 10 to 7.

In a preliminary game to that between the San Mateo and Berkeley teams which took place at the Coast League Park, the Calatone Water team was defeated by the San Francisco Elks 6 to 2. The game didn't count in the league schedule, but the transbay Elks are quite enthused over their victory, as the Calatones have been regular winners on this side of the bay.

Francis M. Woodward, chairman of the Northern California Elks' League, has announced that no games will be played in the league next Sunday, due to many players leaving town over the holiday.

Karasick and Park Stage a Pretty Draw

Wrestlers Give Clever Exhibition At the Shrine Pavilion.

The wrestling customers got a wonderful run for their money at the Shrine Auditorium last night, when Al Karasick of Oakland and Douglas Park of Kansas City went to a draw. Park took the first fall in an hour and ten minutes, using the Joe Stecher scissors, and Karasick evened up the match by taking the second fall in twenty-two minutes with a head lock and body scissors. The men went the rest of the two hours without a fall.

The match had the fans on their feet yelling as both men were repeatedly in jeopardy. Karasick stuck half a dozen head locks on his man and had him weakened at times, but Park proved his gameness by tossing himself out of the holds at the risk of breaking his neck. Park used a toe-hold at times and caused the local boy considerable pain, but Al was as game as his little playmate and never whimpered.

Ad Santel was introduced and announced that he would like to wrestle here some time.

In the preliminaries Jack Brown flopped Kid Mesina and Bill Ray took a fall out of Jack Lassen.

In the Big Tent

Elwood (Speed) Martin pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 2 to 1 win over the Pittsburg Pirates in the first game of a double-header. He allowed nine hits, but they were all scattered. Martin hit a double and single for two of the nine hits the Cubs got off Glazner and Carlson.

In the first game Charley Hollocher suffered a broken nose when Cutshaw's bad bounder hit him.

The Cubs also won the second game 8 to 6. Freeman started for the Cubs, but was forced to quit in the second inning after being hit above the temple with a line drive.

Eller, Marquard, Napier and Combe were bumped for twelve hits by the Cardinals, so the Reds lost 7 to 3. Fournier failed to get a hit for the Cards. Sammy Bohner hit two singles for the Reds.

Only two games were played in the American League, the Red Sox defeated the Athletics 8 to 1, and Cleveland defeated St. Louis Browns 12 to 4. Jimmy Tobin, former Salt Lake player, hit a double and two singles for the Browns.

Coveleskie pitched for the Indians and can thank his stars for winning, as the Browns nicked him for seventeen hits.

Sam Hildreth Wants His Money Refunded

NEW YORK, June 29.—Return of the one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars paid for the race horse Playfellow, brother of the noted Man o' War, has been requested by Sam C. Hildreth, it was reported here today.

The racer, which was bought from the Quincy stable recently, was withdrawn from a race at Aqueduct yesterday because of the alleged discovery that the horse was a "wind sucker" and was in no condition to race.

Lardner Worried Over What Dempsey's Plans Are For Rest of Week

By Ring W. Lardner

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Wednesday, June 29.—On the verge of my departure from America's playground, I wish to bring out one more point in the comparison between myself and Jack Dempsey, man for man. Mr. Dempsey has announced that he will leave here Friday morning for Jersey City, but where he is going when he gets here he won't tell. Well, friends, I am leaving here this evening for Great Neck, Long Island, and when I get there I am going home. That is the difference between underhand methods and those of a man that has always been open and above the boards, and lay all my cards on the table. Theys nothing sub rosa or under your hat about the undersigned, and I will go asleep further and add that my home is the handsome white edifice on East shore road, near the coal dump, and my yard looks like the Germans had been there, and if you can't find it from that description why go up to the Tax I buys at the station and inquire for Sheppard Jackson and ask him to take you to Lardners.

That is how I stack up alongside of people that wont tell you where they are headed, and not only that but suppose you was to find out where Dempsey was stopping or Carpentier either one, why what would happen when you got there, a smart alex would meet you at the gate and tell you what the gatekeeper told Bat Nelson down here, namely that he had orders to not even let in the Mayor of Egypt.

On the other hand, if the mayor of Egypt or the empire of Baltimore or just a plain bum comes to my gate and wants to see me why three to four, of the most hospitable gate tenders you ever seen begins to yell daddy at the top of their lungs and not only that but if somebody yells out to them that Daddy ain't home, they will say yes he is because we just seen him at the window.

JACK WILL SPEND FEW MINUTES IN RING

Dempsey's Jersey City plans so much for a writer as compared with a fighter, but it is a writer's business to tell their readers all as they can find out about a fighter and I only wished I could inform my readers in full as to Dempsey's Jersey City plans. The general belief seems to be that he will drop in at Boyles 30 acres for a couple of minutes Saturday afternoon and after that will probably go some place besides church, but where he will spend Friday night is the real mystery, and as close as I am to the champion and have supper with him every 26 years, why I am sorry to say he ain't even confided in me though I as much as asked him point blank.

"Jack," I says for that is how it is between us, "where are you going to stay in Jersey City?"

"I whist I could tell you," comes the reply. I asked him if it was an animal or mineral and he shook his head and I asked him if it was in a tree as I had suspected right along that he might have a tree in mind but he shook his head.

"It's a private house," he finally said. 'A man's house that lives there. "If I mention the man's name will you tell me if I am right?"

"No," he says and I had to pass up my little scheme which was to get a hold of a Jersey City Phone book and read it out loud till he stopped me.

RING WILL SEARCH FOR JACK AT JERSEY

So all and all it looks like I wouldn't be able to get no real clues soon enough to do my readers any good, but personally I am going to Jersey City early Friday evening and make a house to house canvas in the hopes that I will find the spot in time to curl up on the door mat and be near him. Before leaving Atlantic City I desire to thank Tommy Furey and the rest of the boys that have showed my friends and I had such a grand good time down here and am especially grateful to Major Bader for giving up the keys to the city including what was the most interesting sight down here, namely the deep sea net which I may as well exclaim to the readers is a net they leave in the ocean all night and haul it in every morning full of fish. They don't put the net out in the afternoon because that is when the fish are in land watching dempsey train.

I can say without no fear of contraction that the champion is in good shape but as for the condition of the experts I don't believe they are anywheres near as good as they was at Toledo.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan Enters Challenge Set

LONDON, June 29.—Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California and Paris today won the right to play Mlle. Lenglen, champion, in the challenge round of the women's singles in the British tennis championship tournament. She defeated Mrs. Satterthwaite, 6-1, 6-0. She probably will play Mlle. Lenglen Friday.

MICHIGAN TRIMS WASEDA

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 29.—Michigan defeated Waseda University at baseball, 2 to 1. An error permitted the visitors to put over their only run.

Leonard Training For Freeman Bout

CHICAGO, June 29.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, arrived here yesterday and went through a brisk workout in preparation for his bout with Sailor Freedman of Chicago, at Benton Harbor, on July 4. The champion will train here again today and then will leave for Benton Harbor to complete training.

Leonard boxed six rounds today. Experts were of the opinion that he was in top-notch condition. His judgment of distance was good and his blows invariably went to the mark.

No Comparison in Ring Records of the Boxers; 'Trick'-Stuff Laughed At by the Wise Ones

By BOB SHAND.

With the "Battle of the Century" only three days off Jack Dempsey stands out like an illuminated Christmas tree in a graveyard in the dead of night. When the match was first made it looked like a stake horse going up against a selling plater but the comparison is stronger than ever since Georges bought himself the barbed wire and hired the special cops. Carpentier has not done one single thing in training that would lead to the belief that he can stand up against Dempsey for a round and the "secret" stuff is the worst kind of bunk.

Some of the boys back East with nothing else to write about are telling wild tales of the challenger practicing some trick that will nonplus the American and send the championship to Europe. No bit has been given out as to the nature of the "trick" but those who have been in the boxing game a long time know there are no legitimate tricks that can be pulled and consummated against an experienced opponent. It may be of course that Georges is going to pack a pair of guns in his trunks and at the psycological moment order Dempsey to lay down for the count of ten. Or maybe Francois Descamps will use the artillery and make Jack stick up his hand while Georges pokes him on the chin.

The psychic waves and the hypnotic stuff are for the old ladies and the children to read and Ed Smith's tale about the champion being windbroken because he was snorting means absolutely nothing at all. The writer refereed several fights for Dempsey and in each one he "snorted" or "roared" more or less. He was even worse in the gymnasium but the noise never seemed to interfere with his wind. There are mighty few boxers in the ring today who have not some impediment in their breathing apparatus. One good clout across the nostrils plays the dickens with the nasal organs but none of the boxers so affected have been permanently injured. In this case it is Dempsey's nose and he surely can make any funny kind of noises with it he desires.

Carpentier's Ring Record Is Not Impressive.

Carpentier's ring record does not show that Georges is any better than a dozen second grade middleweights now working for short dough in preliminary bouts in this country. His war record is something else again, something to be proud of, but the Dempsey-Carpentier thing is going to be settled with boxing gloves on terra firma and not with bombs in the air.

Dempsey has not licked many good men simply because there were not many good men to be licked. He trimmed everybody worth while in this country and the best boxers in the world reside in the U. S. A. The best evidence of this is that the champions of all classes reside on this side of the Atlantic.

Can you compare Bombardier Wells with Jess Willard or Joe Beckett with Fred Fulton or Dick Smith with Billy Miske? Jack McKenzie, who was timekeeper in the Carpentier-Smith fight, tells me that poor old Dick could hardly hold his hands up, yet Carpentier swung and missed a hundred times before he dropped the Englishman. Old Gunboat Smith had Carp on the floor and out when Descamps pulled one of the well-known "tricks" and jumped in the ring. He convinced the referee that his man had been fouled although the ringside customers did not notice an illegal punch being landed.

"Trick" Stuff Simply A Publicity Stunt.

The way the thing shapes up Georges will play his "trick" in the first round and if he doesn't get away with it his next best "trick" will be to stick out his chin and pray like the dickens. But the "trick" stunt is being used simply to bolster up the Frenchman's chances. He showed so little in the gymnasium that the customers started balking about paying fifty iron men for a seat and something had to be done in a hurry. Hence the mysterious dope.

Georges, of course, is smiling and happy; any guy would be who is going to drag down two hundred thousand dollars for an afternoon's work.

Members of the W. K. Doubting Thomas family need have no fear that the bout will not be on the level. Carp's confident manner and his prediction that he will win on a K. O. mean nothing. It doesn't hurt any more to die when you climb the scaffold smiling, it only takes a little more nerve. Then again Carp's cheery smile may mean that he s not worrying about the outcome. When you know what is going to happen to you there is no occasion to worry.

Dempsey Will Have Weight Advantage.

Another thing Dempsey will be twenty pounds heavier than the challenger and it will be twenty pounds of solid "sock." Corbett licked John L. and Fitz licked Corbett but the old champs were ready for picking when they were flattened. Dempsey is in his prime and it is fifty-fifty with Georges on what fast living they have both done.

Poor Georges does not seem to have an angle anywhere. The well know "dope" boxing ability, speed, endurance, punching power, defense, aggressiveness—they all point to an easy win for Dempsey and there is no occasion for the fight lasting one complete round.

Boxing Notes

The boys who will provide the fistic festivities at the Auditorium next Wednesday in the benefit show for Cliff Lester, have started training and Matchmaker Simpson promises some scrappy matches. The fighters do their training in the evenings and their road work in the mornings as they are all working lads who put in their eight hours on the job every day.

Bob Love, the Idora Park matchmaker, has lined up a nifty card of battlers for Monday afternoon. Bob has secured the services of the navy and marine champions and as the medals go to the winners only there should be some excitement.

Tommy Gibbons Says Champion Is in Shape

By TOMMY GIBBONS
Challenger for the Heavyweight Championship
(Written for the United Press)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 29—Jack Dempsey is in wonderful shape. I saw him work out yesterday. Of course, he didn't do much, but that is to be expected, as he is in superb shape now. Anything but light work might make him go stale.

He seems to be in the best of spirits, and if he has been worried or suffering from nerves he does not show it in his work or conversation.

He does not look as ferocious as he did at Toledo. This is due, of course, to the fact that he did not get sunburned as he did in Ohio when he was training for Willard. He looks bigger, though, and more rugged.

Mon Dieu, Mon Don't and Hoot Mon, Carp's Sore

By FRANK GETTY,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

MANHASSET, N. Y., June 29.—Francois Descamps tripled the guards around Carpentier's camp to insure the French challenger complete quiet after his attack of nerves.

During his manager's absence yesterday, Georges almost broke down under the strain of too many visitors and had to flee the camp. Pierre Mallet, his friend and interpreter, rushed him into a car and they whirled away from the farm, heedless of an approaching storm.

Mallet, pale and flustered, had only one thought.

"Mon Dieu! I've got to get him away from here," he exclaimed, seeing Georges' condition.

A constant succession of visitors who got past the gate during Descamps' absence in New York, worried Carpentier to the point where his nerves seemed about to crack. Excusing himself, he rushed from the house, a heavy blue sweater held over his head in a sort of ostrich-like camouflage, and jumped into his car.

Mallet and the chauffeur tumbled in and they whirled away toward New York. It was the first time Georges has been outside the barbed wire without Descamps' knowledge and only the third time he has left the farm except for road work since his training commenced.

Joe Lynch Defends His Bantam Title

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., June 29.—Joe Lynch was still the bantamweight champion of the world today.

The wiry fighter successfully defended his title against Joe Burman in a fast ten-round battle last night. Burman was the aggressor throughout, but was unable to land any telling blows.

Carpentier's Confidence Is Bolstered As He Thinks It Over.

By JAMES J. CORBETT,
Former World's Heavyweight Champion.
(Written expressly for the International News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, by International News Service.)

NEW YORK, June 29.—Jack Dempsey's recent fight with Bill Brennan did much to bolster Georges Carpentier's confidence in his chances to win the championship. He made this plain to me the other day at Manhasset.

"I look on the Brennan fight with much satisfaction," said Carpentier. "It proved several things to me. Accounts of that fight show that Dempsey can be hit and by a boxer who is comparatively slow. If Brennan could hit the champion, why not I? And I believe if I can hit him he will go down. We shall see.

"Another thing. That report concerning Dempsey's condition. Did it occur to you, Mr. Corbett, that in order to take quite a beating from Brennan in the first six rounds and then come back in the final round and knock his man out, Dempsey had to be in pretty good condition? I'm quite sure he was not as bad off as has been claimed."

Carpentier's angle on the Brennan-Dempsey fight is a brand new one. The bout has been picked to pieces by the critics many times, yet I've never heard anyone say that Dempsey exhibited unusual staying qualities for a man out of shape. Dempsey said after the fight that he was glad that he had proved to himself that he could go the distance.

THE MEEHAN FIGHTS.

The recent bout between Willie Meehan and Tom Gibbons also came in for comment by Georges.

"I am much interested to see where Gibbons knocked out Meehan," he volunteered. "I have seen Gibbons in one bout which he won very quickly. His victory over Meehan recalls to me the fact that Dempsey has never been able to knock Meehan out and has lost two decisions to him. Now then, is this fellow such a man killer after all?"

The result of the Meehan fight is interesting in that it gives us another angle on Gibbons. I understand Gibbons will challenge the winner and stands a good chance of getting a match for Labor Day. If he does he may some day be the world's champion. One can never tell. Gibbons is a serious fellow who lives right and takes good care of himself.

FIVE ROUNDS SHOULD SEE FINISH, SAYS JACK VEIOCK, FIGHT EXPERT

Tiger vs. Panther, With Tiger Making a Meal Off Mr. Panther About the 5th Chukker.

By JACK VEIOCK,
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Tiger versus panther. Fast and vivid combat. The tiger wins.

This is our version of the fistic drama of the century at Jersey City Saturday with Dempsey as the tiger and Carpentier playing the panther role.

Five rounds at the most should bring this combat to a close in favor of the world's heavyweight champion. Three rounds may suffice to bring about a decision, particularly if Carpentier stands up and fights.

Dempsey will be an unleashed fury when the bell rings. That we know. Carpentier will be—and this no one knows. Dempsey may be depended upon to force the battle. Carpentier will very probably attempt to stab at him from long range, endeavoring to keep away and hoping to see the champion fight himself out. Dempsey has been quite a one-round fighter, yet, who can say that he cannot go the distance and who can say that he will wear himself out chasing Carpentier?

Physically, Dempsey is Carpentier's superior. He hits harder and he can take a wallop better. He may not be as fast on his feet as the French challenger but he is the wickedest two-handed puncher in modern heavyweight history and his cyclonic attack is a great defense in itself.

They say Carpentier has an annihilating right. Apparently he has.

Dempsey also has a crushing right hand and his left is full of concentrated T N T.

Jack Has Perfected the One, Two, Three.

Carpentier, they tell us, has mastered the "one two."

Dempsey has perfected the one, two, three.

The champion uses a terrific double hook with his left. It lands like a flash on the body and is immediately switched to the jaw without lost weight or motion. It is followed immediately by a terrific right cross to the jaw.

Stack this triple punch against Carpentier's one-two or his right hand and you have the wallops that will be the real factors in this fight.

Carpentier, it is admitted, has speed and science. Dempsey is no freight train and he has an offense that counter balances anything in the way of a bulge Georges may have in cleverness.

They say Carpentier has uncanny foot work and moves out of the way of punches with the ease and grace of a gazelle. Mebbe, mebbe.

Yet, Mr. Dempsey's head has an uncanny way of moving aside and letting punches go by and all the while he is driving fiercely for his opponent's vital spots.

Dempsey, they say, has never met a boxer like Carpentier; that he has met mostly slow moving targets.

How Many Good Men Has Georges Boxed?

How many fast moving targets has Carpentier disposed of? Certainly none as fast as Dempsey and never a one who could stand up and exchange wallops with the champion.

How did Carpentier get his match with Dempsey?

Wasn't it by knocking out Joe Beckett, a feat accomplished also by Frank Moran and others and by trimming Bat Levinsky in four rounds?

How many American heavyweights can you name who could beat both Beckett and Levinsky to a frazzle? Look 'em over—Gibbons, Brennan, Martin, Fulton, Roper and perhaps several others.

Carpentier, no doubt, is a flashy-lion-hearted fighter who completely outclasses anything they have brought to light on European soil since the days of Charley Mitchell. And no doubt he is one of the greatest men of his weight and inches fistiana has ever known.

LIFEBOAT ESCAPE IS FOILED AT SEA

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—W. G. Carlisle, being returned to Los Angeles from Honolulu to face a charge of automobile theft, planned a daring attempt to escape at sea, according to Deputy United States Marshal T. J. Smiddy, who reached here with his prisoner on the Wilhelmina today.

Carlisle was allowed certain liberties on board ship and a member of the crew reported to the federal officer that Carlisle was secretly stocking a lifeboat with provisions.

BERLIN PAYS 44 MILLION MARKS FOR REPARATION

PARIS, June 29.—Germany has paid forty-four million gold marks to the reparations commission. The payment was in European currency because of the commission's recent decision temporarily not to require dollar payments because of the adverse effect on exchange.

Today's payments make a total of about one-quarter of a billion marks that Germany has turned over to the reparations commission. The balance of the installment, which is in 90 days drafts, is due at the end of July.

AUTOIST IS SENTENCED.

Conferees Agree on Plan For Ending State of War

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Establishment of peace by Congressional resolution reached its final stage yesterday when Senate and House Republican conferees agreed upon a compromise resolution which they hope to have in President Harding's hands late this week.

The compromise embodies the House plan of declaring the state of war with Germany and Austria at an end, and adds the Senate provisions reserving American property and other rights.

Satisfaction over the compromise was expressed by both Senate and House Republican leaders.

TEXT OF AGREEMENT.

The text of the conference agreement follows:

Section 1. That the state of war declared to exist between the Imperial German Government and the United States of America by the joint resolution of Congress approved April 6, 1917, is hereby declared at an end.

Section 2. That in making this declaration and as a part of it, there are expressly reserved to the United States of America and its nationals, any and all rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages, together with the right to enforce the same, to which it or they have become entitled under the terms of the armistice signed November 11, 1918, or any extensions or modifications thereof; or which were acquired by or are in the possession of the United States of America by reason of its participation in the war or to which its nationals have thereby become rightfully entitled; or which, under the treaty of Versailles, have been stipulated for its or their benefit; or to which it is entitled as one or the principal allied and associated powers or to which it is entitled by virtue of an act or acts of Congress or otherwise.

WAR DECLARED ENDED.

Section 3. That the state of war declared to exist between the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian government and the United States of America, by the joint resolution of Congress approved December 7, 1917, is hereby declared at an end.

Section 4. That in making this declaration, and as part of it, there are expressly reserved to the United States of America and its nationals any and all rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages, together with the right to enforce the same, to which it or they have become entitled under the terms of the armistice signed November 3, 1918, or any extensions or modifications thereof; or which were acquired by or are in the possession of the United States of America by reason of its participation in the war, or to which its nationals have thereby become rightfully entitled; or which, under the treaty of Saint Germain-En-Laye or the treaty of Trianon, have been stipulatd for its or their benefits; or to which it is entitled as one of the principal allied and associated powers; or to which it is entitled by virtue of any act or acts of Congress, or otherwise.

PROPERTY DISPOSITION.

Section 5. All property of the Imperial German government or its successor, or successors, and of all German nationals which was on April 6, 1917, in, or has since that date come into the possession or under the control of, or has been the subject of a demand by the United States of America, or any of its officers, agents or employees, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, and all property of the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian nationals which was on December 7, 1917, in or has since that date come into the possession or under control of or has been the subject of a demand by the United States of America or any of its officers, agents or employes, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, shall be retained by the United States of America, and no disposition thereof made, except as shall have been heretofore or specifically hereafter shall be provided by law until such time as the Imperial German government and Royal Austro-Hungarian government, or their successor, or successors, shall have respectively made suitable provision for the satisfaction of all claims against said governments, respectively, of all persons wheresoever domiciled, who owe permanent allegiance to the United States of America and who have suffered through the acts of the Imperial German government or its agents, or the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian government, or its agents, since July 31, 1914, loss, damage, or injury to their persons or property, directly or indirectly, whether through the ownership of shares of stock in German, Austro-Hungarian, American or other corporations, or in consequence of hostilities or of any operations of war, or otherwise, and also shall have granted to persons owning permanent allegiance to the United States of America most favored nation treatment, whether the same be national or otherwise, in matters affecting residence, business, profession, trade, navigation, commerce and industrial property rights, and until the Imperial German government and the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian government, or their successor, or successors, shall have respectively confirmed to the United States of America all fines, forfeitures, penalties and seizures imposed or made by the United States of America during the war, whether in respect to the property of the Imperial German government or German nationals or the Imperial and Royal Austro-Hungarian government or Austro-Hungarian nationals, and shall have waived any and all pecuniary claims against the United States of America.

PROVISIONS REMAIN.

Section 6. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to repeal, modify or amend the provisions of the joint resolution "declaring that certain acts of Congress, joint resolutions and proclamations shall be construed as if the war had ended and the present or existing emergency expired," approved March 3, 1921, or the passport control provisions of an act entitled "An act making appropriations for the diplomatic and consular service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922," approved March 2, 1921; nor to be effective to terminate the military status of any person now in desertion from the military or naval service of the United States, nor to terminate the liability to prosecution and punishment under the selective service law, approved May 18, 1917, of any person who failed to comply with the provisions of said act, or of acts amendatory thereof.

CLEW TO VALISE MYSTERY.

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—The human head found in a valise in a canal near Elk Grove, last week may be that of a Japanese woman who disappeared here four months ago, according to information given Sheriff Ellis Jones by Rev. Mary M. Bowen, pastor of the Japanese mission here. The woman disappeared under "unusual circumstances and surrounded entirely by mystery," according to Rev. Bowen's statement.

Pure liquid air has a bluish tinge.

VETERAN SINGS IN THREE VOICES AT SAME TIME

WASHINGTON, June 29. — The Federal Board for Vocational Education has discovered a man whose vocation, apparently, is to be a chorus all by himself. He is Joseph Kaufman, disabled veteran, and is able, the board's announcement asserts, "to sing in three voices at one time," sounding like "three men singing in unison." Only one similar case has ever been known in the United States.

Kaufman is described also as "an accomplished and versatile saxaphone player and has been placed in a Minneapolis school of music to prepare for a career in vaudeville.

BLUE LAW RULE IN SOUTH SEAS

Sunday "blue laws," a distribution of property rights and temperance regulations are a few of the new wrinkles in government of the Gilbert Islands in the South Pacific according to members of the crew of the trading schooner Lottie Bennett, which has arrived in San Francisco bay from the port of Tarawa.

Following are a few of the new laws:

Four shillings is the daily wage on the plantations.

There shall be no work or fishing on the Sabbath, neither are the women permitted to do the family washing.

Crews of visiting craft are not permitted to purchase liquor, and instead of receiving free cocoanuts shall pay the natives one shilling apiece.

Keep two pairs of shoes in use at the same time. This is better both for the shoes and your feet.

Kidney Trouble Relieved

Oakland, Cal., May 12, 1921.

I had kidney troubles for a long time. I tried different doctors and remedies without any good. One old Chinese doctor here in Oakland tried me for eight months without any result. Then I went and consulted the Fong Wan Herb Specialist, who told me I would be all right within two months by drinking his tea. After taking three weeks I began to feel results, and continued for two more weeks I was entirely well. In gratitude I made this testimonial.

WORLD'S C. OF C. ATTACKS UNEVEN EXCHANGE RATE

Inflation From Currency of Paper Also Held As Trade Evil.

LONDON, June 29.—High Finance was discussed at yesterday's session of the second Congress of the International Chamber of Commerce.

F. O. Watts of St. Louis said that America was determined to partake in the great movement of reconstruction now passing over the world.

Commander Giorgis Mylius, vice-president of the Italian Cotton Association, discussing exchange, pointed out that the nations whose money had depreciated suffered a disadvantage in that they were unable to export to the impoverished countries. Hence, he said, the United States should aim at lessening its exchange to facilitate trade with Europe.

PAPER CURRENCY ATTACKED

George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, said the cause of inflation had been excessive use of paper currency, and that the people of the United States were willing to do their utmost to relieve the situation.

The delegates adopted a resolution declaring that the various governments should pursue a strict policy with regard to taxation and departmental economy; that they should make disarmament effective so as to reduce their budgets; that private enterprises with government support should undertake national and international organization for export credits; that countries with depreciated exchange rates should avoid, so far as possible, new external debts, and that the greatest liberty possible should be granted all commercial and financial transactions.

ON ALLIED DEBTS

Another clause adopted urged that inflation of paper currency be stopped and progressively decreased, and, further, that a plan of action should be drawn up regarding a solution of the problems connected with the inter-allied debts.

Watts, in behalf of the American delegates, urged that no action should be taken along this line, saying that Congress should do nothing to weaken the integrity of obligations made between groups and individuals. Any agreement, he declared, should be reached by common consent, as a result of negotiations between the debtor and creditor countries alike. Mr. Watts added that the American committee believed public opinion on the inter-allied debts should proceed informally without any declaration by such bodies, and that public opinion in the United States would not support the proposal.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 29.—Wheat prices developed moderate strength today after a weak start. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1½ lower with July 1.18½ @1.19, and September 1.17 to 1.17½, were followed by upturns all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Subsequently decided further advances took place. Crop reports from the Northwest were the worst so far this season. The market closed strong, 4¾ to 6 cents net higer, with July $1.23¾ and September $1.22¼ to $1.23.

Corn, after opening ¼ to 1¼ lower, including September at 59¼ to 59⅝, scored substantial general gains.

Steel City Lags Behind In Recovery

By Consolidated Press
Special to TRIBUNE
By H. B. LAUFMAN.

PITTSBURGH, June 29.—Manufacturers in this district are cutting production costs as an essential to returning industries to normal. These reductions in costs and accompanying lowering of selling prices, have not yet resulted in stimulating trade, but Pittsburgh was one of the last points to feel the depression in business and is expected to follow others in revival.

The McKeesport Tin Plate company has increased its operations to 28 hot mills, but in the Mahoning valley operation of steel producers have dropped to about twenty per cent of capacity. Practically all employees of the Carnegie Steel plant except foremen have been notified of an indefinite lay off, even repair work being postponed.

Oil operations are limited and drilling companies have cancelled orders for pipe and supplies. Prices in the bituminous coal market show little change, with most of the mine output going to the lakes.

Building is still tied up by disagreement between contractors and workers over wages. Retail business is spotty, although one large department store is celebrating the fact that business so far this year has exceeded that of a similar period of 1920.

FARMERS TO FIX PAY AT HAYWARD SESSION TONIGHT

Growers Expected to Attend Meeting From All Parts of County.

HAYWARD, June 29.—In an effort to determine a satisfactory wage scale for farm labor in Alameda county, a meeting of all the principal agriculturists of this region is planned to take place at the Firemen's hall here this evening.

A. I. Garin, one of the largest employers of farm labor in this district, has been selected by the farm bureau to act as chairman at tonight's meeting. Notices have been sent broadcast to the Alameda county farmers and a large attendance is anticipated.

The meeting is one of the most important events sponsored by the farm bureau in this county. The determination of a fair and satisfactory wage scale similar to the ones in operation in other counties is vitally necessary to the development of the agricultural life of this region, according to Garin. He states that expert advice has been brought to bear on the subject and will be presented at the meeting this evening.

Robert J. Martin of 391 Sixty-second street, Oakland, and Alice May White, daughter of E. A. Harris of Hayward, were married at Trinity church here last Saturday, according to an announcement made today. The groom is an employee of the Pacific Gas and Electric company in San Francisco and the couple plan to reside in Oakland.

The organization of a ladies' auxiliary of the local post of the American Legion will come before the gathering of the legionaires this coming Friday evening. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Another grass fire, this time at Simons street near Castro, called out the local fire department Tuesday afternoon. Lack of wind made the control of the blaze a simple matter.

The annual Sunday school picnic of Trinity Episcopal church was held at Fernwood Park, Niles Canyon, this afternoon. Between twenty-five and thirty youngsters enjoyed the hay ride to the picnic grounds. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burr and Mrs. W. S. Clark assisted the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. MacClean in conducting the outing.

PITTSBURGH

By JAMES ALLERTON.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Preparations for the close down over July fourth is proving a decided factor in the business situation throughout this section. The retail merchants are in the midst of a decided spurt, with especial demand for summer clothing, sporting goods and vacation accessories. Factories and manufacturing plants, however, are deferring any increase in activity or production until after the holiday.

Retail merchants are offering some attractive bargains. This is along the lines so strongly emphasized by leaders here in various lines of industry, that business must be sought actively rather than by passive waiting.

Inactivity in jobbing and wholesale lines may be attributed in part to approach of the semi-annual closing of accounts, stock taking and inventory period.

Money is easier throughout this section. Collections are better and many concerns are steadily liquidating their loans. The increase in building in the greater city continues and drygoods prices are steadily with fair demand for future delivery.

BUSINESS TOPICS

CHAIR PLANTS MERGE.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Consolidation of the plants of a group of chair manufacturers in the Middle West into one big company, with a capitalization of twenty-five million dollars, has been agreed on. Details of the arrangement now are being worked out by the Liberty Industrial Corporation. The headquarters of the new organization probably will be Chicago. The plan provides for the exchange of stock in the individual corporations for stock in the new company. The plan is subject to final audits and appraisals.

QUAKER CITY TRANSIT.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—Management of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit system announces that four million dollars will be expended immediately for pressing improvements. No present resumption of dividends by the corporation is contemplated. Raising of fares from five to seven cents, with four tickets for twenty-five cents, and reduction of wages has increased the income of the company for the fiscal year only about three hundred thousand dollars, because of the reduction in traffic.

WAGE CUT ACCEPTED.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 29.—Fifteen hundred employees of the Brookside Textile Mills here has returned to work, having voted to accept a wage cut of 22½ per cent. Many of the workers have been out since April 11. The management recently opened the mills on a basis providing for the employment of both union and non-union help.

COMMODITY NEWS

NEW YORK, June 29.—The used-car market is about fifty per cent of normal. The normal turnover here is about 900 cars a month. No sweeping reduction in used car prices is expected for some months.

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—There is a steady demand for several makes of automobiles in this territory. Many new oil filling stations are being built.

LUMBER.

BOSTON, June 29.—Lumber and building materials are slightly more active in New England, with much repair work being done. Financial conditions of the New England railroads, however, is holding purchases of bridge lumber and ties down to absolute necessities. With sailing vessels charters and prices in the South down to pre-war levels, indications are that prices for yellow pine will not be further decreased.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—Plans have been completed for the transfer of millions of seedling trees in state plantations to sections selected for reforestation under the plan of State Forester Pinchot, which involves expenditure of a million dollars.

HOSIERY.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Demand for full-fashioned hose has caused considerable speculation among jobbers. In some cases they have been able to obtain high prices for white silk hose which they controlled. The leading factors in the artificial silk divisions are sold up through August. Most of the full-fashioned mills are sold into the first of next year.

GLASS.

PARKER'S LANDING, Pa., June 29.—The Wightman Bottle and Glass company has placed two more shops in operation.

SHIPBUILDING.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—While the shipbuilding industry is at a low ebb so far as construction of large vessels is concerned, development of river and bay service on Chesapeake Bay has produced some business. Several vessels are being rebuilt at a local yard for the Buxton line. These are designed for service between Richmond and Norfolk. Two passenger and freight vessels for coast and bay service are to be constructed for operation in 1922.

RICE.

NEW ORLEANS, June 29.—The low cost of rice has attracted heavy buying from Europe. Since May 1 about 25,000 pockets a day have been shipped abroad.

METALS.

LONDON, June 29.—Although the gold output of the Transvaal mines has been exceedingly heavy this spring, there is small indication of a further increase, according to advices from Johannesburg. About 2000 men have been laid off.

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 29.—The Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad is concentrating 750 freight cars between Fort Worth and Sulphur Springs to handle the first shipments north and east of the large watermelon crop.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Watermelon prices continue high here, although 127 cars carrying from nine to eleven hundred melons each have arrived here within the last week. The melons brought from $550 to $800 a car.

CANNED GOODS.

EASTPORT, Me., June 29.—The clam factories of the eastern Maine coast have concluded their season with a pack less than half the normal size. Lack of materials, cans and labor difficulties are adavnced as explanations for the short pack.

FASHION NEWS

NEW YORK, June 29.—Designers favor the longer mode of skirts, but there are indications that the public is not inclined to agree. All dealers ridicule the suggestion that skirts remain at their present distance from the ground for the young and lengthen in ratio to years. Nothing could be more nearly certain than that women who are not so young as they used to be will decline to placard that fact by proportionate lowering of skirts.

LONG BEACH, L. I., June 29.—Those whose passion for "galloping dominoes" pursues them even to the beach, may "lose the dice" but not in the water—that is if they use the new "bones" which have made their appearance here. The beach dice are of light balsam wood about six inches square. They float.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Four or five colors already have indicated their enduring popularity for blouses for the fall season. Midnight and deep ruct appear frequently. In the new browns fungi, yellowstone and buff have found instant favor. Canard, scarlet blossom furnish the small touches for trimming.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 29.—While prices were 2 to 9 points lower at the opening of the cotton market today the undertone was steady and offerings from Liverpool were absorbed by Japanese and New Orleans interests. Weakness at Liverpool just before the start here was attributed to liquidation ahead of the United States government report on the crop. Wall street and docal traders operated on both sides of the market. After the start the list acted fairly steady with a narrow range and was about seven points net lower at the end of the first fifteen minutes.

NEWS OF U. S. INDUSTRIAL AND FINANCIAL CIRCLES

BUSINESS PLIGHT CLAIMED BETTER THAN IT APPEARS

Fundamentals Reviewed As Evidence; Stable Day Is Foreseen.

By HOLLAND.
Exclusive to Oakland TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, June 29.—An executive of one of the largest of the American industries has confessed to feeling, until within a few days, somewhat blue wondering how long a time would pass before his corporation would be doing a business equal to that it enjoyed previous to War days. Now he says that the situation seems to be clearing up.

Since the first of June the orders which have come for the products of this industry already have been greater in amount than in any month since October of last year. The commodities are utilized in manufacturing industries of all kinds. Therefore, if an increase of orders has come since June 1, it is evident that many, if not all manufacturing industries are also encouraged.

For the moment, the situation is somewhat acute due largely to passing of dividends of various corporations.

The corporatin referred to, did not postpone or pass its dividend, although it did reduce it a little. The management was wise in war days when the business that came was enormous and the profits large, because a considerable part of the profits were put into cash surplus or readily negotiable securities.

LACK OF SURPLUS.

Almost all of the dividends which have been passed except on railroads, represent failure to build up surplus. Railroads had no capacity to build up surplus.

In many cases surpluses were put into raw material. The great leather corporation's surplus in excess of $30,000,000 was put into hides and skins, and that too at a time when the prices for this raw material were very high. The great deflection in the prices of hides and skins, practically urged out the leather surplus, therefore dividends must ultimately be paid.

The business situation of this time is without any precedent. Heretofore when business has become stagnant bankruptcies in large numbers were reported and actual or dreaded panic overshadowed the buisness world. This had always been due to over-production and over-expansion as well as to the insufficiency of our national banking system before the Federal Reserve System was established. The panics of 1873, 1884, the world crisis of 1892 and '93, and the panic of 1907, were all due to over-production, over-expansion and to the insufficiency of our old national banking system.

PRODUCTION IS LOW.

None of these factors is to be found in the present situation. Instead of over-production there is under-production. Our Federal Reserve Banking System has demonstrated its strength and its capacity to prevent panic. Some refer to the cotton situation saying that rarely has there been no over-production of cotton. A year or two before the European war began, our exports of cotton were a little more than 10,000,000 bales. It would be more than that now if Europe was in condition to pay for cotton. Some reports have reached New York which indicate that that products of the steel industry are much greater than the demand for them. At a superficial reading of this report it might be assumed that there is over-production but how can there be over-production when the American steel industry is working at not more than 30 per cent of its capacity, while the world stands in need of American steel and iron commodities.

Aside from the labor issue, meaning by that the necessity of a proportionate deflation in wages compared with the deflation in commodities, it is undoubtedly the fact that under-production, due largely to world conditions, in part explains the business depression. We have good roads but there should be more of them. The railroads and their equipment stand in need of great expenditures. If the building operation of the United States were equal to the need, this would furnish some relief.

BETTER THAN IT SEEMS.

We are under producing not because we lack the facilities for production. Probably American constructive mechanism is at the peak of its efficiency. The needs of the world, enormous as they are, easily can be met by our mills and our factories. The American banking system has demonstrated its strength. Credit conditions are much easier and we have in addition to our wonderful natural resources a supply of gold and silver which is without precedent in the history of any nation.

The business situation is better than it seems to be. That is the new stand taken by A. C. Bedford, chairman of the Board of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. He was reported some weeks ago as having said that he was confident that the peak of the depression has passed. He had not changed that view. In his recent address to the representatives of the Refinery Conferences of the Standard Oil Company, he said, that although conditions do look somewhat bad yet when they are placed in comparison with conditions abroad and when it is borne in mind that the resources of the United States are stupendous both natural and human, then the pessimism which some people in the United States now feel cannot be regarded as justified. Bedford went on to say that he would view the situation as an optimist and he intimated that the spirit of optimism will surely prevail throughout the United States before many months have passed.

It was said to the Standard Oil representatives at that recent meeting that we have seen prices for goods pushed to the point at which the market on them has closed and as a result the men who made the goods were forced to walk the streets, not because the goods were not needed, but because the public would not buy at the high prices. Stacks of leather were piling up and shoemakers were out of work although half the world was going almost barefoot. This, however, is a condition which is passing away. It is curing itself, and within a few months wages, prices and the buying power of the public will be stabilized.

ALAMEDA BANKS WILL BE MERGED, ANNOUNCEMENT

National and Savings Will Become "Bank of Alameda."

ALAMEDA, June 29.—The Alameda National Bank, founded in 1878 and the oldest financial institution in the city, and the Alameda Savings Bank, almost equally as old, are to be merged shortly into a single concern to be known as the Bank of Alameda, the original name of the Alameda National Bank.

Final approval of the legal details of the merger is expected within the next few days from the comptroller of the currency, Washington, D. C., and from the new state superintendent of banking, Jonathan S. Dodge.

The Alameda National Bank, second oldest in the county, was originally located at the corner of Park street and Bank alley, or Bank street as it is now called. The building, still standing, is occupied by a soft drink saloon.

SAVINGS BANK OPENED.

In 1890 the officers of the Alameda National Bank, sensing the need for a savings bank, created the Alameda Savings Bank, which has been housed in the same building and which has been virtually a part of the older bank.

The bank merger was decided on because of the confusion of customers of both banks incident to the operation of both institutions in one room. The stockholders of both banks, being practically identical, coupled with the further fact that a state bank with membership in the federal reserve system assumes the same status as a national bank, also prompted the consolidation.

The consolidated institution hereafter will conduct its business under the revived name of Bank of Alameda, by which name it has long been known by many, and, with its Webster-street branch, will be a bank for savings, commercial, trust, bond, foreign and safe deposit business, with an invested capital of approximately $800,000 and resources in excess of $7,000,000.

LIST OF OFFICERS.

The officers of the present banks are: J. R. Knowland, president; I. L. Borden, vice-president; J. E. Hall, manager; Charles E. Tabor, cashier; W. McKean, assistant cashier; J. J. Armstrong, auditor, and E. K. Taylor, attorney. The directors are: J. R. Knowland, I. L. Borden, George W. Scott, A. V. Clark and P. S. Teller.

J. E. Hall, manager of the bank, discussing the consolidation, said:

"Our stockholders, directors and office have felt for several years, for the reason that our two banks are so closely allied, a single operating institution, with increased capital, containing all department of banking—commercial, savings, trust, bonds, foreign and safe deposit—fortified by membership in the federal reserve system, will enable it better to keep pace with the rapid growth and development of Alameda and the Eastbay shore in general."

Business and Finance

Although the operating income of the Southern Pacific Company and its subsidiaries increased nearly 18 per cent in 1920 over 1919, it was wholly inadequate to meet the mounting cost of operations. This was the outstanding feature of the 1920 annual report of that railroad company issued today to its 45,458 stockholders. The report was made by Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the executive committee, and released by President William Sproule.

In making public the report, William Sproule, president of the road, pointed out that "operating expenses increased out of all proportion to operating revenues, being 28.52 per cent bigger, largely due to higher wage scales and national labor agreements and to increased cost of fuel and materials."

As a result the net railway operating revenue decreased 21.68 per cent, it is declared.

Total railway operating revenues for 1920 aggregated $282,269,504, an increase of $42,612,232. Total railway operating expenses of $242,113,790 increased $53,728,618.

The net railway operating income was $21,312,344 in 1920, as against $39,677,607 in 1919, a decrease of $18,364,723, or 46.28 per cent.

The constant growth of expenses is disclosed in the operating ratio. This amounted to 85.77 per cent in 1920, against 78.61 in 1919, 73.43 per cent in 1918 and only 62.18 per cent in 1917.

Maintenance of equipment alone increased slightly over 24 per cent and the heavy increase of traffic expenses resulted chiefly from the regaining of traffic diverted while the road was under federal control, it is stated.

Current assets of the Southern Pacific system, including cash approximating $16,500,000, show a large increase over the previous year. Included in this account are materials and supplies of the company's oil properties, which were listed at $40,263,359, against $1,555,151 in 1919.

Current liabilities include loans and bills payable of $5,000,000 and an increase of $24,416,500 in the company's capital stock. Total corporate surplus of $287,617,068 shows an increase of $12,728,296.

A statement issued by the company in summary of the report says:

Since the return of the Southern Pacific lines from government to private operation on March 1, 1921, the initiative of the organization has resumed effect, normal service has been restored, unfair rate relationships have been corrected and progress has been made in recovering diverted traffic.

Federal operation of the lines is repeatedly scored in the summary of the report, which says in part:

The Southern Pacific Company shares with other railways the disastrous effect of undermaintenance of freight cars during federal control. These cars were used by the Railroad Administration regardless of ownership and were operated principally upon other roads having no ownership interest in their proper maintenance. Of the company's box cars 87.5 per cent were away from home lines when the roads were returned to private management.

With the return of these cars to home lines when the roads were the close of 1920 and the early part of 1921 the great extent of their undermaintenance has been developed. On June 1, 1921, with 80 per cent of our cars on home lines, we find 16 per cent of them are in bad order and require repairs, as compared with 4.6 per cent out of service for repairs when the road went under federal control at the end of 1917. The work of placing this equipment in proper condition must be undertaken during the current year, at very heavy cost.

As indicated in last year's report the following rolling stock ordered for increased requirements and to replace vacated equipment, was included in Southern Pacific Equipment Trust, Series E, created June 1, 1920: Seventy-two locomotives, 4815 freight train cars, 50 passenger train cars and 140 electric cars. The total estimated purchase price of such equipment is $22,500,000. A part of this equipment has been placed in service and it is expected that the remainder will be delivered and placed in service during the calendar year 1921.

PEAR CROP SHIPMENT HANGS ON MEETING.

Canners of pears and representatives of growers met in San Francisco today the price of the 1921 crop being the chief point at issue.

Pear growers announced some days ago that unless canners met eastern prices, all this year's crop, which is short, will be shipped east. At present the eastern prices are around $75 and $80 a ton. It was not expected that the coast canners would offer any such figure.

The decision of the canners today was expected to have considerable influence on the local pear market into which shipments are now expected very soon. This far offerings of pears have been chiefly windfalls and unripe fruit.

CARNIVALS FACE NEW U. S. TAX RULING.

John L. Flynn, collector of internal revenue, has received a ruling from the department with regard to the taxability of outdoor amusement parks, itinerant circuses and carnivals which charge no general gate admission but issue combination tickets to a number of attractions. Tax should be computed and collected in the amount that would be due from a person purchasing individual tickets to the various attractions regardless of the price for which the combination is sold, it is announced.

Thus a combination ticket of twelve coupons would call for:

Three attractions to which the admission is 10c, tax 3c.

Three attractions to which the admissions is 15c, tax 6c.

Three attractions to which the admissions is 20c, tax 6c.

Three attractions to which the admission is 25c, tax 9c; total tax, 24c.

The ticket is sold for $1.50. Since these tickets sold at reduced rates the tax should not be 15 cents based on the $1.50—but must be the total of the tax computed on the price of admission to the individual attraction, which in this case is 24c.

If persons who do not purchase the combination ticket are required to pay an admission to enter the park, then the combination ticket should also cover the tax computed on the above admission.

SUGAR DOWN AGAIN; EGGS GAINING FAST.

Attention was attracted to the opposite movements in the sugar and the butter and egg markets today.

Sugar from coast refineries declined to $5.60 for cane granulated, 10 cents under yesterday and the eighth cut this month. Beet sugar was quoted at $5.40. This means $5.85 net for cane sugar to Oakland retailers and $5.65 for beet sugar.

In the egg market gains of 1c a day for the last three days increased to a gain of 2 cents today. Butter was up a half cent. Quotations were: Eggs, 32½c; butter, 40c.

Egg price increases at this time of year are usual and at the present price eggs are nearly 20 cents cheaper than at the same time last year, but a gain of 5 cents in four days is considered important stiffening of the market and is expected to result in the beginning of storage withdrawals. Egg production in this area has decreased, markedly, it is reported. Butter's gain, 3 cents in three days, fell to a half-cent today.

UPWARD TREND IN NEW YORK ON DULL TRADING

Mexican Pete Proves Weakest; Steels and Equipments Benefited.

NEW YORK, June 29.—With the exception of Mexican Petroleum, which declined 1½ points, price tendencies at the dull opening of today's stock market were istinctly upward.

Speculative interest again centered in rails and steels, the chief features of yesterday's rally. Louisville and Nashville, Chesapeake and Ohio, Reading and New York Central displayed marked strength. Bethlehem and United States Steels were in demand with American Smelting, American Sugar, Sumatra Tobacco, Central Leather, American International and Allied Chemical. United States Realty represented the obscure specialties at a gain of 2⅝ points.

Undr steady pressure, Mexico Petroleum increased its loss to 3½ points, but the remainder of the list strengthened on light operations. Steels and equipments were further benefited by indications that the railroad companies were coming in the market for supplies.

Studebaker and Pierce-Arrow, common and preferred, and some of the oils, notably General Asphalt and Royal Dutch, were firm. Sugars strengthened on a moderate advance in the price of refined and coppers continued to harden on purchasers for foreign account.

Liberty 3½s were conspicuously heavy. Call money opened at 5½ per cent.

The market made further gains later, but prices eased irregularly before the finish on call money's rise to 6 per cent. The closing was firm. Sales approximated 550,000 shares.

MEXICAN OIL TAX SET FOR SATURDAY.

The protest by the representatives of foreign oil companies against President Obregon's recent decree increasing the export taxes on oil will be answered by Mexico City within the next week, says a statement issued by the Mexican treasury department today. The new taxation is to become effective July 1 and an effort is being made to postpone the date until adjustment has been made.

POWER ADMINISTRATION BROUGHT TO AN END.

The Railroad Commission has discontinued the office of power administrator created in June, 1918, as a war emergency. It is suggested, however, that the work of co-ordination of power uses may well be continued with advantage to the companies. Should occasion arise in the future, regulation will be resumed.

NOTES.

A merger of oil properties in Oklahoma and Texas, valued at approximately $4,000,000, by which holdings of the Oil State Petroleum company, the Healdton Oil company and the Pennsylvania-Oklahoma Oil company are taken over by the Garfield Refining company, was announced. John W. Garland and C. R. Sammons of Cleveland were said to be interested.

The Chicago & Alton for the year ended December 31, 1920, reports a deficit after taxes and charges of $683,647 against $997,460 in 1919.

Directors of the New York Board of Trade today voted to close the exchange July 2.

The Federal Reserve bank of New York announces that $29,000,000 of United States deposits is to be withdrawn from member banks tomorrow, making $62,000,000 for the week, one of the largest drafts recorded for many weeks. In consequence of $33,000,000 of withdrawals yesterday money rates were a trifle firmer, and as the turn of the month approaches a further stiffening is predicted in well informed circles.

The California-Oregon Power company has been granted an increase of 5 to 10 per cent over present schedules by the Railroad Commission today. More than 80 per cent of the power sold in California is delivered under contract to irrigation companies and the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

CANNERS ENDING ASPARAGUS PACK; MARKET IS DULL

Raspberries Cheapen, But Firm Prices Are Felt On Currants.

Tomorrow will be the last day on which plants of the California Packing Corporation will receive asparagus for this year's pack. Notice to this effect has been sent growers, who are ready to end their cut.

The Pacific Coast Canning company will continue packing asparagus until July 10, it was announced, and has sent out orders for supplies to run until that date.

All other plants have closed or are closing.

The year, according to those who have handled the largest amounts of asparagus, has been light and unsatisfactory, although a large volume of asparagus has been packed. Many of the growers will do well to break even, one leading handler said today.

The advance in the initial quotation by canneries of approximately 15 cents on all grades, announced this week, is the result of the light pack. At this price choicest packs are more than $1 under last year's opening figure.

Mid-week trading on the Oakland market was light today with a general weakened tendency in prices, which, however, is not expected to hold the remainder of the week.

Vegetables are coming in in increased quantity. Alameda growers of sweet corn have made a radical change by delivering their product in crates. Sweet corn always has been delivered in sacks heretofore. Today it was quoted at from $4.50 to $6 a sack. From the crate the corn sold at 60 cents a dozen and under. These prices are at a decline from those obtaining for the last few days.

Raspberries were again cheaper today, best sales being recorded around 90c, while some drawers went for 75c. There were delivered 539 chests of berries, of which about 160 were bush berries. Strawberries were generally of better quality than for several days, fewer moldy boxes appearing in the chests. The gain of currants has been one of the strong features of the bush berry market, the currents today having gone to $1.30 a drawer on limited delivery.

Poultry, especially fryers, shows strong with the approach of the holidays. The one weak point is ducks, which were sold at recessions today. Old ducks were hardly saleable and young ducks were quoted at 25c, although sales were reported below that.

What is your money worth?

Throughout the world today there is an acute demand for capital. Big, strong companies, well established in business and with demonstrated earning power, want to borrow money.

Several years ago these same companies paid 5 and 6 per cent for money. Today they will pay you 7 and 8 per cent.

Are you getting what your money is worth? If you have saved $500 or more and are not now buying bonds, it will pay you to look into these opportunities.

Don't think that bonds are only for the wealthy. Any man with $500 or $1000 can buy from us exactly the same good bonds we sell to big financial institutions and private investors. Right now we have a very attractive list of good first mortgage bonds—safe, well-secured, high-yield bonds. Send today for List O. T.

If you are interested in very high grade California utility bonds, ask particularly for full information about Los Angeles Gas & Electric Corporation General and Refunding Mortgage 7% Bonds, due 1931, at 97½ to yield 7.35%.

The Waterfront

With the arrival of the schooner Meteor from the South Sea Islands, a total of 2360 tons of copra has been brought into this port, during the past twenty-four hours by three vessels, and brings the copra arriving at this port up to 5067 tons for the month of June to date. Several cargoes on the way are due to arrive here at any time.

The barkentine Alicia Haviside arrived here yesterday from Iquique after a passage of 64 days, in ballast. She took on some fresh provisions and sailed for Bellingham at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, where she will load lumber for an off shore port. She was built for the Shipping Board, and was intended for a steamer of the Ferris type, but was sold after the hull was launched and rigged into a barkentine and has just completed her maiden voyage. The government intends to sell all the wooden hulls they now own on the Pacific coast. There are in all about 500 wooden craft to be sold, and they will bring about $500 each, which is a loss of about $75,000 each to the government. If not disposed of these wooden craft will soon be eaten by toredos and then will be useless for any purpose. Floating property has dropped in value since the war ended to about 75 per cent.

The Standard Oil tanker S. C. Dodd, in tow of the tug Vivo, ran afoul of the fishing schooners Tacoma, Sunlight and the Labor which then went adrift at San Pedro Harbor. The Sunlight and Labor were found drifting and towed to the dock of the Globe Mill. The Tacoma could not be found until this morning and was badly damaged. There was no one on board of any of the schooners when the tug and steamer cut their mooring lines.

Princess Louise will be the name of the new steamer now under construction at Vancouver, B. C., for the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company. The first vessel owned by this company was of the same name but she was a side wheeler and is now a coal hulk. This was over thirty years ago, and the new craft was named in her honor.

The steamer West Jaffrey, which sailed from Santos for New York on June 22, was ordered to call at Port Spain to tow the disabled steamer Zaca to New York, for repairs.

Captain Fred C. Dellegar, of the steamer Meridian, reports by wireless, in latitude 44.24 north and longitude 134.39 west, on June 25, he passed a tree projecting ten feet out of water with roots attached. This is the second time the same tree has been sighted by vessels during the past ten days and reported to the United States hydrographic office by the masters.

At 4:40 a. m. yesterday morning, Captain B. W. Olson brought the steamer C. A. Smith through the Golden Gate from Coos Bay with 1,500,000 feet of lumber, and went direct to Bay Point, unloaded the cargo, and at 11 o'clock last night was passing out the Golden Gate for Coos Bay for another cargo, which breaks all records of unloading lumber at the river port.

The power schooner Mount Rainier was burned to the water's edge at the harbor of Rosario, and is a total loss. Her anchor and chains have been recovered by divers who were sent down by the Underwriters. She is a new vessel, built at Aberdeen, Washington, four years ago. Her hull was constructed of wood. She was 2397 gross tons register and was owned by G. Williams Wigmore Steamship Company.

The gasoline tugs are still enjoying a harvest on the bay and rivers, owing to the steam tugboat engineers on a strike, and towing of all description is being done by gas tugs. All are handling large vessels as well as small ones, without any trouble or mishaps and are even towing windjammers to sea and return.

Change of masters registered at the U. S. Custom House:

Captain J. G. McArthur, side wheel steamer City of Seattle; Captain A. D. Tibbets, steamer Curacao; Captain Fred T. Nelson, steamer Palas; Captain I. S. Durkee, ship Annie M. Reid; Captain A. E. Rosendal, schooner King Cyrus.

The column of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey Chart Soundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths, unless preceded by the minus sign or dash (—), when the numbers are subtractive from depths given on the chart.

Note—In the above tabulation of tides, the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

RODEO BOOSTERS TELL PLANS TO OAKLAND AD MEN

Livermore Show Is Memorial to Fallen Heroes, Says Manager.

Oakland business and professional men were given an opportunity yesterday to see for themselves just what brand of wild west daredeviltry and rodeo enthusiasm they will witness at Livermore on July 2, 3 and 4. Appearing before the Oakland Advertising club luncheon at the Hotel Oakland were some of the best ropers, riders and bulldoggers that the world has ever known, some of whom exhibited their skill with the rope.

Among those who appeared in person were Tex Walker, world's champion trick roper; "Skeeter" Bill Martin, fancy trick roper and bulldogger, and Benny Corbett. Among the cowgirls present were Vera McGinnis, world champion trick woman rider; Guadalupe Warne, and Dorothy Morrell, world champion woman bronco rider.

Joe Aurreocoechea, manager of the Livermore Rodeo, explained to the members of the Advertising Club the purpose of the annual rodeo.

ANNUAL MEMORIAL

"We have dedicated the Livermore Rodeo as an annual memorial to those who went from Livermore to fight for this country in the World War. It is not staged for profit, but as an annual event to remind the people of the sacrifices made by our young men in the war.

"It may seem to some that a rodeo depicting the old west is hardly a fitting remembrance, but Livermore is not blessed with many sources from which we might choose another method of reviving annually our memory of the sacrifice made by our soldiers. The rodeo was chosen because of its magnetic power; it not only brings together the people of Livermore but the people of the entire county, and on this occasion we urge the people of Oakland, the families, to join with us in making this, the third annual rodeo, the most successful of any that has heretofore been staged."

SPECIAL TO RUN

A rodeo special, which will leave Oakland on the morning of July 2 at 10:30 o'clock from First and Broadway over the Southern Pacific line, was announced by the rodeo committee, which is headed by William Holshouser.

The residents of all Eastbay cities have been invited by the committee to join with Oakland in making the opening day a grand success. The train will return to Oakland at 5:30 o'clock in the evening. Train accommodations will be provided for the following two days, as well as camp sites and accommodations for automobile parties which wish to spend the entire three days at Livermore.

Japanese a Detriment, Writer Informs Club

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Declaring that the Japanese are a detriment to America and that this country should be built up by white men, Captain Peter B. Kyne, writer, spoke to members of the Optimists' Club here at the St. Francis Hotel and outlined what he believed would solve the Japanese problem in California.

"Our greatest danger is from lax immigration laws, and these laws should be restricted to only those people who can assimiliate with Americans," said Kyne.

"I have been away from California many times in the past three years," said Kyne, "and each time I return I notice a very marked increase in the Japanese population. I know what kind of people are coming into this country from my study of them abroad, and we want none of the insidious propaganda they are spreading here."

PACHECO IS HELD.

Spanish Guns Available for Local Parks

Another cargo of cannon may arrive in Oakland in the near future for the beautification of Oakland's public parks.

Officers at Mare Island recently sent Mayor Davie a communication announcing that Mare Island has many old Spanish cannon which may be borrowed by the various cities for exhibition purposes. If the cities treat the cannon right, it is intimated, the loan may possibly never be recalled.

The Park Board yesterday read a protest against the proposed auto camp at "The Hights," Joaquin Miller's home, on the ground that this land should be kept sacred to the memory of the poet, and it is far off the main traveled road anyhow. Another protest was received from dwellers in the Madison Park apartments, who objected to the burning of rubbish in Madison park, and the smoke arising therefrom. The latter complaint will be investigated.

Yesterday's was the last meeting of the old park board, which will lose Dr. S. H. Buteau. His successor will be appointed by the Mayor. A dinner is being arranged in Dr. Buteau's honor, the details to be arranged later.

PIONEER DEAD AT AGE OF 89

STOCKTON, June 29.—Junius Farnsworth, a California pioneer, well known throughout the Mother Lode section, passed away this morning at the age of 89 years. The recent warm spell sapped his vitality and he failed steadily since.

Farnsworth was the oldest living past master of the Mother Lode Masonic bodies and also the oldest living California officer of the Civil war, having seen service with the California guard during the days of the rebellion. He took a prominent part in saving California for the Union.

NATIVE SONS TO DO HOMAGE TO 4 CHEVRON FLAG

An American flag, which through its service with the army overseas is entitled to four gold chevrons, will be the object of ceremonies at Golden Gate playground, Sixty-third street and San Pablo avenue, on Sunday afternoon, July 10.

The flag is owned by Claremont parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West and was loaned to Company A, Eighteenth American Engineers, the first engineering unit of the American army to go overseas. Company A used the flag for official purposes during the entire two years of its service in France and then in July, 1919, returned the banner to Claremont Parlor. This will be a celebration of the second anniversary of its return.

The ceremonies will be attended by Oakland and Alameda county officials and hundreds of Native Sons from both sides of the bay. A special feature will be the planting of a California redwood at the playground in commemoration of those who paid the supreme sacrifice overseas. The ceremonies will be preceded by a parade through the Golden Gate district. Former Governor George C. Pardee will be the orator of the day and Harry Burns of Claremont Parlor is general chairman of the arrangements committee.

TARDY BUDGET REPORTS ROUSE BACCUS' WRATH

Morse and Soderberg Called to Task for the Delays.

Now that the budget of the Board of Education has been submitted, a larger item than all the other budgets put together, the estimates of all the departments for the coming fiscal year, except those of Commissioners Morse and Soderberg, of the departments of public health and safety and public works, are in hand.

The budgets of the various departments must first go to Commissioner Baccus of the department of revenue and finance, who prunes the estimates as much as possible and submits his amended budget, with all his suggestions, to the City Council, which prunes the figures again. Realizing that this year's budget would be large in spite of the Council's declaration that the tax rate will not be more than $2.44, Baccus sent out a request that all the budgets be submitted by June 15.

Baccus has waxed wroth because of the tardiness of the two big departments.

"Morse and Soderberg both knew about the budget," said Baccus today. "As members of the Council they knew the Council publicly requested the budget figures by June 15."

"The city charter," explained Henry Henken, Soderberg's secretary, "says that the figures must be in three weeks after July 1."

"Or any date set by the City Council," corrected Baccus, who looked it up in the charter. "The Council happened to set June 15 as the date."

Morse's budget is about ready to submit. Henken said today that he did not know when Soderberg's department will report.

Clothing Is Needed By Red Cross Shop

Children's clothing, women's wear, particularly shirtwaists and one-piece dresses, and shoes in good repair, are needed just now by the Junior Red Cross Shop, 557 Twelfth street, telephone Lakeside 161.

A "To Let" sign has been posted on the windows of the store. With a lease expiring in the fall, the fate of the shop, which finances malnutrition clases in the public schools, assists in correcting the defects of crippled children, and provides dental service through the Alameda County Health Center, is uncertain.

The business demand is good, according to Mrs. C. R. Parsons, shop manager, but interest lags on the part of the general public which supplies the stock and volunteer workers.

"We clothe entire families. They leave with self-respect when they find they pay and are not given clothes in charity," she says. "It is a wonderful way of taking care of those with small means and solves many of their problems. It would be a pity to close the shop doors permanently. I do not yet know what may happen when this location is rented or re-leased.

The "Heal-All" of the Indians

There is an herb which grows wild on our Western Plains known as "Manzanita" and to which the Indians attribute wonderful curative and healing virtue.

There is no question but that nature has bounteously provided in the roots and herbs of the field a remedy for many of the ills to which human flesh is heir. This is demonstrated by the wonderful success of that root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been relieving women of America from some of the worst forms of female ills. It will certainly pay any women who so suffers to try it.—Advertisement.

Tribune to Give Returns From Fight by Wireless

Final arrangements are being made today by The TRIBUNE whereby the fight fans of all the Eastbay cities, from San Jose to Vallejo, and from San Francisco to Stockton, and even beyond, will be able to obtain the returns of the Carpentier-Dempsey fight in New Jersey on July 2, by merely going to the wireless telephone station nearest their homes. There are more than 500 wireless phones in the Eastbay section, including stations in Livermore, Pleasanton, Hayward, San Leandro, Niles, Stockton, Modesto, Richmond, Berkeley, San Jose, and other points.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE.

The wireless service is made possible by the co-operation of the wireless telephone operators with P. D. Allen, local wireless telephone expert, who is in charge of the service supplied by The TRIBUNE. Local offices of The TRIBUNE in all the cities receiving the service will be supplied by telephone from the nearest wireless station with the returns as they come in. Tomorrow The TRIBUNE will publish a list of the wireless operators in the various cities and the location of the stations, so that the fight fans will have no difficulty in locating the receiving stations on the day of the fight.

An aerial has been erected on top of the Hotel Oakland, and may be seen suspended between the two towers. It connects with a powerful sending station located in a cupola just under one of the towers. The returns will be flashed from the TRIBUNE local room to the cupola by telephone as fast as they are received, and will immediately be transmitted through the air over a radius of several hundred square miles to the hundreds of fans, who will depend on the TRIBUNE service. The only receiving station in downtown Oakland will be in the lobby of the Hotel Oakland, where a magnovox is being installed. Guests at the hotel and their friends will receive the fight returns without leaving the hostelry.

SCHEDULE OF RETURNS.

The returns will begin to come in some time between 10 and 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning. The exact time will depend on what time the big fight starts in Jersey City. To be sure of receiving the fight news, round by round, and getting all the thrills one might get were he sitting at the ring side, it might pay to come early. At least be on hand in time to receive the news of the first round. For, after that, according to the latest dope, the fight is apt to end suddenly. Yet, one never can tell. So be sure to be on hand. The returns by wireless will be received almost simultaneously as the fight progresses. In other words, should Dempsey floor Carpentier, or visa versa, the man knocked down would no more than regain his feet again than the event will be flashed to the waiting fans.

Watch the list tomorrow and decide in whose back yard you are going to sit on the morning of July 2 and receive the returns supplied you by the TRIBUNE.

School Boosters Dispute Over Allotment of Funds

BERKELEY, June 29.—An attack on budget of the board of education to divert allotments for the Le Conte school to the Edison Intermediate school, marked its last meeting for the fiscal year yesterday.

Mrs. John W. King, 3009 Wheeler street, led a large delegation of Le Conte parents in a protest against the abandoning of plans for an auditorium for that school in favor of a vocational building for the Edison schools. Members of the Longfellow Parent-Teachers' Association supported Mrs. King, who declared that $89,000 had been promised the Le Conte school in the bond campaign for the first unit of a new school building. Thus far, she said, but $18,000 had been spent for land for the school out of $50,000 set aside for that purpose.

"Edison school has received its entire allotment of funds under the bond program and it is not fair to take money from another school to give it additional equipment," declared Mrs. King.

GLESSNER REPLIES.

Principal H. H. Glessner of the Edison school, aided by W. W. Pattee, vocational director of the Berkeley schools, attempted to show the protestants that the Edison school was taxed to more than its capacity and that additional room was an absolute necessity. Glessner said that in 1916, 380 pupils were enrolled at the Edison school, while at the end of the last term there were 676 pupils, with an attendance of 720 expected for the coming year. Le Conte school, he said, had an average daily attendance of 389 in 1918 and of 408 in 1921. His figures were objected to by Director Carl Bartlett, who declared that the real attendance at Le Conte was probably higher.

BOND PROMISES QUOTED.

"The Berkeley school bonds were obtained under certain definite promises," declared J. S. Wright of the Longfellow club. "Edison has received its entire allotment under the bond issue and is entitled to no more funds at the expense of another school. Longfellow school feels in a similar position to that of Le Conte."

On the suggestion of Director Ida M. Blochman, who presided at the meeting, settlement of the matter was deferred until the new board is sworn in next week.

The resignation of Mrs. Florence A. Hersey, Hawthorne school, and Miss Ruby A. Haefer, Washington school, were accepted by the board, while Miss Una L. Burke was granted a leave of absence from the high school because of ill health.

WIFE WEEPS AS BURGLAR HUSBAND GOES TO PRISON

Pathetic Scenes Mark Parting At Jail Door; Woman Pleads in Vain.

Sitting patiently for hours on the curb stone in front of the county jail to get a glimpse of her husband as he was led away to begin a term in San Quentin penitentiary, Mrs. Carrie Kinnear, who fainted in court yesterday when he was sentenced, this morning participated in the final chapter of a drama.

When Kinnear, confessed burglar and violator of probation, was brought forth, she threw her arms around his neck, weeping bitterly, kissed him passionately again and again.

Although soon to become a mother, Mrs. Kinnear hurried here from Los Angeles to plead for her husband, scraping together enough money to secure the cheapest boat passage available and to provide for her modest wants while here. Since her coming she has haunted the jail.

Begging Superior Judge George Samuels to give Kinnear "one more chance," the young woman declared she would work her fingers to the bone to provide sustenance until he should obtain honest work. When the court declared he could not grant probation because of the defendant's past unsavory record, Mrs. Kinnear crumpled in a heap on the floor. Bailiffs carried her from the room.

Trial jurors and other court attaches started a fund to aid her to return to Los Angeles and sustain herself for a time. It is said a movement may be begun to secure executive clemency for her husband.

Kinnear admitted having participated in the robbery of the room of B. E. Herskovits at 729 Thirty-first street. He was on probation when his marriage took place.

Comedian Accused of Robbing His Friend

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Police today cabled Hong Kong authorities requesting the arrest on his arrival there of Richard Norton, film comedian, now en route to Japan with his wife and daughter, also film stars. Ronald Slattery, an old friend of Norton, who is also known as Abbey, swore to warrants charging Norton with the theft from the Slattery home of liquor valued at $8000, a $500 sealskin coat and $200 in jewels. The liquor, Slattery says, was sold to residents of the fashionable Del Monte colony.
